Who DonorPerfect is for

- ✓ Fits if you are a nonprofit that wants a donor database with a mobile app
- ✓ Works for teams that need QuickBooks or moves management and will pay for Plus

Who it is not for

- ✕ Skip it if you want a price list, because the quote follows your record count and tier

- ✕ Not for you if you need the API, as it is limited to Pro
- ✕ Watch out: phone support starts at Pro, and Core and Plus get chat

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Nonprofits that want email, forms and payments inside the donor database

Worth knowing

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

16/116

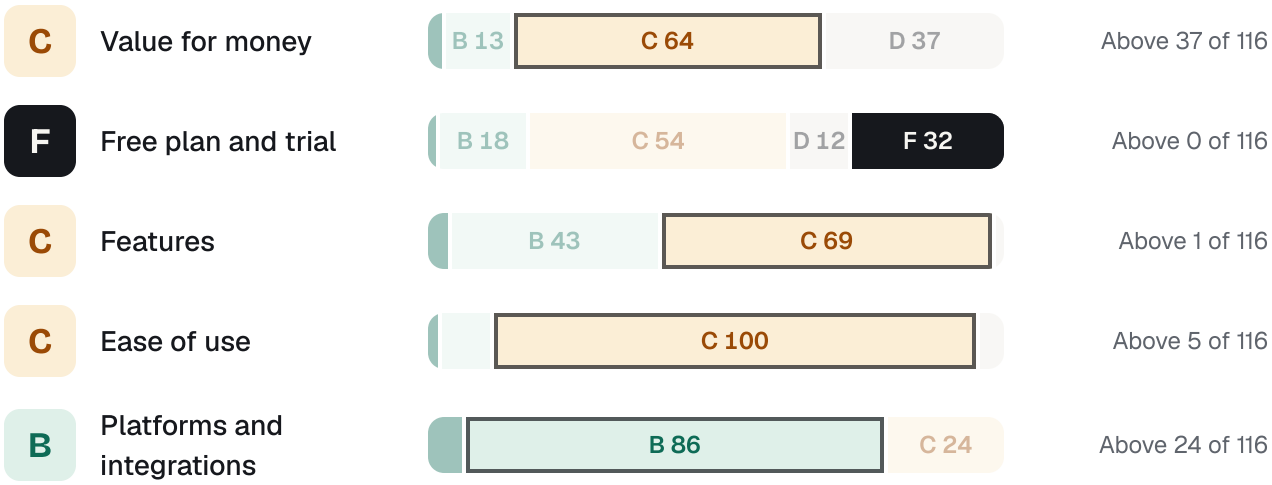

Other CRM tools it is graded above

DonorPerfect's GPA of 1.8 is higher than 16 of the 116 other CRM tools we grade, and level with 20.

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 24 of 116) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 117 CRM tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. DonorPerfect's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace DonorPerfect you would be making newsletters sent to thousands of people that still reach the inbox. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 80 of the 116 other CRM tools grade higher.

What you could make

- Forms and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Newsletters sent to thousands of people that still reach the inbox.
- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.

What this rests on. DonorPerfect's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
