Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 11 of the 114 other calendar and scheduling apps we grade

Cronofy sells scheduling in two forms. A direct license gives a team booking pages, multi-person availability and browser extensions, and an OEM license gives software developers calendar sync, availability and scheduling APIs to build into their own products. Both are priced per team or per application, not per casual user.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Cronofy, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for scheduling for recruiting teams and developers

Cronofy sells scheduling and calendar APIs to organizations, with a Team plan at $15 per assigned seat a month.

2 Paid plans start at $15 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $15 per assigned seat / month, billed monthly.

3 You can try it first

Free trial on the Team plan; the pricing page does not state its length

4 It runs on Web

Web, with a browser extension too.

5 Booking pages and multi-person scheduling

Team plans combine several people's availability and let you schedule for others as well as yourself.

6 Browser extensions and plugins

Extensions for Chrome, Edge and Firefox, and plugins for Outlook and Gmail.

7 Recruiting system integrations

Connects to Lever on Team, and to Greenhouse and SmartRecruiters from Business.

8 A 2.0 GPA, above 11 of 114

That is against the other calendar and scheduling apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

The plain part of Cronofy you could make: appointment booking and calendar. What surrounds it you could not. The 4 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

The report card

Best for scheduling for recruiting teams and developers

Cronofy sells scheduling and calendar APIs to organizations, with a Team plan at $15 per assigned seat a month. There is no free plan, Business starts at $799 a month, and the pages show no plan for individuals.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Cronofy	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	$15 per assigned seat a month on Team, just under the $16 where the dearer quarter starts.
Free plan and trial	D	A free trial on Team, but its length is not stated and there is no free plan.
Features	C	Booking pages, multi-person scheduling, extensions, recruiting integrations and APIs. The Scheduler API starts at Business.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. It is built for organizations and developers to wire up.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web and browser extensions, with Lever, Zoom, Zendesk, HubSpot, Okta, Greenhouse and an API. No apps are listed.
Grade point average		Fair, out of 4.0 2.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Cronofy is for

- ✓ Fits if you are a recruiting team on Greenhouse or Lever
- ✓ Works for a product team adding scheduling through an API

Who it is not for

- ✕ Not for you if you are an individual, as the pages show no individual plan
- ✕ Skip it if you want a free plan, as only a trial of unstated length exists
- ✕ Pricey if you want the Scheduler API, with Business at $799 a month for 50 seats
- ✕ Watch out: API (OEM) plans start at $819 a month
- ✕ Watch out: Meeting Agents are billed per hour, with a $99 monthly minimum alone

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Recruiting and HR teams that schedule interviews in an applicant tracking system
- ✓ Software companies embedding calendar sync into their product
- ✓ Organizations that need ISO 27001 or HIPAA statements from their scheduling vendor

Worth knowing

- ⓘ There is no free plan; Business and Enterprise are sold through sales conversations.
- ⓘ The OEM (API) plans are priced separately: Emerging is $819 a month billed annually for up to 500 synced accounts, Growth is $2,399 a month.
- ⓘ Meeting Agents are billed per hour used ($0.79 per hour at 25 to 4,000 hours) with a $99 monthly minimum for standalone use.
- ⓘ The pricing pages are aimed at organizations; they show no individual plan.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

11/114

Other calendar and scheduling apps it is graded above

Cronofy's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 11 of the 114 other calendar and scheduling apps we grade, and level with 10.

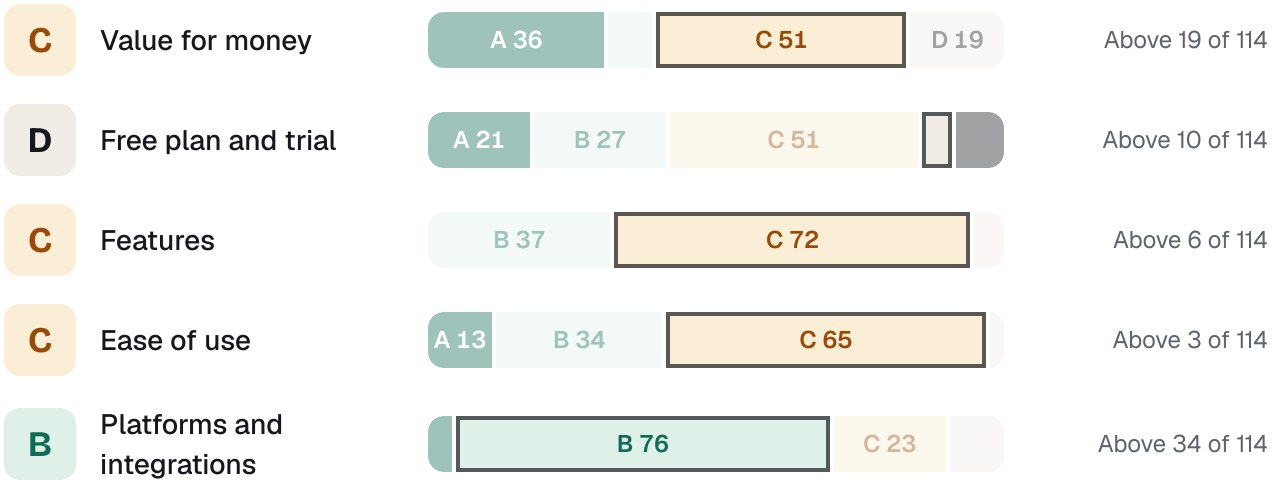

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 34 of 114) and worst on free plan and trial (D, above 10).

Its paid plans start at $15 a month for each person, against a middle price of $8.13 for the category: 63 of the 85 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 38 tools score higher and cost less.

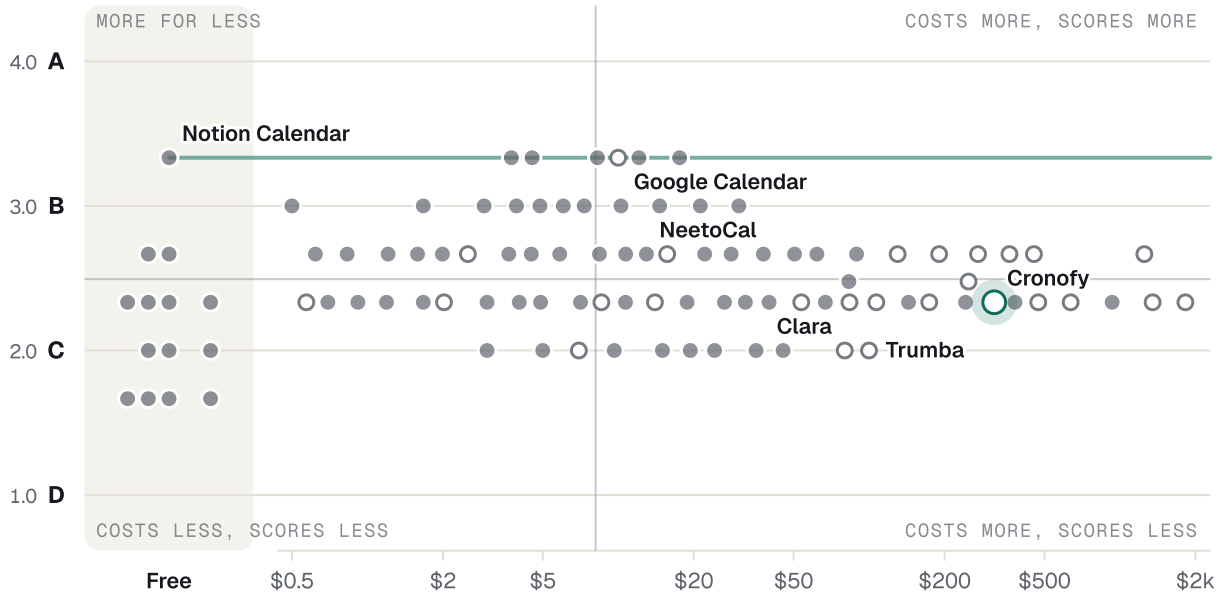

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 115 calendar and scheduling apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Cronofy's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 100 calendar and scheduling apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Cronofy is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double) ⍰

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Cronofy you could make: appointment booking and calendar. What surrounds it you could not. The 4 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 93 of the 114 other calendar and scheduling apps grade higher. It costs $180 a year.

What you could make

- Appointment booking and calendar: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Booking pages that read and write other people's calendars and send the emails.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- It plugs into other products, Lever, Zoom and Zendesk among them, and has an API.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Cronofy's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
