PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

74/127

Other accounting and invoicing tools it is graded above

Daftra's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 74 of the 127 other accounting and invoicing tools we grade, and level with 19.

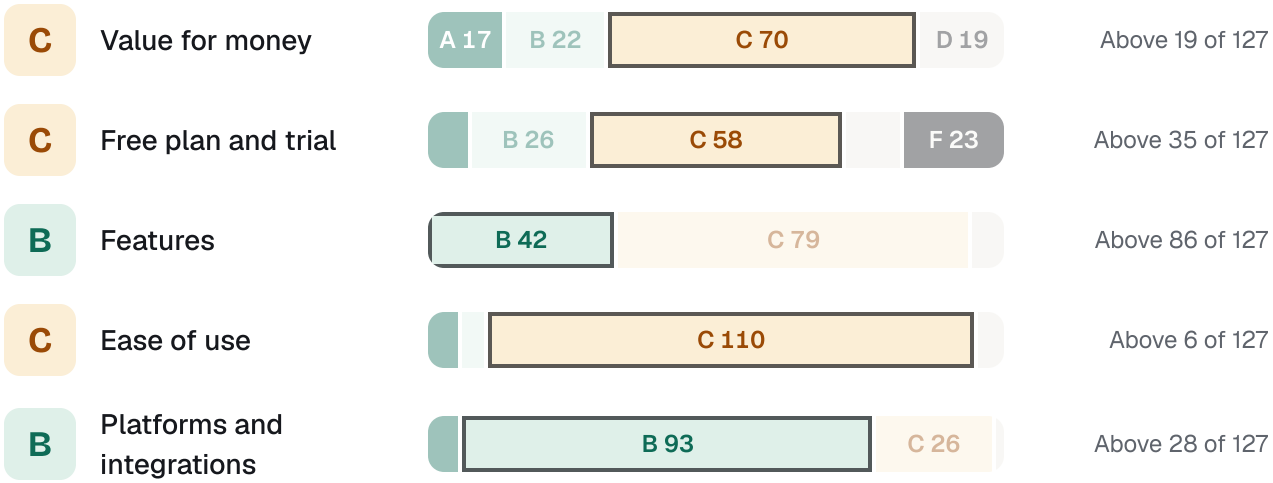

It stands best on features (B, above 86 of 127) and worst on ease of use (C, above 6).

Its paid plans start at $20 a month, against a middle price of $18.09 for the category: 51 of the 90 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 3 tools score higher and cost less.

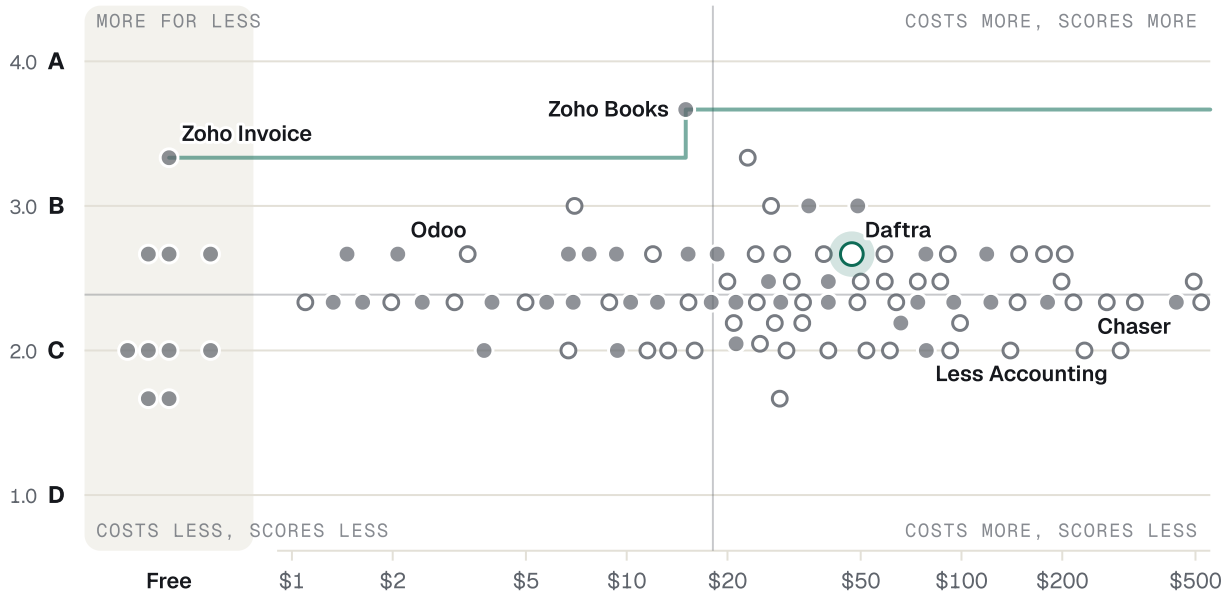

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 128 accounting and invoicing tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Daftra's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 101 accounting and invoicing tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Daftra is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Daftra you would be making live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $240 a year.

What you could make

- Invoicing, inventory, time tracking and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them.

- Payroll taxes worked out and filed with the government for you.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Daftra's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
