Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

1.6

GPA, above 5 of the 81 other cold outreach tools we grade

Kakiyo is a LinkedIn outreach tool in which an AI agent writes first messages, answers replies and objections, qualifies prospects and proposes meeting times. It runs LinkedIn sessions in the cloud rather than through a Chrome extension, and can be set to autopilot, copilot (review before sending) or manual. An email follow-up channel, sent from your own Gmail, is in beta.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Kakiyo, taken from its own pages and our grades.

5 AI-written conversations

6 Meeting booking

7 Autopilot, copilot or manual

Messages can go out automatically, wait for a person's approval, or be written by hand, set per campaign.

That is against the other cold outreach tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Kakiyo you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Who Kakiyo is for

- ✓ Fits if LinkedIn is your only outreach channel and you want the replies handled
- ✓ Works for founders running outbound from one account

Who it is not for

- ✕ Pricey if you're one person: €125 a month for 1 account
- ✕ Not for you if you need email or other channels, since email is beta
- ✕ Watch out: the trial is Pioneer only
- ✕ Tight if you run many accounts: more than 5 goes to a sales conversation
- ✕ Skip it if you want a price in dollars, as the page lists euros

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Founders who want to run LinkedIn outreach without hiring an SDR
- ✓ Agencies and recruiters managing outreach for several clients
- ✓ Teams that want to review AI messages before they are sent

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Prices are listed in euros; the page shows the monthly-billed figure by default and says quarterly and yearly billing cost less without stating the amounts here.
- ⓘ The 14-day free trial is listed on the Pioneer plan only.
- ⓘ Each paid agent includes 10,000 AI credits a month, shared by the team; extra credits are bought in Billing. The page's hidden data lists higher figures for two plans.
- ⓘ LinkedIn only: email follow-up is marked beta, and the product runs in the browser with no desktop or mobile app listed.

AI-written conversations

The agent writes each message from the prospect's profile and handles replies, objections and qualification questions instead of sending a fixed sequence.

Meeting booking

When a prospect qualifies, the agent proposes times and books the meeting on the connected calendar.

Autopilot, copilot or manual

Messages can go out automatically, wait for a person's approval, or be written by hand, set per campaign.

Cloud LinkedIn sessions

Accounts run in cloud browser sessions with a local IP and human-like delays, with no Chrome extension installed. The vendor says daily LinkedIn limits are respected automatically.

Email follow-up (beta)

If an invitation goes unanswered or a conversation stalls, follow-ups can go by email from your own Gmail or Google Workspace address, with an unsubscribe link and no tracking pixels.

Agency workspaces

The vendor describes unlimited client workspaces, a white-labeled dashboard and a per-client AI voice for agencies, with volume pricing for 10 or more accounts.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Kakiyo you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 64 of the 81 other cold outreach tools grade higher. It costs $1,675.80 a year.

What you could not

- ✕ An AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it.
- ✕ It plugs into other products, Gmail and Google Workspace among them, and has an API.

What this rests on. Kakiyo's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
