Who Beey is for

- ✓ Fits if you turn interviews and recordings into text and subtitles
- ✓ Works for small groups, as Plus covers up to 5 users

Who it is not for

- ✕ Pricey if you transcribe often: credit is counted in minutes, so heavy use needs more hours
- ✕ Tight if you stay free: only the first 30 minutes are free
- ✕ Watch out: prices are in euros and include VAT, with no dollar prices shown
- ✕ Skip it if you want a bot to join meetings, as the pages read describe none
- ✕ Watch out: API access, batch transcription and on-premise use are Enterprise only

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Journalists, researchers and podcasters who transcribe recordings and correct them by hand
- ✓ Teams needing subtitles in several European languages

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Prices are in euros and include VAT; no US dollar prices are shown.
- ⓘ Credit is measured in transcribed minutes (1 credit equals 1 minute), so heavy use depends on the plan's hours.
- ⓘ API access, batch transcription and on-premise use are Enterprise features only.
- ⓘ It transcribes uploaded or recorded files; the pages read do not describe a bot that joins live meetings.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

1/89

Other AI meeting note takers it is graded above

Beey's GPA of 1.6 is higher than 1 of the 89 other AI meeting note takers we grade, and level with 4.

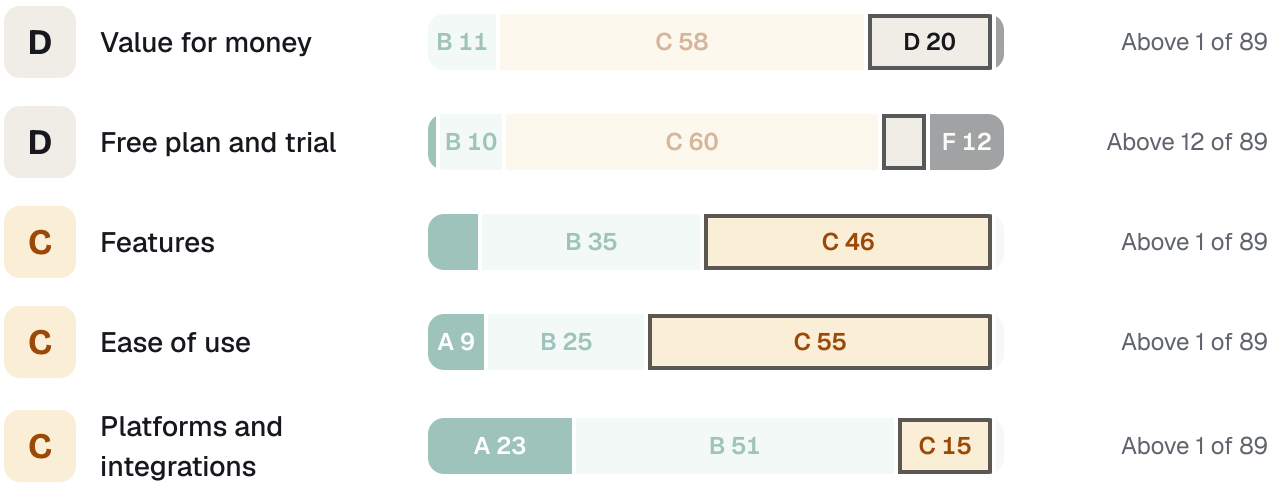

It stands best on features (C, above 1 of 89) and worst on value for money (D, above 1).

Its paid plans start at about $27.93 a month, against a middle price of $12 for the category: 71 of the 76 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 66 tools score higher and cost less.

Every bar is all 90 AI meeting note takers we grade, cut by the letter each got. Beey's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 77 AI meeting note takers. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Beey is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Beey you would be making a bot that joins your calls and turns the talk into notes. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 84 of the 89 other AI meeting note takers grade higher. It costs $335.16 a year.

What you could not

- ✕ A bot that joins your calls and turns the talk into notes.
- ✕ Speech turned into text you can trust.

- ✕ An API that other software can build on.
- ✕ AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Beey's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
