Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

3.0

GPA, above 110 of the 133 other to-do list apps we grade

Do it Tomorrow is a web to-do app that splits tasks into Today and Tomorrow. Anything left over can be swept to tomorrow in one action instead of piling up as overdue. The site says it is free and can be added to a phone's home screen.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Do It Tomorrow, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> No store rating on record, but it's a web app with nothing to set up: open it and add a task.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for a to-do list that sweeps leftovers to tomorrow

The site says it's free, with no pricing page, and it lists no sharing, integrations or native apps.

2 It is free

Do It Tomorrow has no paid plan at all. The home page offers a free start and lists no paid plans.

3 It runs on Web

Web.

4 Today and Tomorrow lists

Tasks are kept in a Today list and a Tomorrow list, so the Today list holds only what you plan to do that day.

5 Sweep to tomorrow

A single action moves everything left in Today to Tomorrow, so missed tasks are deferred rather than shown as past due.

6 Focus mode

Hides everything assigned to future dates so only the day's tasks are on screen.

7 A 3.0 GPA, above 110 of 133

That is against the other to-do list apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

8 Keep it

Do It Tomorrow is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

Best for a to-do list that sweeps leftovers to tomorrow

Do It Tomorrow is a minimalist web to-do app with Today and Tomorrow lists, where leftovers sweep to tomorrow instead of piling up as overdue. The site says it's free, with no pricing page, and it lists no sharing, integrations or native apps.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Do It Tomorrow	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	The home page says to get started free and lists no paid plans, so it counts as free outright. That rests on one page, as there's no pricing page.
Free plan and trial	A	Free outright per its home page, with no paid tier shown.
Features	C	Today and Tomorrow lists, a sweep action, focus mode and a morning summary. It does that small job, and the site lists no sharing, team features or integrations.
Ease of use	B	No store rating on record, but it's a web app with nothing to set up: open it and add a task.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only, which you can add to a phone's home screen. No native apps and no integrations.
Grade point average		Very good, out of 4.0 3.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Do It Tomorrow is for

- ✓ Fits if you want a two-list planner for today and tomorrow with nothing to set up
- ✓ Works for one person who doesn't need sharing

Who it is not for

- ✗ Not for you if you want shared lists or teammates, as none are listed
- ✗ Too light for projects, since the site shows only Today and Tomorrow
- ✗ Skip it if you want native apps, because it's a web app only
- ✗ Watch out: the free claim rests on its home page, as there's no pricing page

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ People who feel pressure from overdue task lists
- ✓ Anyone who wants a single-purpose daily planner

Worth knowing

- ⓘ It is a web app that can be added to a home screen; no native apps are listed.
- ⓘ The site has no pricing page, so the free claim rests on its home page.
- ⓘ The site does not list integrations, sharing or team features.

What it does

Its main features, where it runs, what it works with and who makes it

Place it runs: Web

Minimalist to-do app built around moving tasks to tomorrow. Here is what it does, as its own site describes it, and what it covers: tasks, calendar.

> Today and Tomorrow lists, a sweep action, focus mode and a morning summary.

From our grade for features

Today and Tomorrow lists

Tasks are kept in a Today list and a Tomorrow list, so the Today list holds only what you plan to do that day.

Sweep to tomorrow

A single action moves everything left in Today to Tomorrow, so missed tasks are deferred rather than shown as past due.

Focus mode

Hides everything assigned to future dates so only the day's tasks are on screen.

Morning summary

The site's description says the app sends a morning summary so that nothing slips.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

110/133

Other to-do list apps it is graded above

Do It Tomorrow's GPA of 3.0 is higher than 110 of the 133 other to-do list apps we grade, and level with 11.

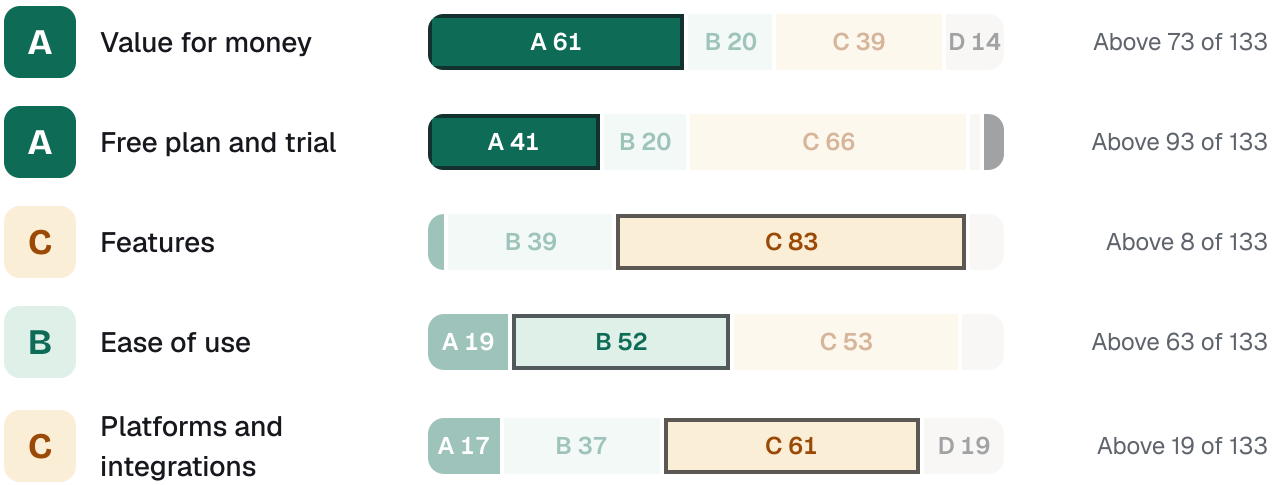

It stands best on free plan and trial (A, above 93 of 133) and worst on features (C, above 8).

Do It Tomorrow has no paid plan.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

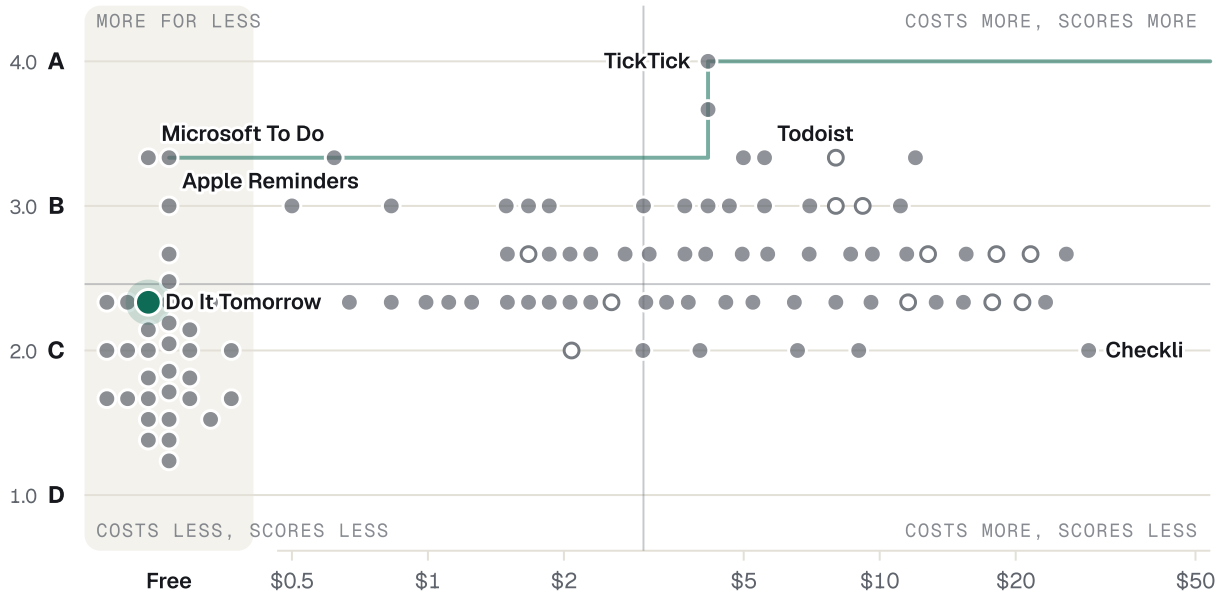

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 134 to-do list apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Do It Tomorrow's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 106 to-do list apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Do It Tomorrow is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

Do It Tomorrow is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 3.0 is higher than 110 of the 133 other to-do list apps we grade.

What you could make

- Tasks and calendar: an app builder makes these well.

What this rests on. Do It Tomorrow's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
