Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

14/149

Other project management tools it is graded above

Fieldwire's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 14 of the 149 other project management tools we grade, and level with 23.

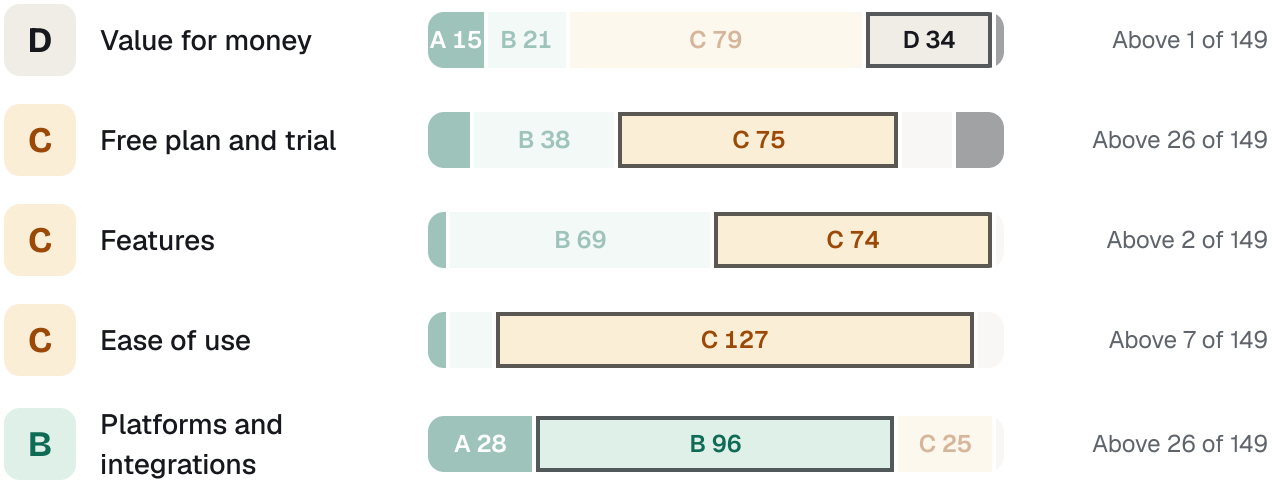

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 26 of 149) and worst on value for money (D, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $39 a month for each person, against a middle price of $9 for the category: 110 of the 121 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 63 tools score higher and cost less.

Price against what you get

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Fieldwire you could make: tasks, forms and reports. What surrounds it you could not. The 3 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 112 of the 149 other project management tools grade higher. It costs $468 a year.

What you could make

- Tasks, forms and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- It plugs into other products, Box and Dropbox among them, and has an API.

What this rests on. Fieldwire's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
