Surveys are built online and run on iOS and Android devices, offline if needed. It is priced by the number of devices used to collect data rather than by responses. Who QuickTapSurvey is for

- ✓ Fits if you survey people in person at events or in a shop
- ✓ Works for a single kiosk tablet

Who it is not for

- ✕ Pricey if you use several devices, as each needs its own licence and 25 or more goes to enterprise pricing
- ✕ Skip it if you want a free plan, as the trial allows 10 responses on 1 device
- ✕ Watch out: alerts and premium question types are Premium at $84 a month
- ✕ Watch out: the monthly-billing price could not be read from the page

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ In-person feedback and lead capture at events and trade shows
- ✓ iPad or tablet kiosk surveys in places with poor connectivity
- ✓ Teams that want cost tied to devices, not response counts

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Each device needs its own license, so cost rises with every tablet or phone used; 25 or more devices go to enterprise pricing.
- ⓘ The free trial is limited to 10 responses on 1 device for 14 days; there is no free plan.
- ⓘ Prices shown were the annual-billing figures; the monthly-billing price could not be read from the page.
- ⓘ Alerts, premium question types and custom response flows are only on the Premium plan.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

26/148

Other form and survey tools it is graded above

QuickTapSurvey's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 26 of the 148 other form and survey tools we grade, and level with 29.

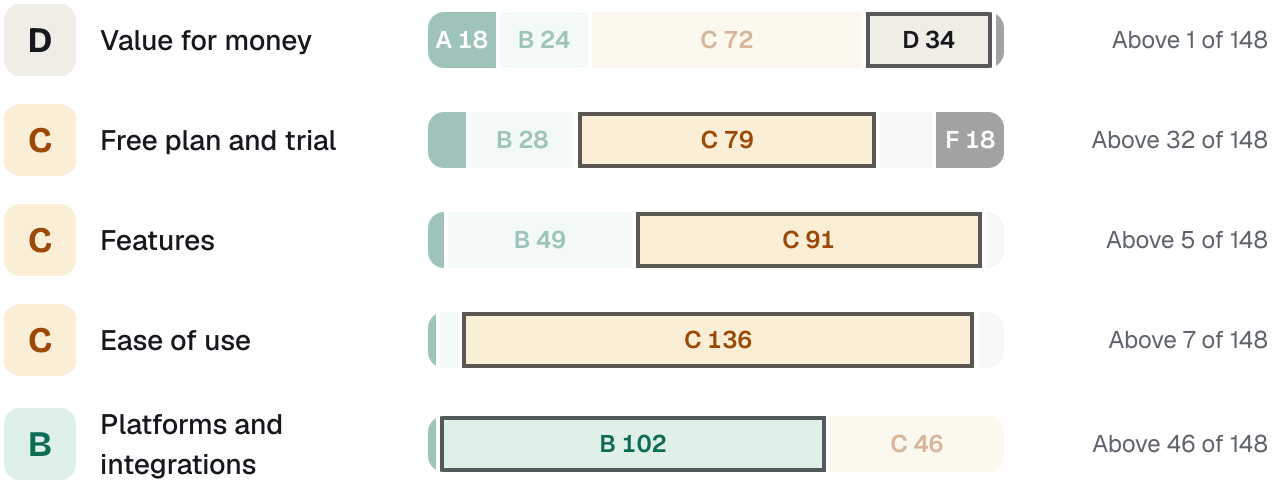

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 46 of 148) and worst on value for money (D, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $41 a month, against a middle price of $20 for the category: 83 of the 114 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 30 tools score higher and cost less.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 121 form and survey tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. QuickTapSurvey is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace QuickTapSurvey you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 93 of the 148 other form and survey tools grade higher. It costs $492 a year.

What you could make

- Surveys, forms and templates: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.

What this rests on. QuickTapSurvey's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
