Who Fortnox is for

- ✓ Fits if you run a Swedish company and want bank-connected books
- ✓ Makes sense if you start a new company and can use the free half year

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you send a lot of invoices: 4.90 kr each through the invoice service, 39 kr each when you send them yourself on the simple tier
- ✗ Watch out: the Access base fee of 9 to 199 kr a month goes on every package
- ✗ Watch out: a 3-month term adds 15% to every list price
- ✗ Tight if you want to try before you pay, since there is no trial and the free half year is for new companies only

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

43/127

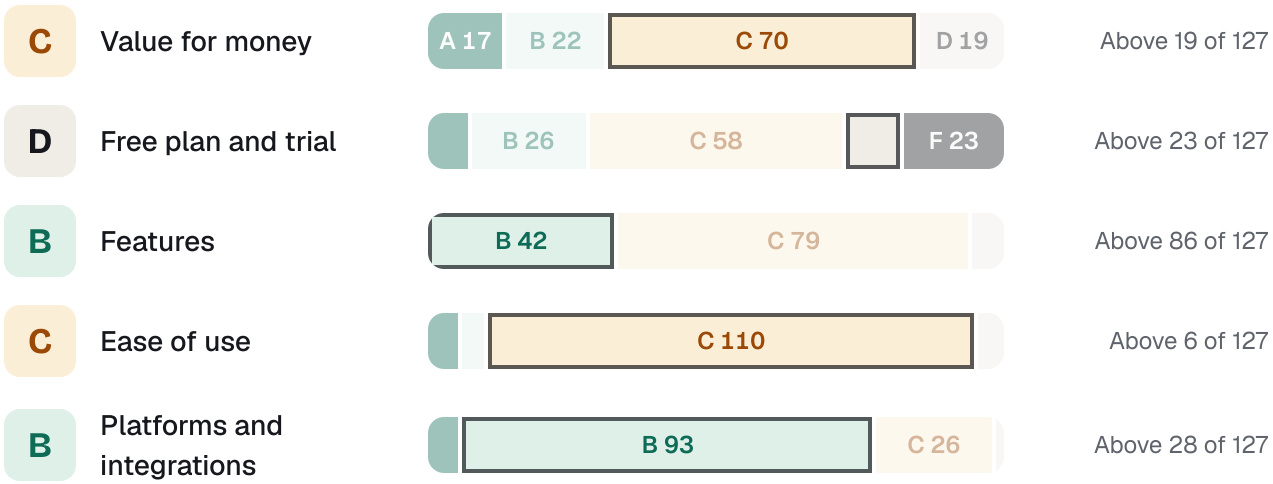

Other accounting and invoicing tools it is graded above

Fortnox's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 43 of the 127 other accounting and invoicing tools we grade, and level with 30.

It stands best on features (B, above 86 of 127) and worst on free plan and trial (D, above 23).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 128 accounting and invoicing tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Fortnox's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Fortnox you would be making live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

What you could make

- Invoicing, expense tracking and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them.
- Payroll taxes worked out and filed with the government for you.
- Cards issued through a bank.
- Money moved between bank accounts, which takes a licensed payments partner.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Fortnox's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
