Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 13 of the 186 other desktop utilities we grade

CloudMounter mounts cloud storage accounts and file servers as local drives, so they appear in Finder or Explorer. It supports services such as Dropbox, Google Drive, OneDrive, Amazon S3, WebDAV, SFTP and FTP, and can move files between clouds without downloading them first. It is sold for macOS and Windows with different license terms.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about CloudMounter, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for showing cloud storage as a drive in Finder or Explorer

The Mac and Windows versions are licensed differently, and the free tier exists on Windows only.

2 Paid plans start at $2.42 a month when paid by the year

As its pricing page puts it: $29 per year (macOS, 1 Mac); Windows $29.99 one-time for 1 PC.

3 There is a free plan

Windows only: after a 14-day Pro trial, one Google Drive, Dropbox and OneDrive account stays fully usable; other accounts and services become read-only.

4 It runs on 2 platforms

macOS and Windows.

5 Mount clouds as drives

Cloud accounts and servers appear in Finder or Explorer and can be browsed like local folders.

6 Many services

Dropbox, OneDrive, Google Drive, Amazon S3, WebDAV, SFTP and FTP, plus Box, MEGA and others on some platforms.

7 Transfers between clouds

Drag files from one cloud to another without downloading them to the computer first.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 13 of 186

That is against the other desktop utilities we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Your call

It depends on the utility: a converter or a calculator is an afternoon.

The report card

Best for showing cloud storage as a drive in Finder or Explorer

CloudMounter makes Dropbox, Google Drive, OneDrive, S3 and file servers appear as drives on a Mac or Windows PC. The Mac and Windows versions are licensed differently, and the free tier exists on Windows only.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — CloudMounter — Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	B	$29 a year on Mac, which is the bottom of the cheaper quarter, and $29.99 once on Windows. A Mac lifetime license is $74.
Free plan and trial	C	Windows keeps one Google Drive, Dropbox and OneDrive account usable after a 14-day trial. Mac has only a 7-day trial on the yearly plan, and the lifetime license has none.
Features	C	Mounting, transfers between clouds, encryption and several accounts. The listing's own gaps: offline work is 'coming soon' on Windows, and the supported services differ between Mac and Windows.
Ease of use	C	No store rating is on record. Each cloud account has to be signed in to and mounted before it shows up.
Platforms and integrations	C	Mac and Windows computers only. Nothing for phones or the web.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who CloudMounter is for

- ✓ Fits if you want cloud files to appear in Finder or Explorer without a sync folder
- ✓ Works for people who have several Dropbox or Google accounts to open side by side

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you want one license for both systems, as Mac and Windows are separate
- ✗ Tight if you want to try the Mac app for long: it has a 7-day trial tied to the yearly plan
- ✗ Too light for offline work on Windows, which is listed as coming soon
- ✗ Watch out: the Team license for Mac and the one for Windows cannot be shared across both
- ✗ Pricey if you want the Mac app for good, since lifetime is $74 against a $29 yearly plan

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Mac or Windows users juggling several cloud drives
- ✓ People wanting SFTP or S3 buckets in Finder
- ✓ Buyers who prefer a one-time license

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The Mac free trial is tied to the yearly subscription; the lifetime license has none.
- ⓘ Offline work is listed as supported on macOS and coming soon on Windows.
- ⓘ Mac and Windows licenses are separate, and a Team license cannot be shared across both.
- ⓘ Supported services differ between the Mac and Windows versions.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

13/186

Other desktop utilities it is graded above

CloudMounter's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 13 of the 186 other desktop utilities we grade, and level with 21.

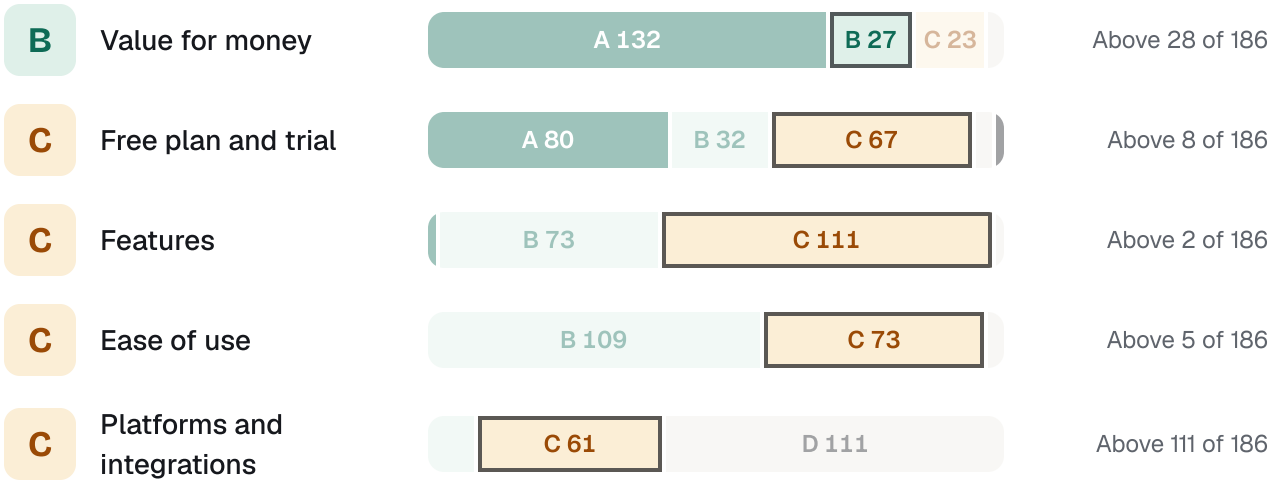

It stands best on value for money (B, above 28 of 186) and worst on features (C, above 2).

Its paid plans start at $2.42 a month when paid by the year, against a middle price of $2.99 for the category: 11 of the 36 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 27 tools score higher and cost less.

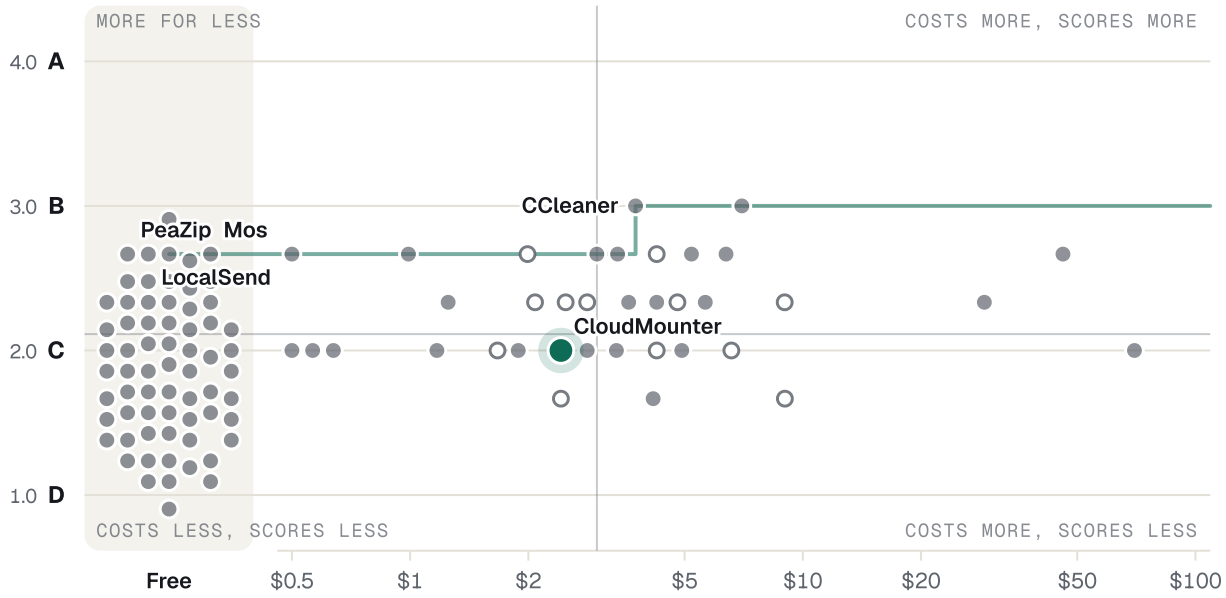

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 187 desktop utilities we grade, cut by the letter each got. CloudMounter's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 103 desktop utilities. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. CloudMounter is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Your call

It depends on the utility: a converter or a calculator is an afternoon.

CloudMounter sits between: not beyond making, and not a weekend's work either. What you would give up is listed below. Whether that is worth the price is your call. At $29 a year it costs less than the weekend it would take to replace, which is the argument for keeping it.

What you could not

- ✕ A file manager working directly on your disk.
- ✕ A real app for macOS and Windows. Something home-made would be a web page.

- ✕ It plugs into other products, Dropbox, Google Drive and OneDrive among them.

What this rests on. CloudMounter's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
