Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

78/87

Other field service apps it is graded above

Contractor+'s GPA of 2.6 is higher than 78 of the 87 other field service apps we grade, and level with 7.

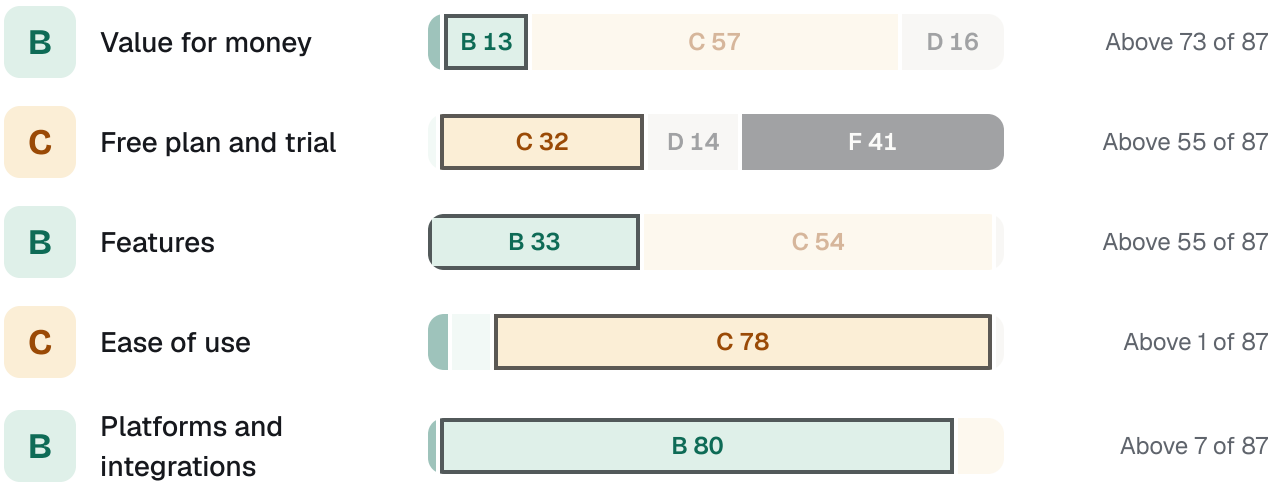

It stands best on value for money (B, above 73 of 87) and worst on ease of use (C, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $58 a month, against a middle price of $50 for the category: 28 of the 53 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 3 tools score higher and cost less.

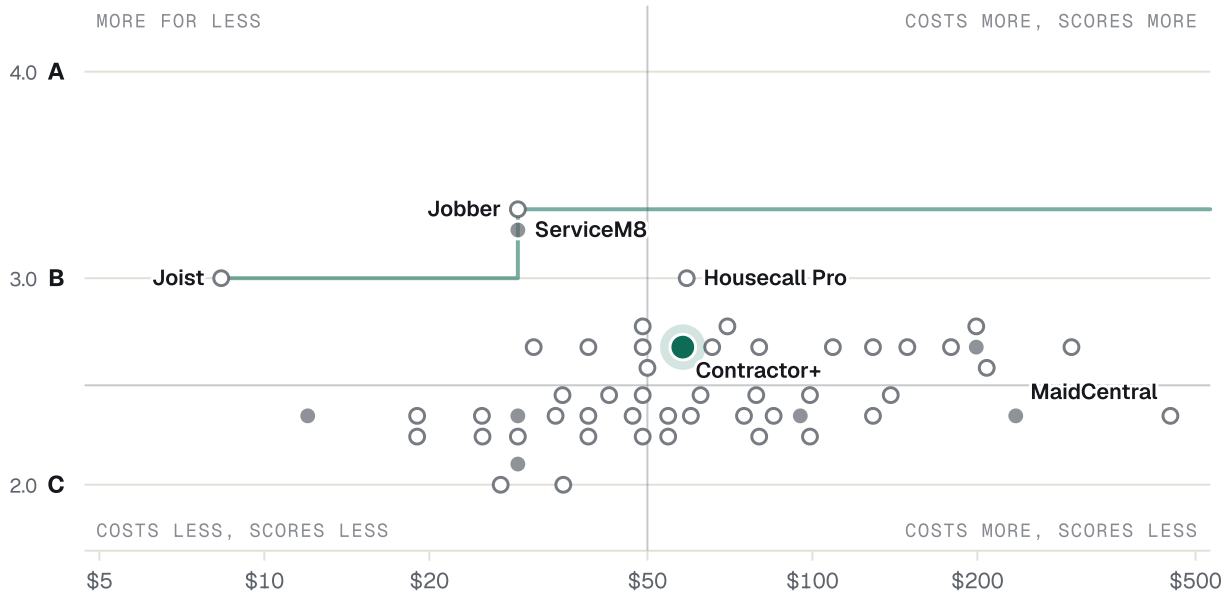

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 88 field service apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Contractor+'s own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 54 field service apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Contractor+ is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Contractor+ you would be making phone numbers and calls carried over the phone network. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 78 of the 87 other field service apps we grade. It costs $696 a year.

What you could make

- Quotes and estimates, invoicing, job scheduling and sales pipeline: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Phone numbers and calls carried over the phone network.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- It plugs into other products, QuickBooks Online, Angi and Thumbtack among them, and has an API.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Contractor+'s listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
