Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.6

GPA, above 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade

Anakin is a workspace from Anakin Labs where product and engineering teams plan issues, projects and sprints and assign work to people or AI coding agents. Agents run on computers the team connects, using their existing Claude Code, Codex or similar plans, each in an isolated worktree. The domain previously carried a no-code AI app builder; the site now describes a development workspace.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Anakin, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> Desktop apps to install, then agents and plans to connect.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for a workspace that plans work and hands it to coding agents

But it is not a prompt-to-app builder, agent runs use your own coding plans, and the docs are marked coming soon.

2 Paid plans start at $7 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $7 per user / month, billed yearly.

3 There is a free plan

Free for organizations of up to 5 people, with the full product and no seat charge.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

macOS, Windows and Linux.

5 Agents as teammates

Work can be assigned to a person, an agent or a crew, and agents and skills are shared across the team.

6 Agile planning

Issues, projects, sprints, backlog and triage, with board, list, table, dashboard and Gantt views.

7 Parallel agent runs

Each agent can work in its own isolated worktree so parallel changes stay separate until reviewed.

8 A 2.6 GPA, above 67 of 89

That is against the other AI app builders we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Anakin you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for a workspace that plans work and hands it to coding agents

Anakin is a team workspace for planning work and assigning it to coding agents, free for up to 5 people and $7 a person after that. But it is not a prompt-to-app builder, agent runs use your own coding plans, and the docs are marked coming soon.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Anakin — Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	Free for up to 5 people and $7 per user a month on yearly billing after that, against project tools like Linear and Jira that charge more.
Free plan and trial	A	The full product is free for organisations of up to 5 people, with no seat charge. Guests, agents and computers do not count.
Features	D	Agile planning, parallel agent runs, import and sync. It needs coding agents you pay for yourself and does not build apps on its own.
Ease of use	C	Desktop apps to install, then agents and plans to connect. No store rating is on record.
Platforms and integrations	C	Mac, Windows and Linux desktop apps with 8 integrations. No phone app is named.

Grade point average — Good, out of 4.0 2.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Anakin is for

- ✓ Fits if you run a small team and want to hand tasks to coding agents
- ✓ Works for groups of up to 5 who want a free planning board

Who it is not for

- ✕ Skip it if you want a tool that builds an app from a prompt, as this is a planning workspace
- ✕ Not for you if you have no coding agent, as it sells no model usage
- ✕ Watch out: the docs are marked coming soon and no monthly price for Team is shown
- ✕ Too light on phones, as only Mac, Windows and Linux apps are named

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Engineering teams delegating tickets to coding agents
- ✓ Small teams: free up to 5 people

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Anakin does not sell model usage; agent runs use your own coding plans or API accounts.
- ⓘ It is a planning and delegation workspace, not a prompt-to-app builder like most of this category.
- ⓘ The site's docs are marked as coming soon, and the pricing page does not show a monthly-billing price for Team.
- ⓘ The download dialog lists macOS, Windows and Linux desktop apps; no iOS or Android app is named.

From our grade for features

Agents as teammates

Work can be assigned to a person, an agent or a crew, and agents and skills are shared across the team.

Agile planning

Issues, projects, sprints, backlog and triage, with board, list, table, dashboard and Gantt views.

Parallel agent runs

Each agent can work in its own isolated worktree so parallel changes stay separate until reviewed.

Import and sync

The site lists migration or two-way sync with Jira, Linear, Asana, GitHub Issues, GitLab Issues and Shortcut.

Bring your own agents

Runs go through a connected computer and the Claude Code, Codex, Cursor or other plan the team already pays for.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

67/89

Other AI app builders it is graded above

Anakin's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade, and level with 10.

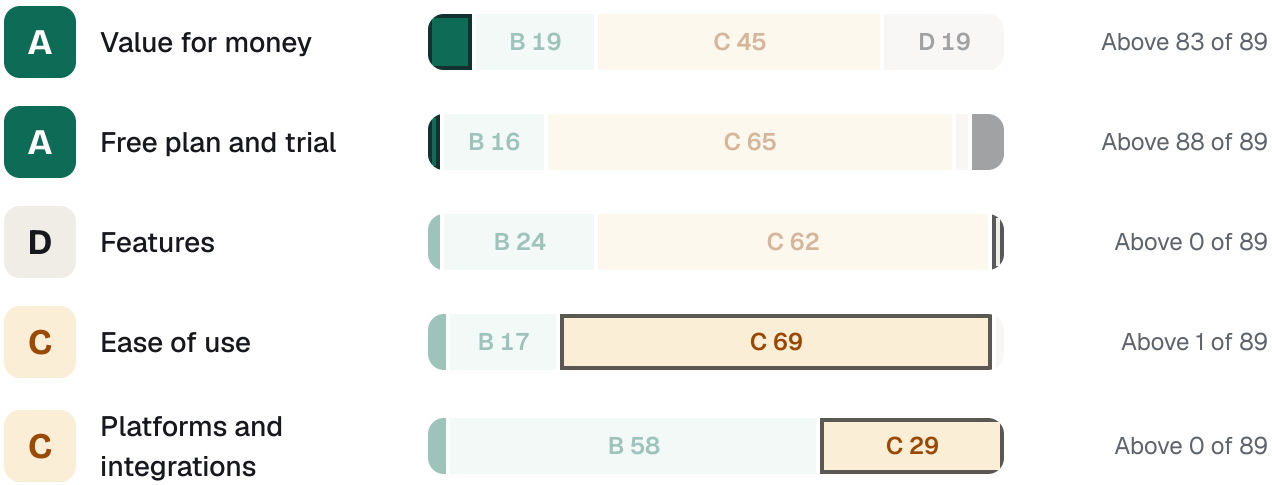

It stands best on free plan and trial (A, above 88 of 89) and worst on features (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $7 a month for each person, against a middle price of $20 for the category: 4 of the 82 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 1.7 out of 4. 5 tools score higher and cost less.

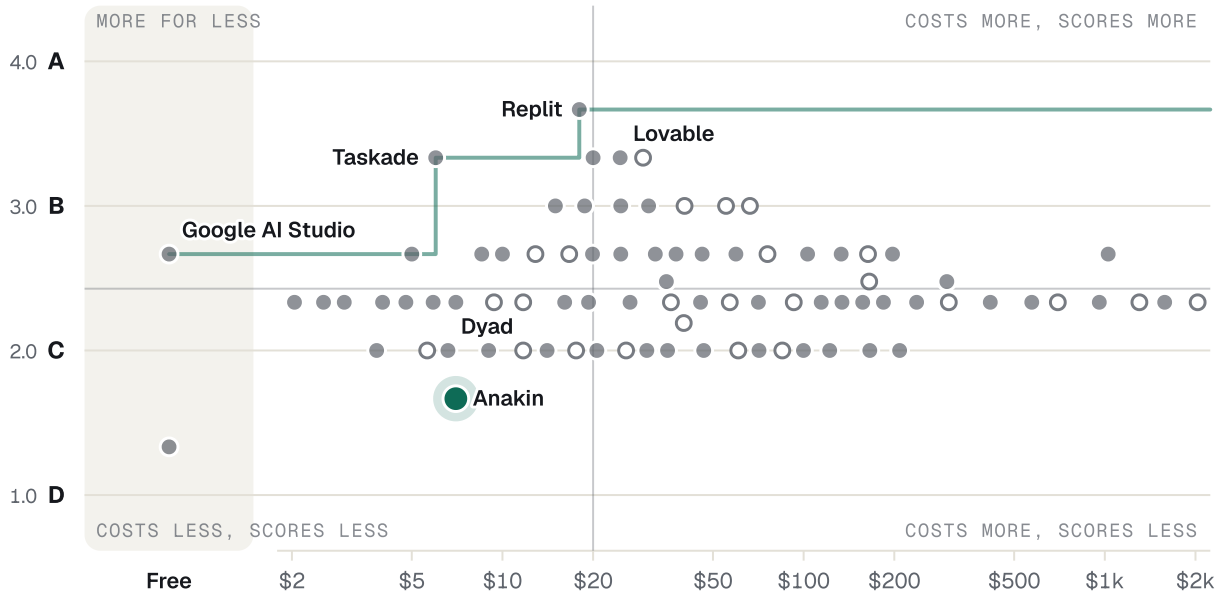

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 90 AI app builders we grade, cut by the letter each got. Anakin's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 85 AI app builders. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Anakin is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double) ⍰

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Anakin you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade. It costs $84 a year.

What you could make

- Issue tracking, kanban boards and Gantt & timelines: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- An AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it.
- Apps for macOS, Windows and Linux that stay in step with each other.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- It plugs into other products, Jira, Linear and Asana among them.

What this rests on. Anakin's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
