Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.6

GPA, above 70 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade

Dokobit is a document signing portal built around European eIDAS rules, with signatures made through national eIDs, mobile ID and other methods. It sells subscription plans plus a per-signature charge once a plan's monthly free signatures run out, and it also offers signing, identification and sealing APIs. The portal is powered by Signicat.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Dokobit, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for eIDAS signing with per-signature pricing

Past each plan's monthly allowance you pay per signature, and the document owner pays for every signer.

2 Paid plans start at about $8.94 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: €8 per user / month, billed yearly (€10 billed monthly).

3 There is a free plan

3 signatures and 3 basic document validations a month, with 100 MB of storage.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android.

5 eIDAS signature types

Supports qualified, advanced and simple electronic signatures as defined by eIDAS, with a qualified timestamp included in each signature's price.

6 Many eID methods

Signers can use national ID cards, Mobile ID and other eID tools. The site keeps a list of supported eIDs by country.

7 Document workflows

Set the order of signing and assign roles such as approver, signer or viewer. Workflows and approvals are in the Business plan and above.

8 A 2.6 GPA, above 70 of 78

That is against the other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Dokobit you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	B	Professional is €8 per user a month billed yearly (€10 monthly), under the category's $10 cheaper-quarter line, with 20 free signatures.
Free plan and trial	C	Free gives 3 signatures and 3 basic validations a month with 100 MB of storage, which runs out quickly. No trial.
Features	B	Several eIDAS signature types, many eID methods, workflows, validation and APIs. Nothing in the listing is missing from the signing job.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. Teams set up categories, workflows and eID methods.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web, iPhone and Android, plus signing and identification APIs.

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Dokobit is for

- ✓ Fits if you sign with people who have European or Baltic eIDs
- ✓ Works for small teams that sign 20 or fewer documents a month

Who it is not for

- ✕ Tight if you stay free, since 3 signatures a month is the cap
- ✕ Pricey if you go past your allowance, at €0.44 per qualified signature on Professional
- ✕ Watch out: the document owner pays for every signer, so costs rise with the people you send to
- ✕ Watch out: prices exclude VAT, are shown for the Baltics and change by region
- ✕ Skip it if you need advanced liability validations or SMS, which Professional lacks

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Companies in the Baltics and Nordics that need eID-based signatures
- ✓ Teams that need qualified signatures accepted across the EU
- ✓ Occasional signers: the free plan covers three signatures a month

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Prices are in euros, exclude VAT, and the page shows a region selector; the figures here are the Baltics view.
- ⓘ Signatures beyond a plan's monthly free allowance are charged per signature, and the document owner pays for every signer.
- ⓘ Enterprise is shown at €25 per user a month but is bought through sales.
- ⓘ Advanced liability validations and SMS services are not on the Professional plan.

Dokobit is made by Dokobit, and has been around since 2008.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

70/78

Other e-signature and proposal tools it is graded above

Dokobit's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 70 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, and level with 6.

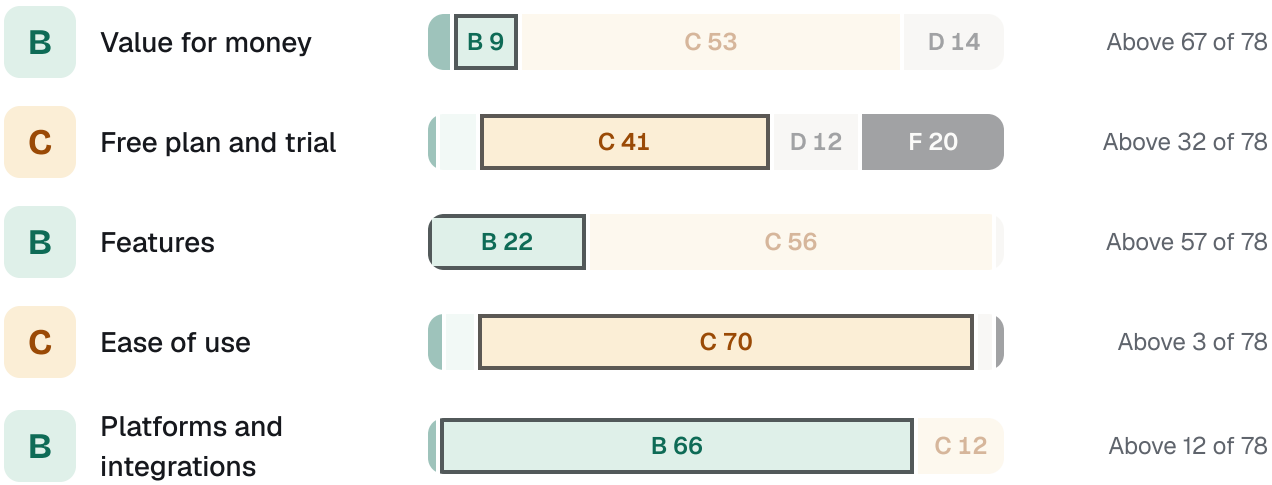

It stands best on value for money (B, above 67 of 78) and worst on ease of use (C, above 3).

Its paid plans start at about $8.94 a month for each person, against a middle price of $19 for the category: 5 of the 54 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 1 tool scores higher and costs less.

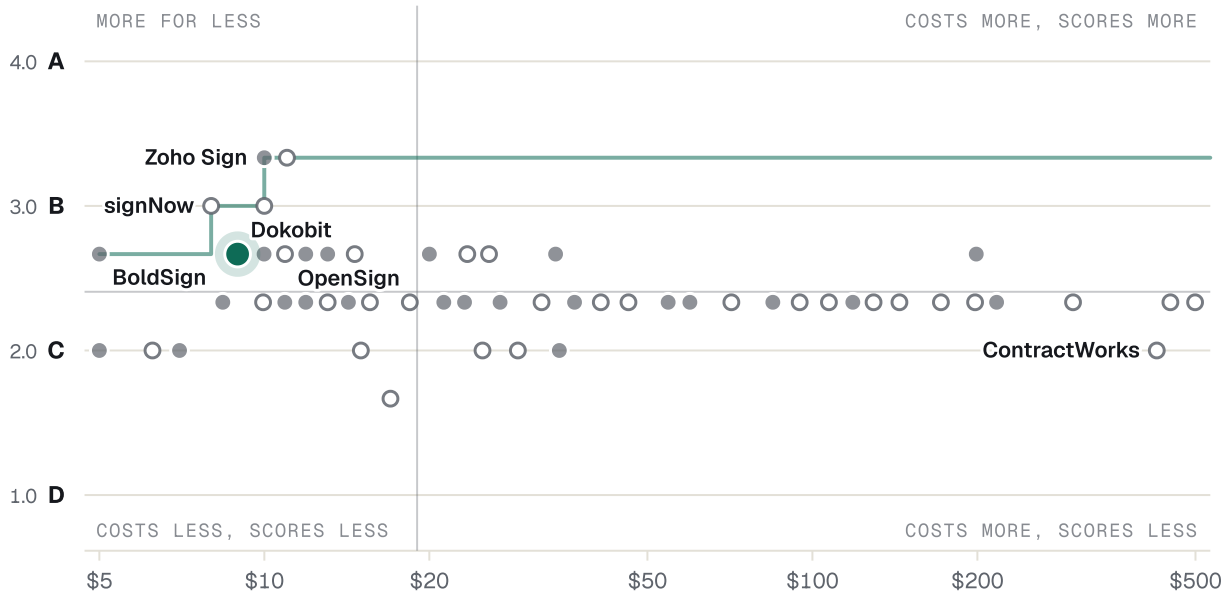

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 79 e-signature and proposal tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Dokobit's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 55 e-signature and proposal tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Dokobit is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Dokobit you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 70 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade. It costs $107.25 a year.

What you could make

- Documents and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Dokobit's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
