Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

98/149

Other project management tools it is graded above

Perdoo's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 98 of the 149 other project management tools we grade, and level with 21.

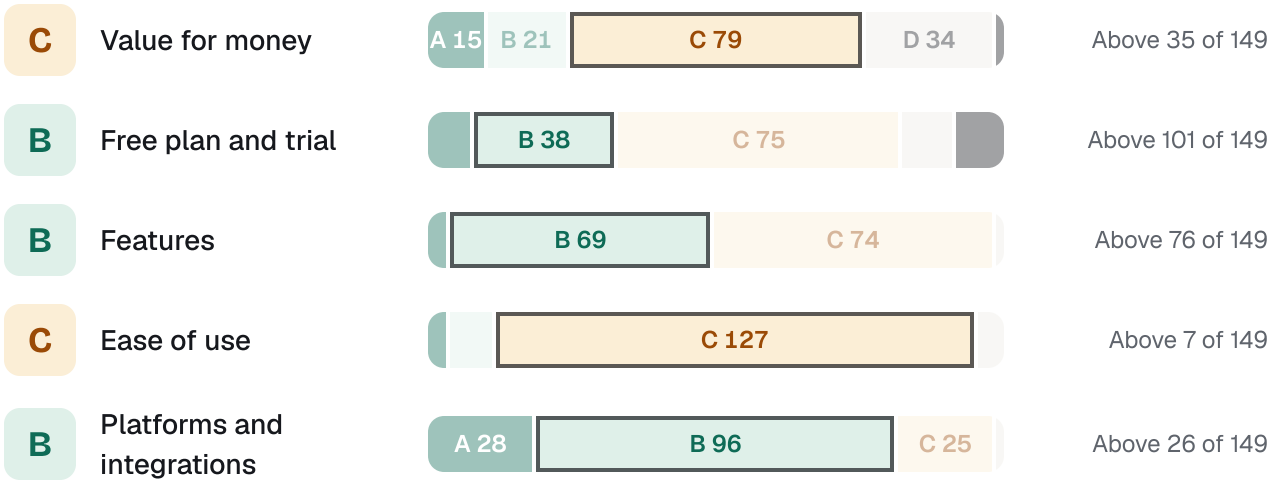

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 101 of 149) and worst on ease of use (C, above 7).

Its paid plans start at $9 a month for each person, against a middle price of $9 for the category: 57 of the 121 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 14 tools score higher and cost less.

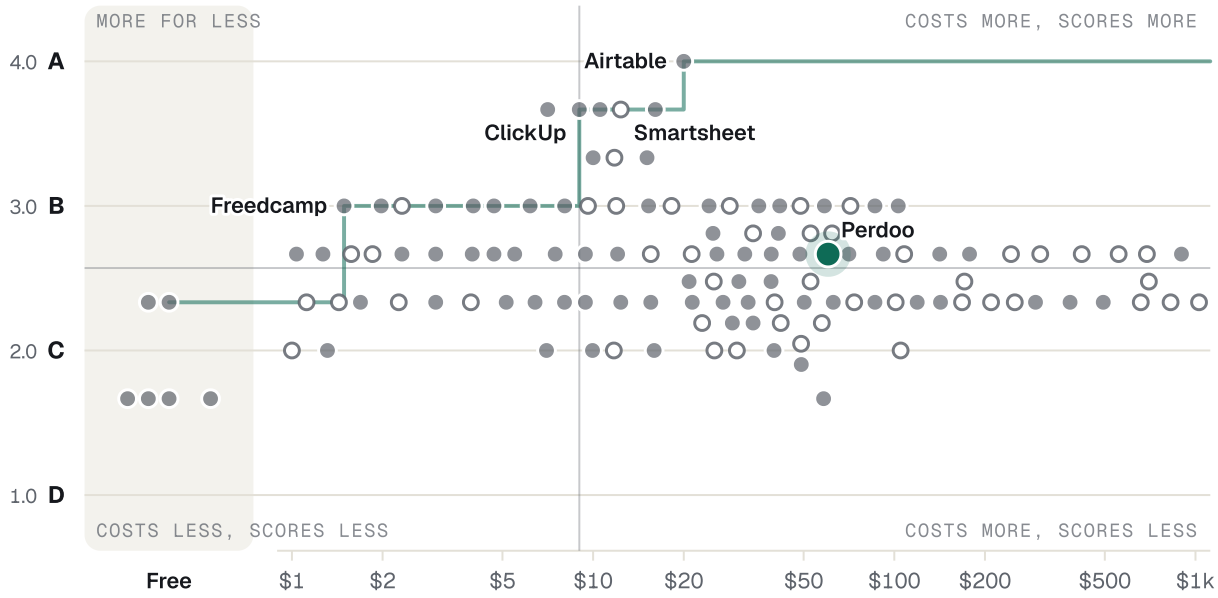

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 150 project management tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Perdoo's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 128 project management tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Perdoo is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Perdoo you could make: goals and tasks. What surrounds it you could not. The 7 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

It costs $108 a year.

What you could make

- Goals and tasks: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections that pull numbers from dozens of other services.

- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- It plugs into other products, Slack, Microsoft Teams and Jira among them, and has an API.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- People on the other end: coaches. No app builder makes those.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Perdoo's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
