Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

1.6

GPA, above 1 of the 49 other password managers we grade

PassCamp is a cloud password manager built around teams, with a web app, browser extension and iOS and Android apps. Each stored item has its own vault that can be shared and tracked. The vendor's site now presents it as technology licensed to businesses, through a white-label or enterprise arrangement.

To get you started, here are 7 things to know about PassCamp, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> No store rating on record, and a business rollout with accounts and shared vaults to build.
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for team password sharing, with a white-label option

PassCamp is a team password vault sold to businesses and white-label partners, with data in Belgium.

2 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android, with a browser extension too.

3 A vault for every item

Each stored item has its own vault, which can be managed, shared and tracked separately from the rest.

4 End-to-end encryption

Data is encrypted with AES-256 and RSA-4096 before it leaves the device, and a master password unlocks the private key, per the vendor.

5 Sharing with guests

Passwords are shared with people who have PassCamp accounts, and teams can add an unlimited number of guests such as clients and contractors.

6 A 1.6 GPA, above 1 of 49

That is against the other password managers we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

7 Keep it

To replace PassCamp you would be making a password vault, the last thing anyone should make for themselves. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for team password sharing, with a white-label option

PassCamp is a team password vault sold to businesses and white-label partners, with data in Belgium. No prices are published, a self-serve plan for individuals could not be confirmed, and you can only share with people who have PassCamp accounts.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	PassCamp	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	No price is published and the site sends buyers to contact the company, so it sits at the default.
Free plan and trial	F	No free plan and no trial are on record, only a quote route.
Features	C	Vaults, sharing, autofill, 2FA and a history log. You can only share with other PassCamp account holders.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record, and a business rollout with accounts and shared vaults to build.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web, iPhone, Android and an extension. No desktop app and no integrations list on the pages read.
Grade point average		Weak, out of 4.0 1.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who PassCamp is for

- ✓ Fits if a company wants a vault built around team sharing
- ✓ Makes sense if a software vendor wants a rebranded password manager

Who it is not for

- ✕ Skip it if you want a price on the page, as none are published
- ✕ Not for you if you are an individual, as no self-serve plan could be confirmed
- ✕ Watch out: passwords can only be shared with people who also have PassCamp accounts
- ✕ Watch out: no trial or free plan is listed

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Companies that want a password vault built around team sharing
- ✓ Software vendors that want a rebranded password manager
- ✓ Organizations that need to host the vault on their own infrastructure

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No prices are published; the site directs buyers to contact the company for white-label and enterprise licensing.
- ⓘ The current site presents business products only, so a self-serve plan for individuals could not be confirmed.
- ⓘ Passwords can be shared only with people who also have PassCamp accounts.
- ⓘ The data center for the hosted service is in Belgium, on Google Cloud.

What it costs

Every plan, the free plan, ways to pay less and how prices have moved

PassCamp's current pricing could not be confirmed from its own site.

From our grade for features

A vault for every item

Each stored item has its own vault, which can be managed, shared and tracked separately from the rest.

End-to-end encryption

Data is encrypted with AES-256 and RSA-4096 before it leaves the device, and a master password unlocks the private key, per the vendor.

Sharing with guests

Passwords are shared with people who have PassCamp accounts, and teams can add an unlimited number of guests such as clients and contractors.

Autofill and two-factor sign-in

Fills logins in the browser and mobile app, and supports two-factor authentication with any TOTP app.

History log

Every item records changes and shares made by you or your contacts, with notifications for updates and invites.

White-label and enterprise versions

The vault technology can be rebranded, bundled with other products or hosted as a standalone tool or on self-hosted instances.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

1/49

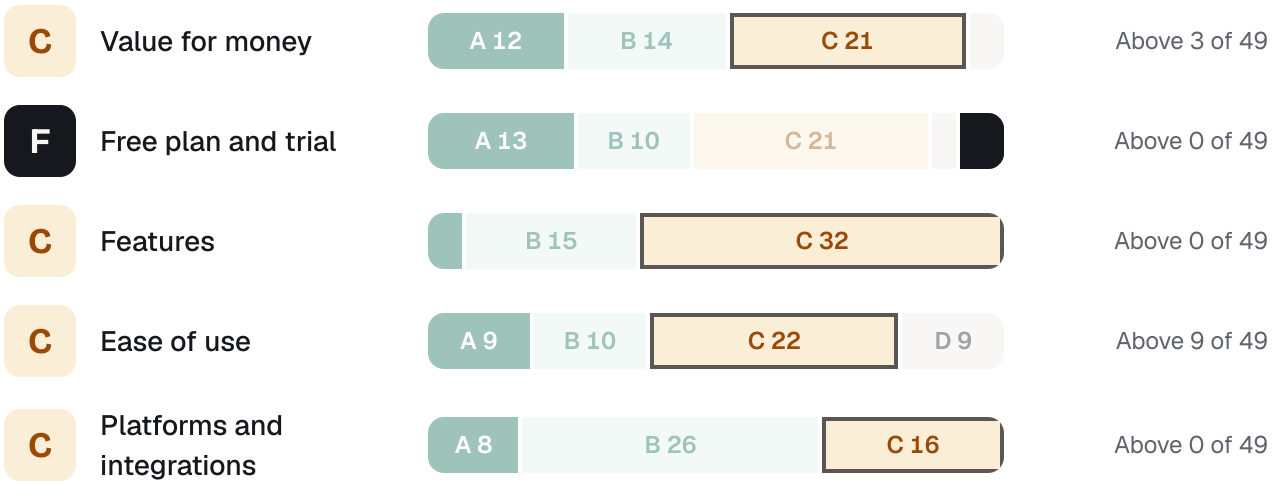

Other password managers it is graded above

PassCamp's GPA of 1.6 is higher than 1 of the 49 other password managers we grade.

It stands best on ease of use (C, above 9 of 49) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 50 password managers we grade, cut by the letter each got. PassCamp's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace PassCamp you would be making a password vault, the last thing anyone should make for themselves. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 48 of the 49 other password managers grade higher.

What you could not

- ✕ A password vault, the last thing anyone should make for themselves.
- ✕ A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- ✕ End-to-end encryption done properly.
- ✕ Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.

What this rests on. PassCamp's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
