Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.6

GPA, above 39 of the 51 other spend and bill pay tools we grade

Everlance is a mileage and expense tracker for self-employed drivers and small businesses. A phone app detects drives and builds IRS-style mileage logs, and linked cards or bank accounts feed an expense log with receipt photos. Higher plans add tax filing and audit defense. Employers can use it for mileage reimbursement; the company is part of Motus.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Everlance, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> No store rating on record, but you install the phone app and drives are picked up in the background, with nothing to configure for mileage.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for mileage logs for drivers and small teams

Everlance logs drives from your phone's GPS and builds IRS-style mileage reports, with expense tracking on the paid plans.

2 Paid plans start at $7.50 a month when paid by the year

As its pricing page puts it: $89.99 per year, or $10.99 billed monthly.

3 There is a free plan

Basic: manual mileage tracking with no payment required.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android.

5 Automatic mileage tracking

The phone's GPS detects drives in the background, and trips are labeled work or personal with a swipe.

6 Mileage logs and reports

Builds IRS-compliant mileage logs and expense reports that can be exported as Excel or CSV files.

7 Expense tracking

Link a credit card or bank account to log expenses automatically, and attach receipt photos to each one.

8 A 2.6 GPA, above 39 of 51

That is against the other spend and bill pay tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

The plain part of Everlance you could make: expense tracking and reports. What surrounds it you could not. The 2 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

The report card

Best for mileage logs for drivers and small teams

Everlance logs drives from your phone's GPS and builds IRS-style mileage reports, with expense tracking on the paid plans. The free plan is capped at 30 detected trips a month, the trial needs a card, and it is a mileage tool first, so it won't run a company's expense policy.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Everlance — Graded Nov 12, 2026

| SUBJECT | GRADE | COMMENT |
|---|---|---|
| Value for money | B | Starter is $89.99 a year, about $7.50 a month, which sits at the edge of the cheapest quarter of expense tools ($7.50). Professional is $119.99 a year. |
| Free plan and trial | C | The pricing page says a free plan covers up to 30 detected trips a month with no card. Past that you pay, and the 7-day Starter trial needs a card. |
| Features | C | Automatic mileage logs, receipt photos, linked-card expenses and report exports. The listing says the team features are not tied to a plan on the pricing page, and FAVR programs go through sales. |
| Ease of use | B | No store rating on record, but you install the phone app and drives are picked up in the background, with nothing to configure for mileage. Linking cards for expenses is extra. |
| Platforms and integrations | B | Web, iPhone and Android apps. No integrations list on record. |

Grade point average

Good, out of 4.0 2.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Everlance is for

- ✓ Fits if you drive for work and need a mileage log for your taxes
- ✓ Works for small firms that reimburse staff by the mile

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you stay free, as detection stops at 30 trips a month
- ✗ Watch out: the 7-day Starter trial needs a credit card and bills you at the end unless you cancel
- ✗ Not for you if you need approval rules and policy checks, as the page doesn't say which plan carries the team features
- ✗ Pricey if you pay monthly, at $10.99 for Starter against $89.99 for the year
- ✗ Too light for fixed-and-variable-rate (FAVR) programs, which go through the sales team with no price shown

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Gig drivers and freelancers who log business miles for taxes
- ✓ Small companies reimbursing employees by the mile
- ✓ People who want mileage and basic expense tracking in one phone app

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The free Basic plan tracks mileage manually only; automatic trip detection starts on Starter.
- ⓘ The pricing page does not say which plan carries the team features such as admin dashboards and approval flows, so check before buying for a team.
- ⓘ FAVR and fixed monthly allowance programs are arranged through the sales team, not priced on the site.
- ⓘ The trial needs a credit card and moves to a paid plan unless canceled.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

39/51

Other spend and bill pay tools it is graded above

Everlance's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 39 of the 51 other spend and bill pay tools we grade, and level with 3.

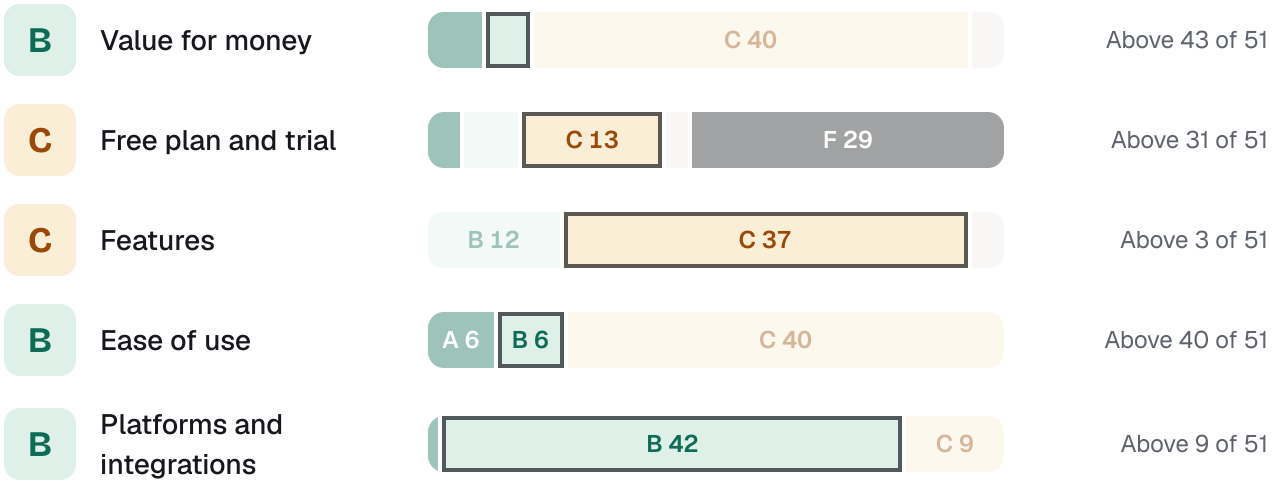

It stands best on value for money (B, above 43 of 51) and worst on features (C, above 3).

Its paid plans start at $7.50 a month when paid by the year, against a middle price of $12 for the category: 5 of the 24 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 2 tools score higher and cost less.

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 52 spend and bill pay tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Everlance's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 26 spend and bill pay tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Everlance is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Everlance you could make: expense tracking and reports. What surrounds it you could not. The 2 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 39 of the 51 other spend and bill pay tools we grade. It costs $89.99 a year.

What you could make

- Expense tracking and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Everlance's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
