Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 22 of the 65 other accounting and invoicing tools we grade

Hubdoc collects financial documents such as bills, receipts and statements from photos, email forwards, uploads and scans, reads out the key figures, and stores the files online. It then syncs the data to accounting platforms. Its pages now carry the Xero name, and it is sold as one flat monthly plan after a free trial.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Hubdoc, taken from its own pages and our grades.

>
> You link it to your accounting software and set up supplier rules first.
>
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for capturing bills and receipts for your accounting software

Hubdoc collects bills and receipts, reads the data off them and sends it to your accounting software for $12 a month.

2 Paid plans start at $12 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $12 USD per month after the free trial.

3 You can try it first

30-day free trial, no credit card required

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android.

5 Document capture

Import bills and receipts by photographing them in the mobile app, forwarding emails, uploading from a desktop or scanning.

6 Data extraction

Reads key information from bills, statements, invoices and receipts so it does not need to be typed in.

7 Supplier rules

Rules automate how receipts, bills and statements from a given supplier are coded when they are sent on.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 22 of 65

That is against the other accounting and invoicing tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Hubdoc you would be making live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for capturing bills and receipts for your accounting software

Hubdoc collects bills and receipts, reads the data off them and sends it to your accounting software for $12 a month. It isn't a ledger, so it needs Xero, QuickBooks or similar to be useful, there's one plan and no annual option, and the site now sits under the Xero name.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Hubdoc — Graded Nov 12, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	B	$12 a month for the one plan, inside the category's cheaper quarter (up to $15), though it only does the capture step.
Free plan and trial	C	A 30-day free trial with no credit card, then $12 a month. No free plan.
Features	D	Captures documents and extracts data, with supplier rules and sync. It's not a ledger and needs an accounting platform to post to.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. You link it to your accounting software and set up supplier rules first.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web, iPhone and Android, syncing to Xero, QuickBooks Online and Bill.com, with Box for backup. No desktop app.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Hubdoc is for

- ✓ Fits if you already use Xero or QuickBooks Online and drown in paper bills
- ✓ Works for bookkeepers who want supplier documents collected automatically

Who it is not for

- ✗ Not for you if you need a ledger, because it captures documents and doesn't keep books
- ✗ Skip it if you want a free plan, as it's a 30-day trial and then $12 a month
- ✗ Watch out: the pricing page lists one monthly plan and no annual option
- ✗ Watch out: the site sits under the Xero name now, so how it's bundled may change

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Bookkeepers who chase clients for receipts every month
- ✓ Small businesses that want paper bills kept as digital files
- ✓ Teams already on Xero or QuickBooks Online

Worth knowing

- ⓘ It captures and extracts documents; it is not a ledger and needs an accounting platform to post to.
- ⓘ The pricing page lists a single $12 USD monthly plan and gives no annual option.
- ⓘ The site now sits under the Xero name, so how it is bundled with Xero may change.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

22/65

Other accounting and invoicing tools it is graded above

Hubdoc's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 22 of the 65 other accounting and invoicing tools we grade, and level with 15.

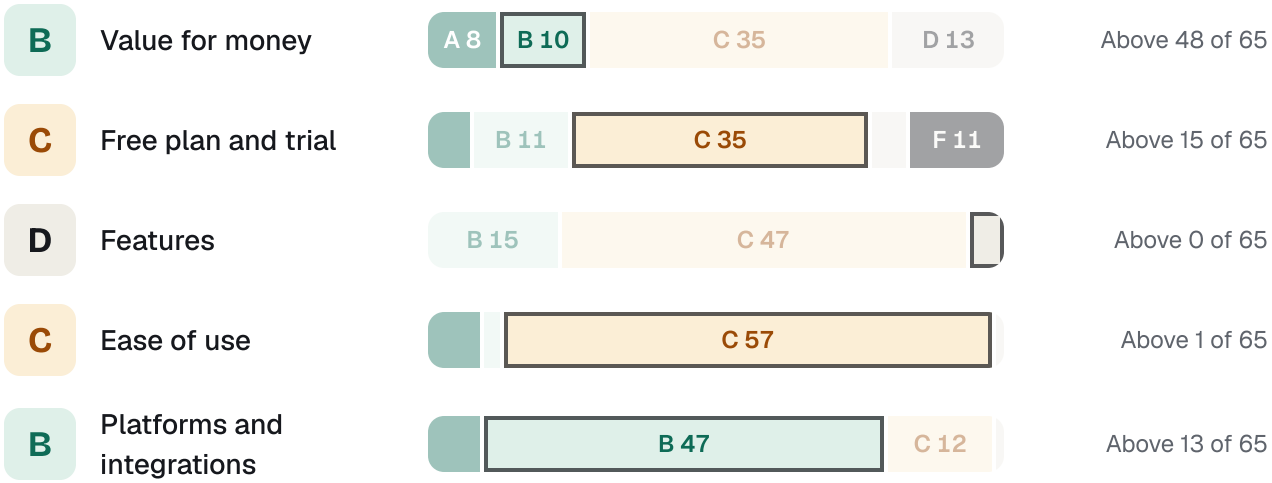

It stands best on value for money (B, above 48 of 65) and worst on features (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $12 a month, against a middle price of $18.09 for the category: 20 of the 54 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 18 tools score higher and cost less.

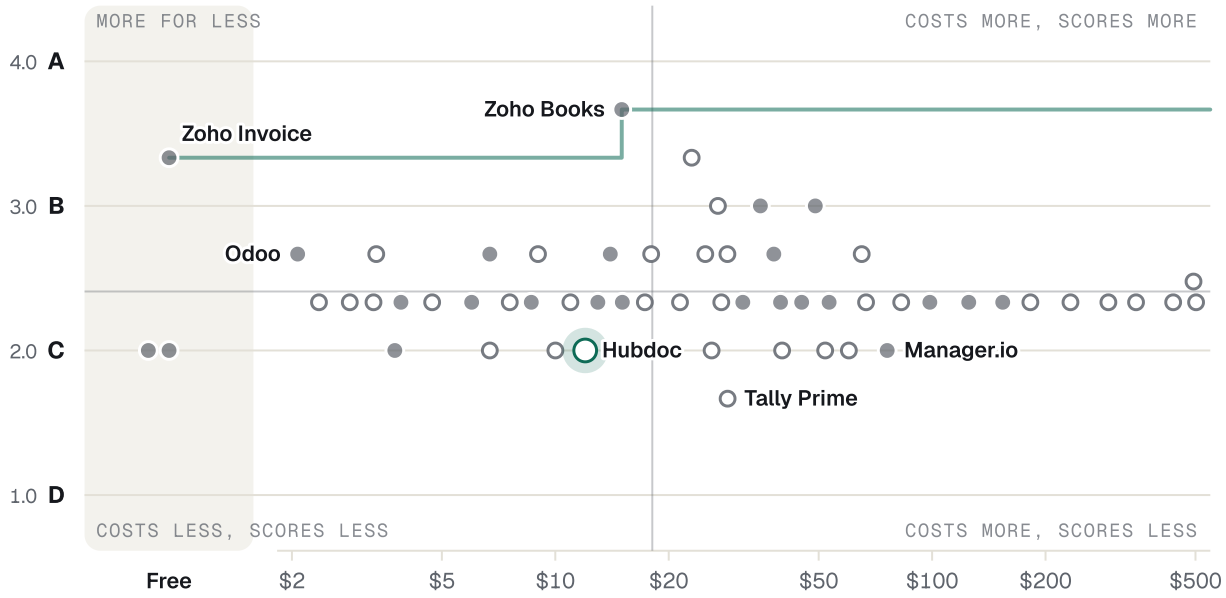

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 66 accounting and invoicing tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Hubdoc's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 58 accounting and invoicing tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Hubdoc is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Hubdoc you would be making live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $144 a year.

What you could make

- Expense tracking and documents: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Live feeds from your bank, which take an agreement with each bank or a service that has them.

- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.

What this rests on. Hubdoc's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
