Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 8 of the 17 other email signature tools we grade

Crossware Mail Signature is a centrally managed email signature product sold to organizations. It works with Microsoft 365, Google Workspace, Microsoft Exchange and HCL Domino, pulls each sender's details from the directory, and applies signatures by rule, such as internal versus external mail or new messages versus replies.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Crossware, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> You build the signature yourself and, for a team, connect a directory or collect the staff before it does anything.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for central signatures for Microsoft and Google mail

It publishes no prices, and both the trial and the demo go through a request form.

2 You can try it first

Free 30-day trial through a request form, with all features.

3 It runs on Web

Web.

4 Signature designer

Drag-and-drop blocks, conditional fields and images, with templates or a custom design and a preview for a chosen user.

5 Rules by condition

Signatures can differ for internal and external mail, new and reply messages, date ranges, and address book groups or domains.

6 Directory data

Sender details are pulled from the directory when a message is sent, including custom attributes such as credentials or pronouns.

7 A 2.4 GPA, above 8 of 17

That is against the other email signature tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

8 Your call

You could make the core of Crossware for yourself: email signature and templates.

The report card

Best for central signatures for Microsoft and Google mail

Crossware manages email signatures centrally for Microsoft 365, Google Workspace, Exchange and Domino, with rules by condition and directory data. It publishes no prices, and both the trial and the demo go through a request form.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Crossware — Graded Nov 12, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	No price is published; licensing is a subscription per user quoted through a sales manager, so it sits at C by default.
Free plan and trial	C	A free 30-day trial with all features, requested through a form that asks for a phone number and user count; no card is mentioned and there is no free plan.
Features	B	A signature designer, rules by condition, directory data, department control and several mail platforms. Nothing in the listing is missing from the job.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. You build the signature yourself and, for a team, connect a directory or collect the staff before it does anything.
Platforms and integrations	B	A web console; the listing names Microsoft 365, Google Workspace, Microsoft Exchange and HCL Domino.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Crossware is for

- ✓ Fits if you run Exchange or Domino and want signatures set centrally
- ✓ Works for IT admins who need signature rules that vary by department

Who it is not for

- ✕ Skip it if you want to see a price first, as none is published
- ✕ Skip it if you want self-serve sign-up, because the trial and demo go through a form
- ✕ Watch out: the old crossware.com address no longer resolves, and the pages now live at crossware365.com
- ✕ Tight if you want a free plan, as there is only a 30-day trial

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Organizations on Microsoft Exchange or HCL Domino as well as cloud mail
- ✓ Companies that want signatures varied by sender, recipient or date
- ✓ IT teams that want signatures applied whatever device mail is sent from

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No prices are published; the FAQ says licensing is by subscription user license and points to a local sales manager.
- ⓘ The old crossware.com address no longer resolves; the vendor's pages now live at crossware365.com.
- ⓘ A trial and a demo are requested through a form that asks for a phone number and user count.

What it costs

Every plan, the free plan, ways to pay less and how prices have moved

Crossware's current pricing could not be confirmed from its own site.

> No price is published; licensing is a subscription per user quoted through a sales manager, so it sits at C by default.
> From our grade for value for money

We could not confirm Crossware's current prices from its own site, so this guide lists no plans. crossware365.com has them.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

8/17

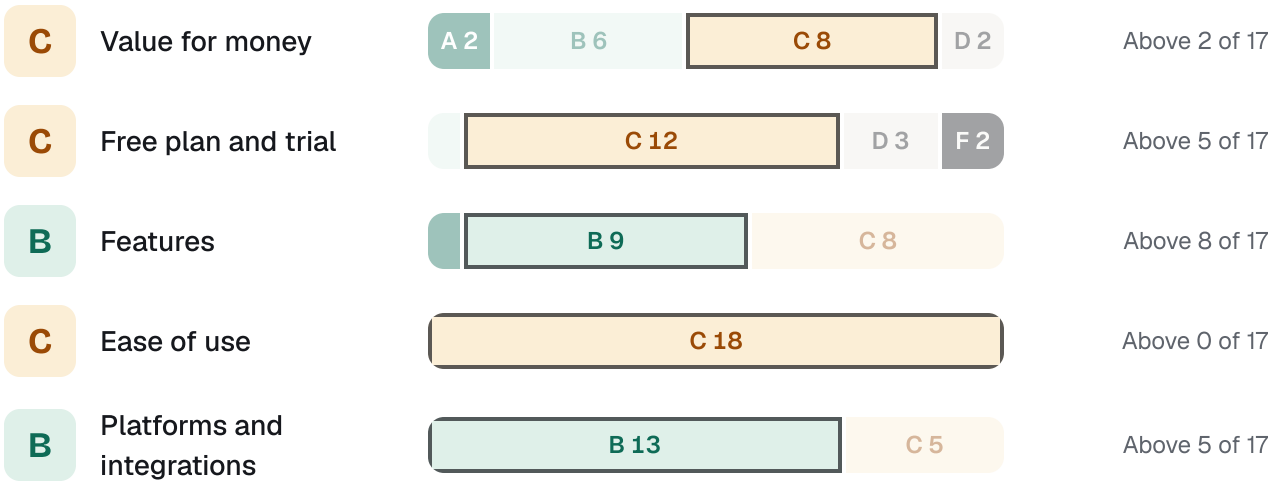

Other email signature tools it is graded above

Crossware's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 8 of the 17 other email signature tools we grade, and level with 4.

It stands best on features (B, above 8 of 17) and worst on ease of use (C, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 18 email signature tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Crossware's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Your call

You could make the core of Crossware for yourself: email signature and templates.

What you would give up is listed below. Whether that is worth the price is your call.

What you could make

- Email signature and templates: an app builder makes these well.
- It runs in a browser, which is where something home-made would run too.

What you could not

- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Crossware's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
