Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 19 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade

Ironclad is a contract lifecycle management platform for legal, sales, procurement and other teams. It covers creating, reviewing, signing, storing and analyzing contracts, with a no-code workflow designer and AI features, and offers eSignature as one of its products. Pricing is quoted per customer.

To get you started, here are 7 things to know about Ironclad, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for contract management for large legal teams

Ironclad is a contract lifecycle platform with a no-code workflow designer, an AI assistant, a repository and built-in eSignature.

2 It runs on Web

Web.

3 Contract lifecycle stages

The site organizes the product around creating, reviewing, signing, storing, analyzing and fulfilling contracts, in one platform.

4 No-code workflow designer

Approval and routing workflows are built in a no-code Workflow Designer, which the vendor says can handle any contract type.

5 AI assistant

Ironclad Agent and other AI features work from a company's contracts, deal history and negotiation knowledge, per the vendor's site.

6 A 2.0 GPA, above 19 of 78

That is against the other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

7 Keep it

To replace Ironclad you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for contract management for large legal teams

Ironclad is a contract lifecycle platform with a no-code workflow designer, an AI assistant, a repository and built-in eSignature. No prices are published, and the quote depends on products, users and workflows. It is far more than a team that only wants signatures needs.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD | Ironclad | Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	No price is published, only a custom quote, so it sits in the middle with no evidence either way.
Free plan and trial	F	No free plan or trial is listed on its pages or in the listing, so nothing is free.
Features	B	Contract stages, a no-code workflow designer, an AI assistant, a repository, analytics and APIs. It covers the whole contract job, well beyond signing.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record, and the workflows have to be designed before it pays off.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web only, with Salesforce, Slack, Box, Dropbox, Word, NetSuite, SAP and Zapier.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Ironclad is for

- ✓ Fits if a legal team runs many contracts through the same stages
- ✓ Makes sense if you want signing inside a wider contract system

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you only want signatures, since it is a full contract suite
- ✗ Watch out: no price is published, and the cost depends on what you buy
- ✗ Watch out: some integrations are included and some are add-ons
- ✗ Not for you if you want to try it first, because no trial is listed

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Legal and procurement teams running contracts across departments
- ✓ Large companies that want contract workflows tied to Salesforce or ERP tools
- ✓ Teams that want signing and a contract repository in one system

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No prices are published; the pricing page offers only a custom quote based on products, users and workflows.
- ⓘ The page describes product, partner and add-on choices, so cost depends on what is bought.
- ⓘ Some integrations are included and some are add-ons, according to the pricing FAQ.
- ⓘ It is a full contract management suite, so it is more than a standalone signing tool needs.

What it costs

Contract lifecycle stages

The site organizes the product around creating, reviewing, signing, storing, analyzing and fulfilling contracts, in one platform.

No-code workflow designer

Approval and routing workflows are built in a no-code Workflow Designer, which the vendor says can handle any contract type.

AI assistant

Ironclad Agent and other AI features work from a company's contracts, deal history and negotiation knowledge, per the vendor's site.

Repository and analytics

Signed contracts go into a central searchable repository, and contract data can be extracted and analyzed.

Clickwrap and CLM APIs

The site lists a Clickwrap API and a CLM API for developers, plus a connector for automation platforms.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

19/78

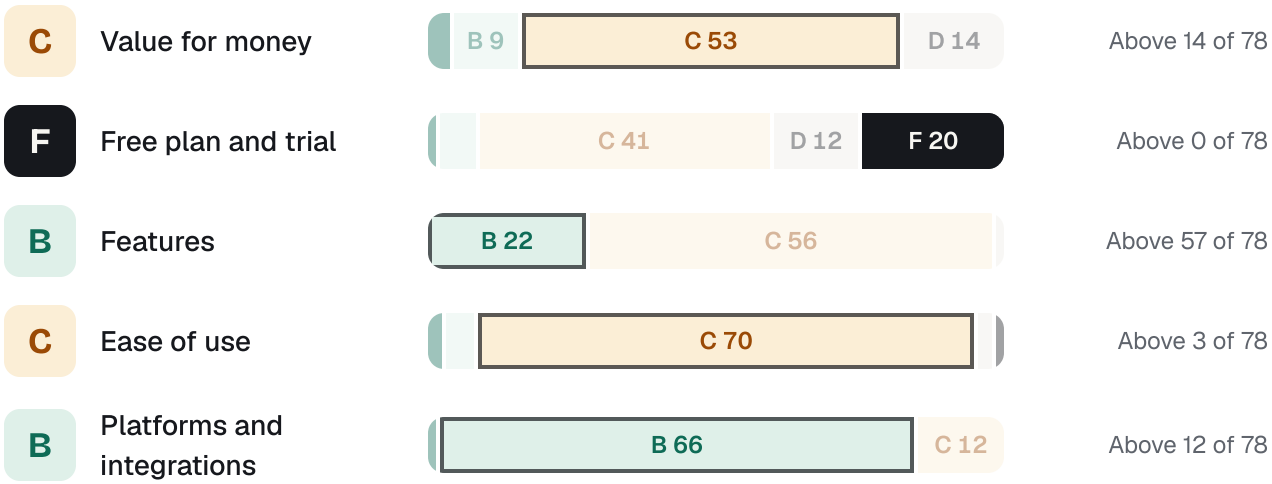

Other e-signature and proposal tools it is graded above

Ironclad's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 19 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, and level with 18.

It stands best on features (B, above 57 of 78) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 79 e-signature and proposal tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Ironclad's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Ironclad you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 41 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools grade higher.

What you could make

- Documents and templates: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Ironclad's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
