Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 123 of the 178 other AI agents we grade

Dosu captures what a team and its coding agents learn and turns it into documentation and a shared knowledge base. It updates docs as code changes, generates docs on request, syncs existing documentation, and exposes the knowledge to coding agents through an MCP server and a command-line tool.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Dosu, taken from its own pages and our grades.

>
> You connect repositories and knowledge sources before it does anything.
>
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for docs that update as your code changes

Dosu keeps documentation and a shared knowledge base up to date from your code and your coding agents.

2 Paid plans start at $16 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $16 per month, billed annually ($192 upfront).

3 There is a free plan

200 credits a month, public repositories only.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Self-documenting pull requests

Documentation is updated when the code it describes changes.

6 Doc generation and sync

Dosu writes docs from a description you give it and can connect to existing documentation to maintain it in place.

7 Shared knowledge for agents

Coding agents connect over MCP and contribute what they learn, so other agents reuse it instead of re-discovering it.

8 A 2.4 GPA, above 123 of 178

That is against the other AI agents we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Dosu you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for docs that update as your code changes

Dosu keeps documentation and a shared knowledge base up to date from your code and your coding agents. The free plan is public repositories only with 200 credits a month, and private repositories need Pro at $16 a month billed yearly.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Dosu	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	B	Pro is $16 a month on yearly billing ($192 upfront), under the category's $19.99 cheaper-quarter start.
Free plan and trial	C	Free gives 200 credits a month but only on public repositories, so private code means paying.
Features	C	Self-updating pull-request docs, doc generation, an MCP server and chat. Linear and custom integrations are Enterprise only, and extra credits have no published price.
Ease of use	C	No rating on record. You connect repositories and knowledge sources before it does anything.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web product with GitHub, GitLab, Slack, Confluence, Notion and Coda links plus an MCP server and CLI. No desktop or phone app.
Grade point average		Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Dosu is for

- ✓ Fits if your team wants docs that follow code changes in GitHub or GitLab
- ✓ Works for open-source maintainers, since public repositories are free

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if your code is private: the free plan covers public repositories only
- ✗ Pricey if you pay monthly, because the $16 price is the yearly rate and $192 is charged upfront
- ✗ Skip it if you rely on Linear, which is an Enterprise integration
- ✗ Watch out: extra credits can be added on Pro but their price is not published
- ✗ Watch out: the Pro trial length is not stated

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Open-source maintainers on public repositories, using the free plan
- ✓ Engineering teams that want docs to track code changes
- ✓ Teams running several coding agents that should share context

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The Free plan is limited to public repositories and 200 credits a month.
- ⓘ The $16 Pro price is shown on the annual setting, as $192 billed upfront; the monthly-billing price was not readable.
- ⓘ Linear and custom integrations are Enterprise only; Pro covers Slack, Confluence, Notion and Coda.
- ⓘ Extra credits can be added on Pro, but the page does not give their price.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

123/178

Other AI agents it is graded above

Dosu's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 123 of the 178 other AI agents we grade, and level with 15.

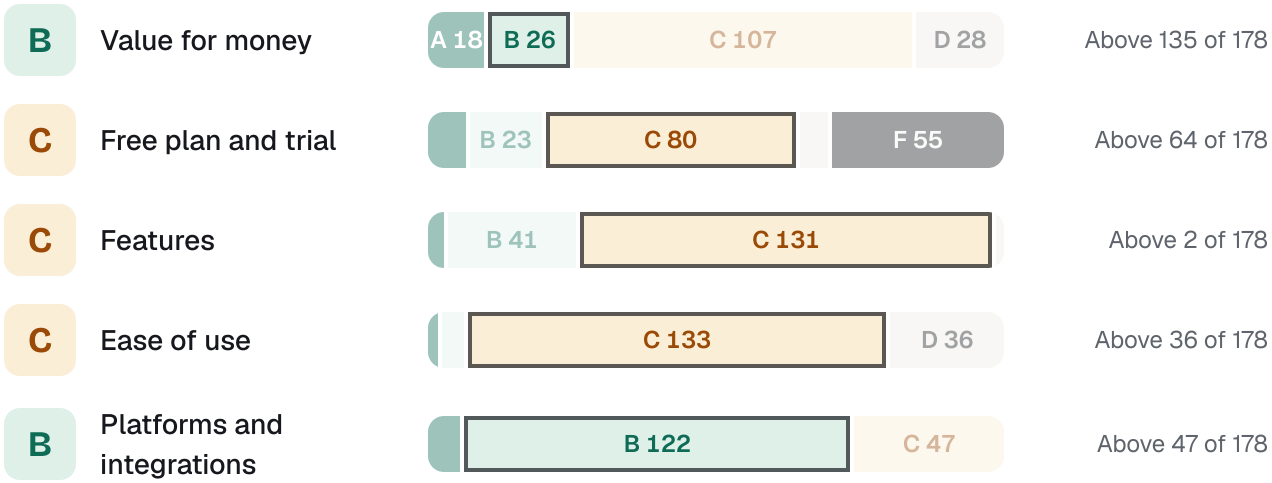

It stands best on value for money (B, above 135 of 178) and worst on features (C, above 2).

Its paid plans start at $16 a month, against a middle price of $25 for the category: 7 of the 98 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 1 tool scores higher and costs less.

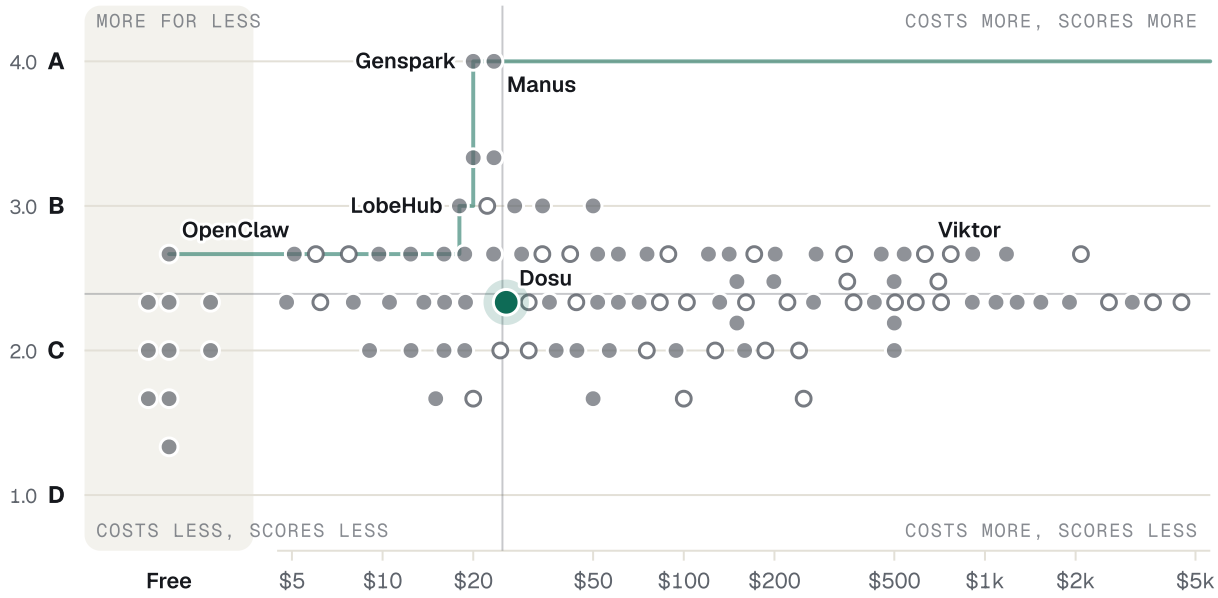

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 179 AI agents we grade, cut by the letter each got. Dosu's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 109 AI agents. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Dosu is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Dosu you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.4 is higher than 123 of the 178 other AI agents we grade. It costs $192 a year.

What you could make

- Wiki: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- An AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it.

- An AI model, which you can rent by the request but not make.
- It plugs into other products, GitHub, GitLab and Slack among them, and has an API.

What this rests on. Dosu's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
