Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

45/98

Other course and community platforms it is graded above

Nas.io's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 45 of the 98 other course and community platforms we grade, and level with 20.

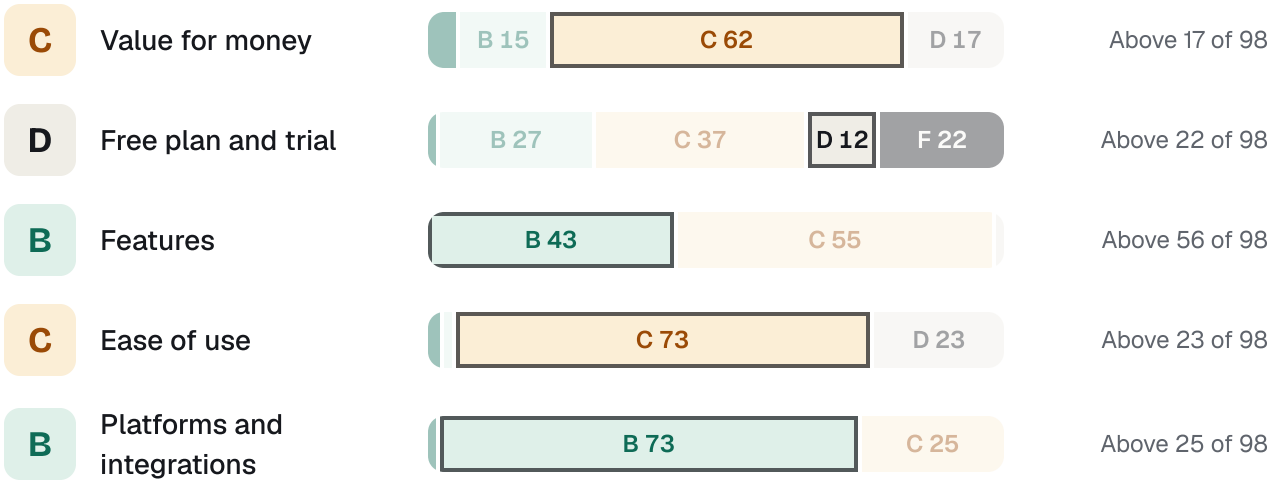

It stands best on features (B, above 56 of 98) and worst on free plan and trial (D, above 22).

Its paid plans start at $20.75 a month, against a middle price of $36 for the category: 19 of the 65 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

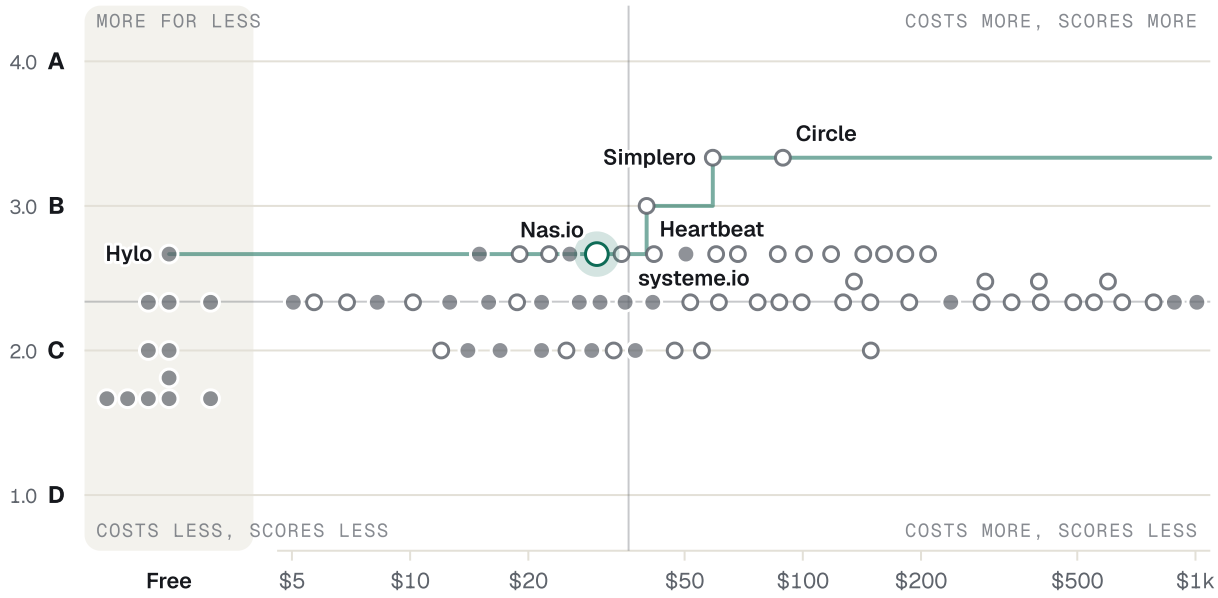

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 99 course and community platforms we grade, cut by the letter each got. Nas.io's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 78 course and community platforms. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Nas.io is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Nas.io you would be making checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $249 a year.

What you could make

- Online courses: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- Checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you.

- A members' space with posts, chat and events that people keep coming back to.
- A real app for iOS. Something home-made would be a web page.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- People on the other end: a community of other users. No app builder makes those.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Nas.io's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
