Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 23 of the 98 other time tracking apps we grade

ClockingIT is a hosted workspace that combines task lists, projects, a Gantt chart and Kanban board with a timer on every task. Time can be reported by task, person, client, project or date and exported to CSV. It also includes team chat, forums and a private wiki, and is run independently from Oslo.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about ClockingIT, taken from its own pages and our grades.

Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Free to get started with no plans listed, so what you might pay later is unverified.
Free plan and trial	B	No card needed to start, but no limits are published either, so we can't call it free forever.
Features	C	Task timers, Gantt, boards, reports and chat. The site lists no invoicing or payroll.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. You set up projects, tasks and users yourself.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only. No mobile or desktop apps and no integrations are listed.

Grade point average Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who ClockingIT is for

- ✓ Fits if you want tasks, a Gantt chart and timers in one free place
- ✓ Works for a small team that doesn't need integrations

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you need a clear price promise, since the site shows no plans
- ✗ Not for you if you need apps, as only the web is listed
- ✗ Too light for invoicing, with reports but no billing
- ✗ Watch out: the terms page says the hosted service's terms are being updated and gives none

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Small consultancies tracking hours per client and project
- ✓ Teams that want tasks and timers in one hosted tool
- ✓ Users who need a non-English interface

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The site shows no pricing page or plans; it says only 'Free to get started', so any later charges are unverified.
- ⓘ Its terms page says the hosted service's terms are being updated and publishes none yet.
- ⓘ It is a hosted web app only; the site lists no mobile or desktop apps and no integrations.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

23/98

Other time tracking apps it is graded above

ClockingIT's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 23 of the 98 other time tracking apps we grade, and level with 17.

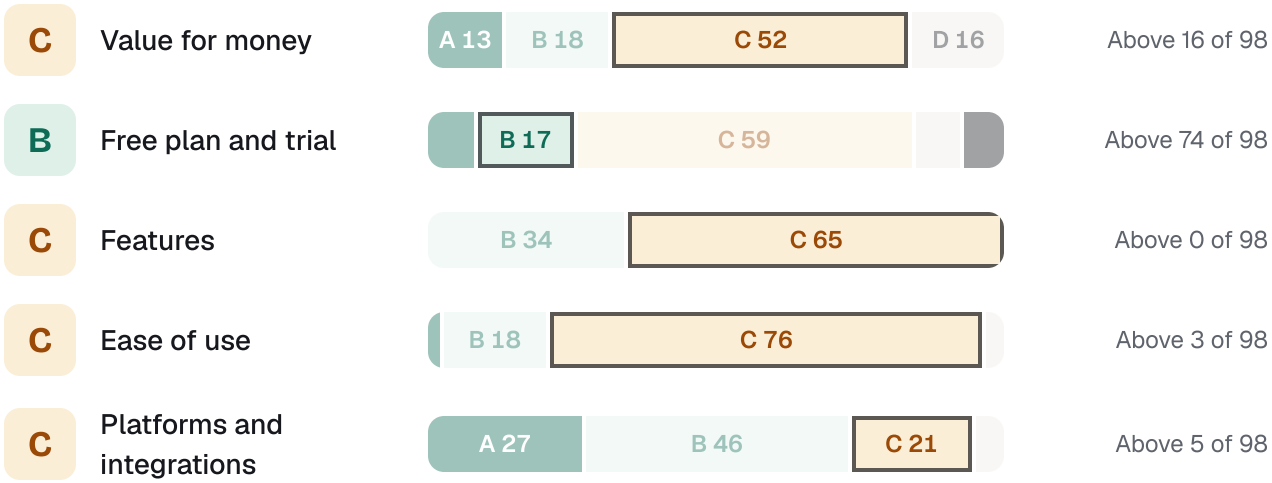

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 74 of 98) and worst on features (C, above 0).

ClockingIT has no paid plan.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

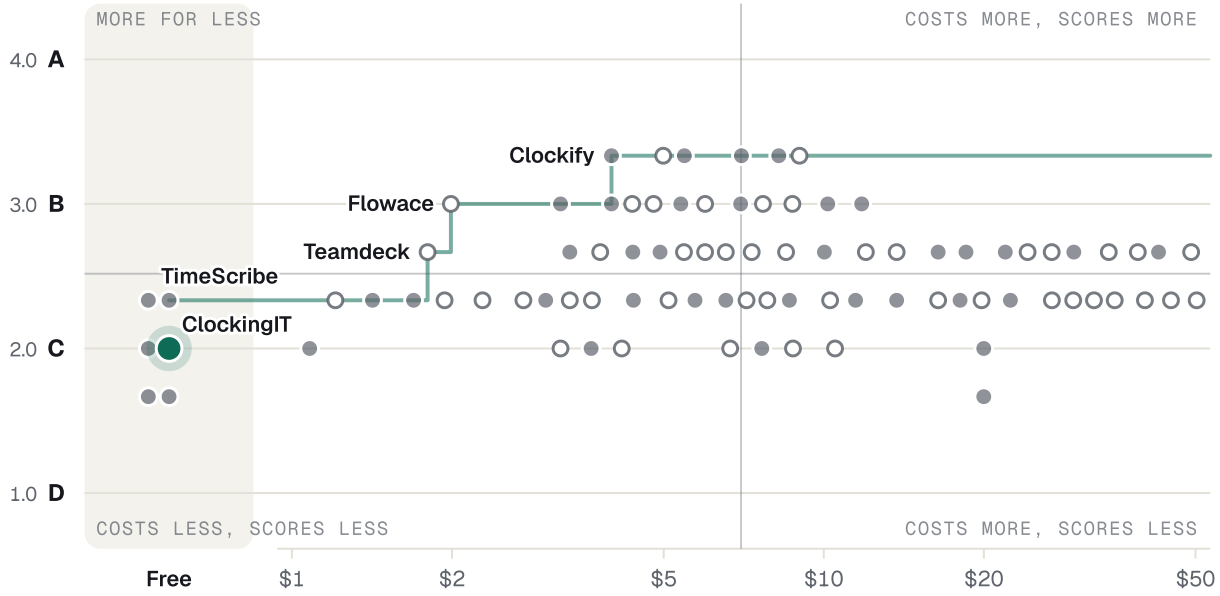

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 99 time tracking apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. ClockingIT's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 87 time tracking apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. ClockingIT is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

ClockingIT is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

And it is not the kind of software a weekend replaces. That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 58 of the 98 other time tracking apps grade higher.

What you could make

- Time tracking, tasks, kanban boards, Gantt & timelines, wiki and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Chat that a whole team counts on staying up.

- ✕ Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.

What this rests on. ClockingIT's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
