Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

3.0

GPA, above 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade

Atomic Mail is an email service that says it uses end-to-end and zero-access encryption and lets people sign up without a phone number. Personal accounts live on atomicmail.io, and business plans put a team on its own domain. It has apps for desktop and mobile as well as a web app.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about AtomicMail, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> You set up a recovery seed phrase and your own aliases, and a lost phrase is yours to deal with.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for encrypted email with a free plan

AtomicMail is encrypted email with a free plan that has unlimited storage and 10 aliases, and paid plans from $3 a user a month.

2 Paid plans start at $3 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $3 per user / month (Business Starter, billing basis not stated).

3 There is a free plan

Encrypted email on atomicmail.io with unlimited storage, 10 aliases and recovery by seed phrase.

4 It runs on 6 platforms

Web, Windows, macOS, Linux, iOS and Android.

5 Encryption

Messages between Atomic users use ECIES encryption; mail to other providers can be encrypted with a password or as a file. The vendor says it cannot read encrypted content.

6 Aliases and Hide My Email

Free accounts get 10 aliases. Plus and the Business plans add Hide My Email addresses for sign-ups and newsletters.

7 Private sign-up and recovery

Accounts can be created without a phone number or a secondary email, and recovery uses a seed phrase.

8 A 3.0 GPA, above 100 of 122

That is against the other email apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace AtomicMail you would be making an email client: sending, receiving, threading and searching years of mail. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for encrypted email with a free plan

AtomicMail is encrypted email with a free plan that has unlimited storage and 10 aliases, and paid plans from $3 a user a month. Plus is $7 on monthly billing, and it doesn't say whether business prices assume annual billing.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — AtomicMail — Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	The free plan has unlimited storage and 10 aliases. Plus is $5 a month billed annually, a little under the middle of what email services charge.
Free plan and trial	B	A free encrypted mailbox with unlimited storage, 10 aliases and no phone number needed. One person could live on it.

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Features	B	Encryption, aliases, Hide My Email, recovery by seed phrase and custom-domain team mail. The listing shows no gap in the job.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. You set up a recovery seed phrase and your own aliases, and a lost phrase is yours to deal with.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web, Windows, macOS, Linux, iPhone and Android apps. No API or integrations are listed.
Grade point average		Very good, out of 4.0 3.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who AtomicMail is for

- ✓ Fits if you want an encrypted mailbox with no phone number
- ✓ Works for small teams that want custom-domain mail at $3 or $6 a user

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you pay monthly, as Plus is $7 against $5 on annual billing
- ✗ Tight if you stay free: 10 aliases and no custom domain
- ✗ Watch out: the business prices don't say whether they assume annual billing
- ✗ Watch out: Atomic GPT and Atomic VPN limits on Plus and Business aren't stated
- ✗ Watch out: teams of 100 or more are sent to a contact form

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ People who want encrypted email without giving a phone number
- ✓ Small teams that want encrypted mail on their own domain
- ✓ Users who want many aliases to separate sign-ups

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Plus is $7 a month when billed monthly; the $5 price is for annual billing ($60 a year).
- ⓘ Business Starter and Standard prices do not say whether they assume annual billing.
- ⓘ Teams of 100 or more seats are sent to a contact form for an Enterprise plan.
- ⓘ Atomic GPT and Atomic VPN are listed as included on Plus and Business plans; their limits are not stated.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

100/122

Other email apps it is graded above

AtomicMail's GPA of 3.0 is higher than 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade, and level with 15.

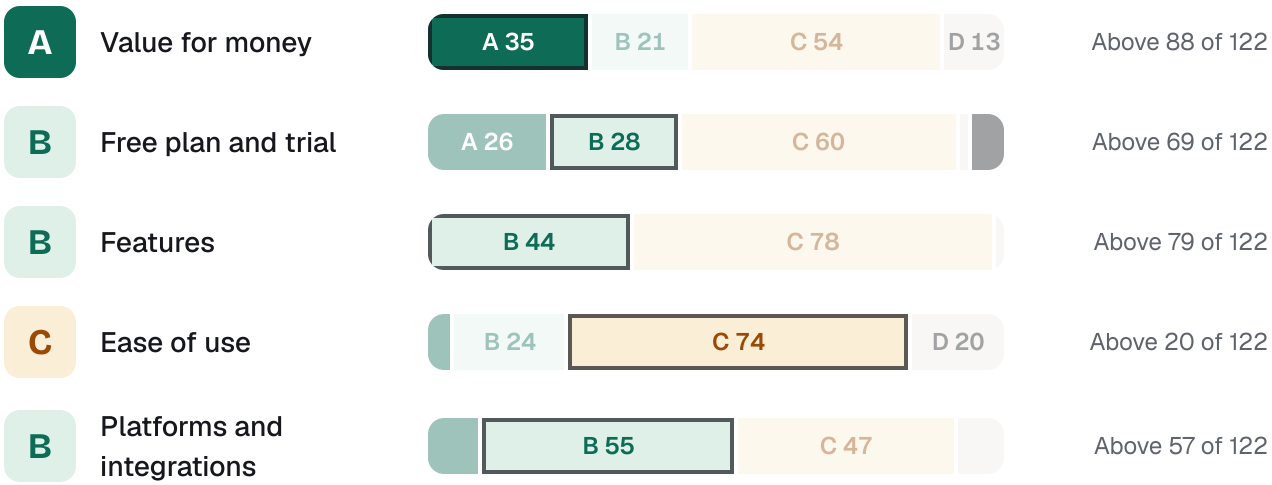

It stands best on value for money (A, above 88 of 122) and worst on ease of use (C, above 20).

Its paid plans start at $3 a month for each person, against a middle price of $4.92 for the category: 19 of the 76 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 2 tools score higher and cost less.

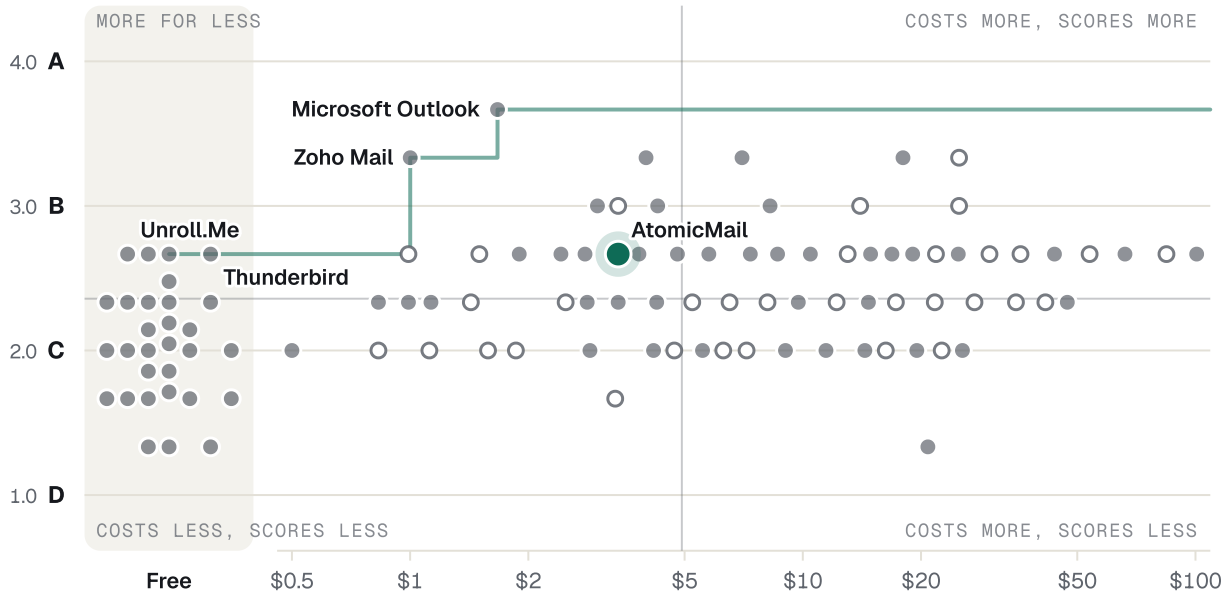

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 123 email apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. AtomicMail's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 107 email apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. AtomicMail is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double) ⍰

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace AtomicMail you would be making an email client: sending, receiving, threading and searching years of mail. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 3.0 is higher than 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade. It costs $36 a year.

What you could make

- Email signature: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- An email client: sending, receiving, threading and searching years of mail.

- Apps for macOS, Windows, Linux, iOS and Android that stay in step with each other.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- End-to-end encryption done properly.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. AtomicMail's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
