Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 39 of the 79 other event ticketing platforms we grade

Eventyay is an open-source event platform from FOSSASIA covering ticket sales, call for proposals, speaker and session management, schedules, online events, badges and check-in. It runs as a hosted service at eventyay.com or can be self-hosted under the Apache 2.0 license.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Eventyay, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> The hosted version's fees aren't stated on the pages we read, and self-hosting means you handle upgrades and backups.
>
> From our report card of Eventyay

1 Best for open-source conference ticketing you host yourself

Eventyay is an open-source system for ticketing, call for proposals, schedules and badges, which you run yourself with Docker.

2 It is free

Eventyay has no paid plan at all.

3 It runs on Web

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Eventyay	Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	The code is free under Apache 2.0, but you have to host it, so it is a C. Fees for the hosted service are not shown.
Free plan and trial	B	The code is free with no cap, though you need a server to run it.
Features	B	Tickets, orders, refunds, call for proposals, schedules, badges, check-in and a widget cover the conference job.
Ease of use	D	It is installed with Docker and you run deployment, backups and upgrades.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web with an API, plugin system and embeddable widget. No phone apps are listed.

Grade point average Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Eventyay is for

- ✓ Fits if you run an open-source or community conference
- ✓ Works for teams that want to host their own ticketing

Who it is not for

- ✗ Not for you if you don't want to run a server, as self-hosting means upgrades and backups are yours
- ✗ Skip it if you want the hosted service priced, since its fees aren't stated
- ✗ Too light for small sellers who want a quick sign-up, as it has no public pricing page
- ✗ Watch out: Docker set-up is a task for someone technical

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Open-source and community conferences
- ✓ Teams that want to host their own ticketing

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Fees for the hosted service at eventyay.com are not stated on the pages read.
- ⓘ Self-hosting means the operator handles deployment, backups, monitoring and upgrades.
- ⓘ The listing shows a login and event listings but no public pricing page.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

39/79

Other event ticketing platforms it is graded above

Eventyay's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 39 of the 79 other event ticketing platforms we grade, and level with 9.

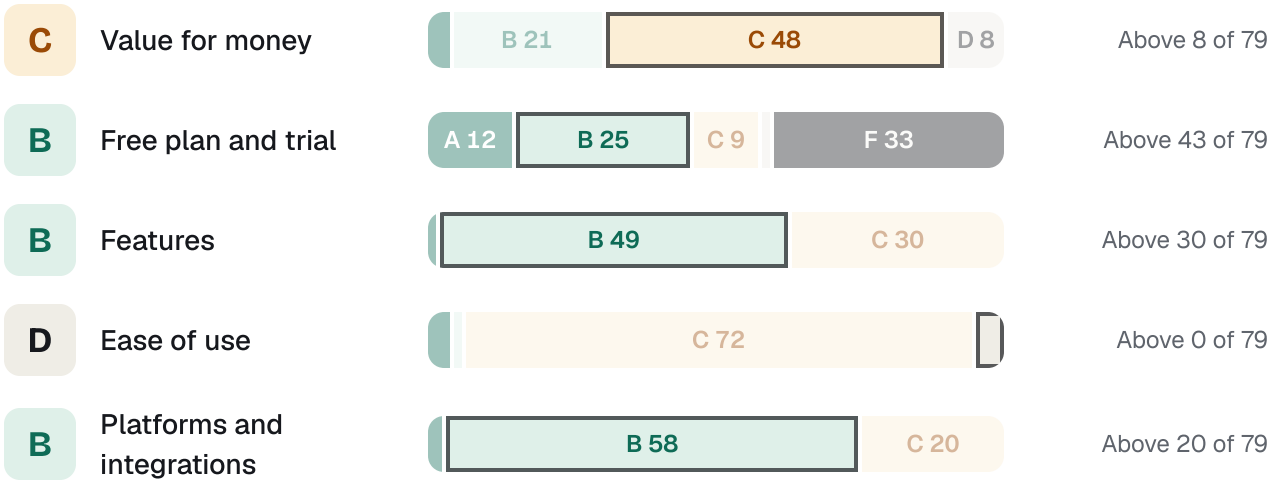

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 43 of 79) and worst on ease of use (D, above 0).

Eventyay has no paid plan.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

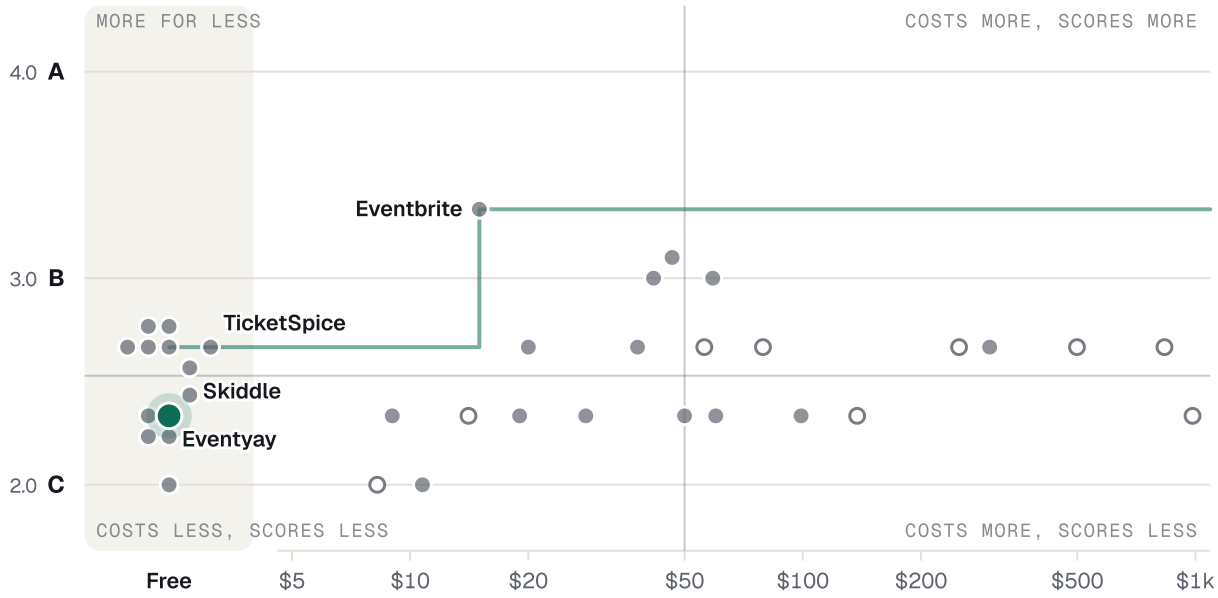

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 80 event ticketing platforms we grade, cut by the letter each got. Eventyay's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 36 event ticketing platforms. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Eventyay is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

Eventyay is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

And it is not the kind of software a weekend replaces.

What you could not

- Selling tickets and checking them at the door.
- An API that other software can build on.
- Hooks into the device itself: widgets.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Eventyay's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
