Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

1.6

GPA, above 0 of the 49 other shift scheduling apps we grade

Push is workforce software aimed at restaurants and other hospitality businesses. It combines team scheduling, time tracking with photo capture, payroll, hiring and onboarding, and labor reporting. Scheduling connects to POS systems for sales and labor forecasts, and staff handle shifts and swaps from a mobile app.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Push Operations, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for single restaurants with up to 15 staff

Push covers scheduling, time tracking, payroll and HR for restaurants.

2 Paid plans start at $200 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $200 per month per location for up to 15 employees.

3 It runs on Web

Web.

4 Team scheduling

Scheduling with labor forecasting, labor cost controls, shift swapping and compliance alerts; auto scheduling is on the Supreme plan.

5 POS integrations

Connects to POS systems so sales and labor data feed forecasts and reports, including sales versus labor.

6 Time tracking

Time tracking with photo capture to prevent buddy punching, and e-sign for forms.

7 A 1.6 GPA, above 0 of 49

That is against the other shift scheduling apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

8 Keep it

To replace Push Operations you would be making payroll taxes worked out and filed with the government for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Best for single restaurants with up to 15 staff

Push covers scheduling, time tracking, payroll and HR for restaurants. But the entry price is $200 a month per location, and the other plans are quote-only.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD Push Operations Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	D	$200 a month per location for up to 15 employees. For one person or a team of five that is far above the category's middle of $24.
Free plan and trial	F	No free plan, and the page names no trial; billing starts on the day you sign.
Features	B	Scheduling, POS integrations, time tracking, payroll, hiring and reporting. Nothing in the listing is missing from the job.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. Payroll and POS links need setup.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only on the listing, with no integrations named, though POS links are mentioned.
Grade point average		Weak, out of 4.0 1.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Push Operations is for

- ✓ Fits if you run a restaurant of up to 15 staff and want payroll and HR in the same tool
- ✓ Works for operators who want POS-linked scheduling and are fine with a quote

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you have a small team, because $200 a month per location is the floor
- ✗ Skip it if you need auto scheduling, as it is on the Supreme plan
- ✗ Not for you if you have over 50 staff and want a published price
- ✗ Watch out: plans can't be customised, and no trial is named

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Restaurant groups wanting scheduling and payroll in one system
- ✓ Single-location restaurants with up to 15 staff
- ✓ Operators who compare labor cost against POS sales

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Only the Essentials price is published; Signature, Supreme and Enterprise prices come from a quote, and teams over 50 employees are asked to request one.
- ⓘ The $200 starting price is per location per month, and goes up with plan and employee count.
- ⓘ Push bills on the day of signing and monthly after that; the page names no free trial.
- ⓘ Add-ons can be bought, but the services in each plan cannot be customized.

Push Operations is made by Push Operations.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

0/49

Other shift scheduling apps it is graded above

Push Operations's GPA of 1.6 is higher than 0 of the 49 other shift scheduling apps we grade, and level with 3.

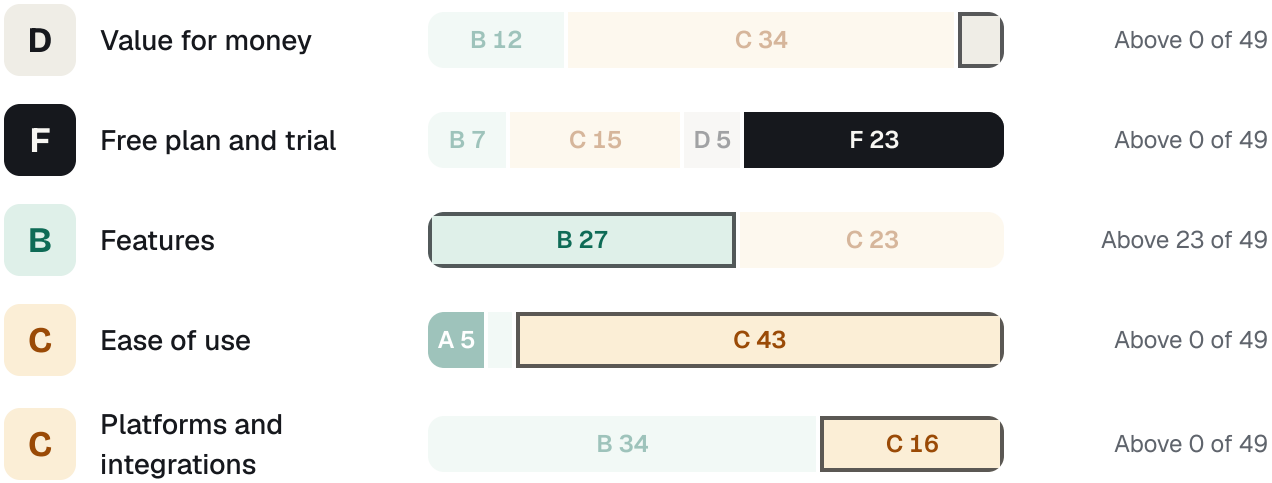

It stands best on features (B, above 23 of 49) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $200 a month, against a middle price of $16.76 for the category: 28 of the 28 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 12 tools score higher and cost less.

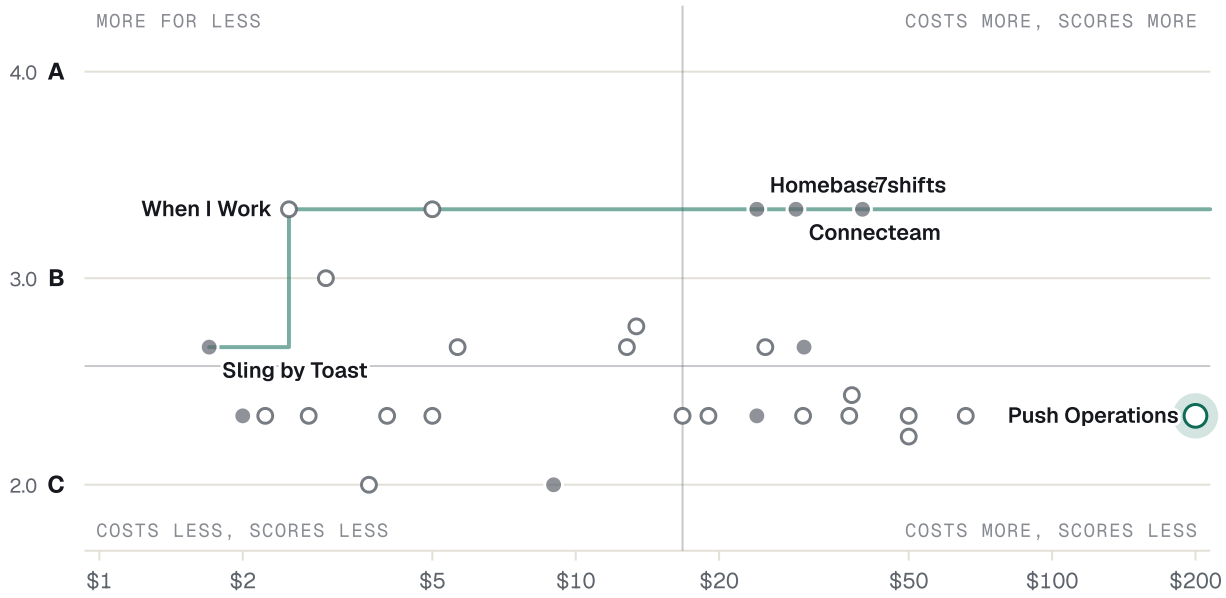

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 50 shift scheduling apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Push Operations's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 29 shift scheduling apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Push Operations is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Push Operations you would be making payroll taxes worked out and filed with the government for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 46 of the 49 other shift scheduling apps grade higher. It costs $2,400 a year.

What you could make

- Applicant tracking, time off and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Payroll taxes worked out and filed with the government for you.
- A rota the whole staff sees on their phones, with swaps and alerts.
- Clocking in from a phone, checked against where and when.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Push Operations's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
