PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

16/104

Other website and landing page builders it is graded above

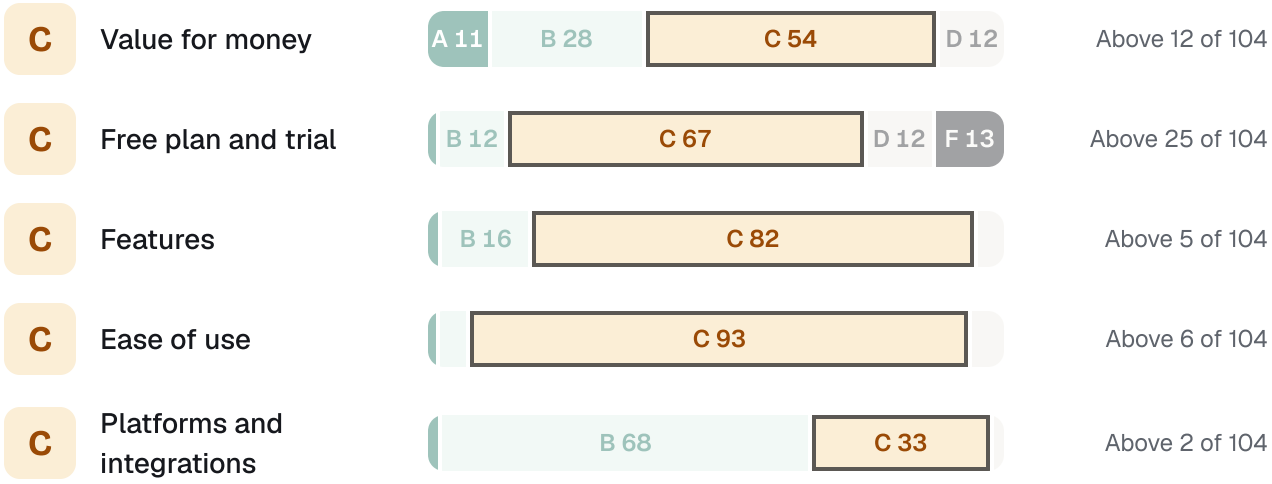

PhotoDeck's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 16 of the 104 other website and landing page builders we grade, and level with 23.

Its paid plans start at $12 a month, against a middle price of $11.50 for the category: 45 of the 89 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 29 tools score higher and cost less.

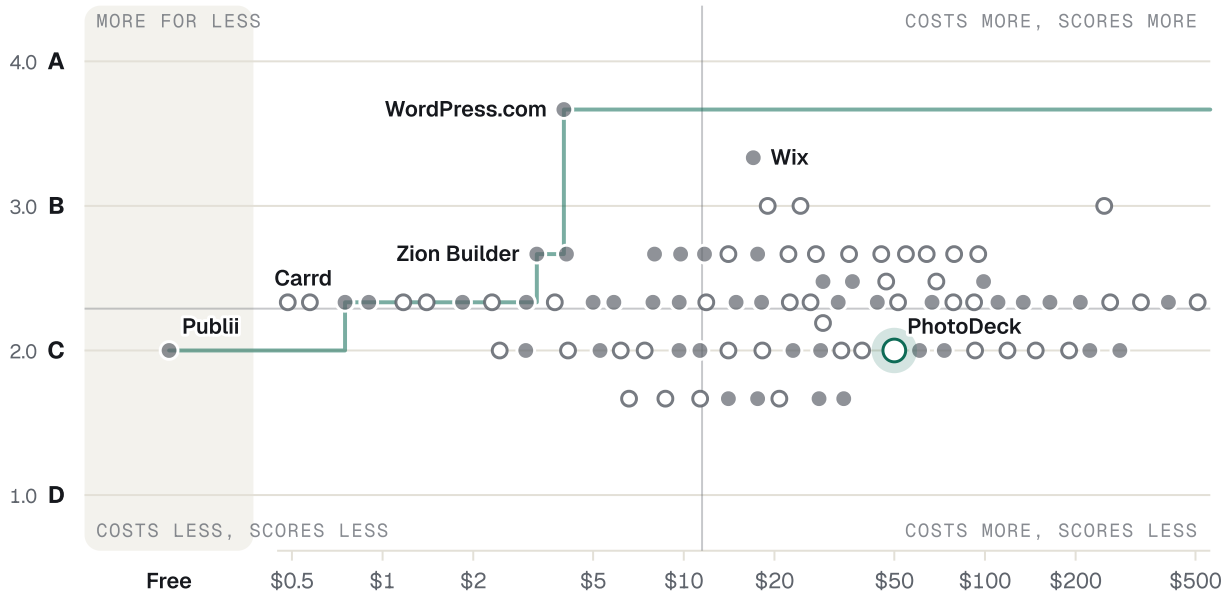

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 105 website and landing page builders we grade, cut by the letter each got. PhotoDeck's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 91 website and landing page builders. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. PhotoDeck is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace PhotoDeck you would be making checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 65 of the 104 other website and landing page builders grade higher. It costs $144 a year.

What you could make

- Digital downloads: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- Checkout, card payments and sales tax handled for you.

- Printers that make and ship each order.
- Storing and serving files for other people.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. PhotoDeck's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
