Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 35 of the 85 other remote desktop apps we grade

Radmin 3 is remote control software from Famatech for IT support, system administration and reaching an office computer from elsewhere. A Server program runs on each computer to be controlled and a free Viewer connects to it. It is sold as a perpetual license per remote computer, with a 30-day free trial and larger packages for 50 and 100 computers.

4 It runs on Windows

Windows.

5 Viewer and Server programs

A Server is installed on each remote PC and the Viewer, which the vendor says is free, connects to it. A portable Viewer is also offered.

6 Encrypted connections

Radmin states that all transferred data is protected with 256-bit AES encryption.

7 Low-bandwidth operation

The site says Radmin is optimized to stay usable on slow links, including 3G connections.

8 A 2.4 GPA, above 35 of 85

That is against the other remote desktop apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Radmin you would be making a fast, secure link to another computer through any network. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for paid remote control of Windows PCs with a one-time licence

Radmin is a remote control program for Windows with encrypted connections, low-bandwidth operation, mass deployment and a bundled VPN. A licence is $49 one time for each remote computer, and larger packages start at 50. It's Windows only, with no Mac, Linux or mobile apps.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Radmin — Graded Nov 12, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	$49 one time per remote computer, under a year of the $10.00 middle subscription for remote access tools. But each remote PC needs its own licence.
Free plan and trial	C	A 30-day free trial of the full version, with no free plan after it. The pages read don't say whether a card is needed.
Features	B	Viewer and Server programs, encrypted connections, low-bandwidth use, mass deployment, unattended administration and Radmin VPN. Nothing in the listing is missing for controlling PCs.
Ease of use	C	No rating on record. You install the server on every remote PC and set it up.
Platforms and integrations	D	Windows only: the download page offers Windows installers and lists no Mac, Linux or mobile apps.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Radmin is for

- ✓ Fits if you control a few Windows PCs and prefer to pay once
- ✓ Works for IT admins deploying to many Windows machines

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you use a Mac, Linux or a phone, as it's Windows only
- ✗ Pricey if you have many computers: Radmin 3 is $49 each, and packages start at 50 for $1,490
- ✗ Tight if you have more than 5 viewers at once, as a Radmin Server accepts 5 connections by default and more need a licence from sales
- ✗ Watch out: the 150-computer package, volume licences of 200 or more and a Help Desk licence with a 50-licence minimum are quoted by sales

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Small IT teams that want a one-time fee instead of a subscription
- ✓ Administrators of Windows servers and PCs on a network
- ✓ Employees who reach an office PC from home

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The download page offers Windows installer packages only; the site does not list Mac, Linux or mobile apps.
- ⓘ Each remote computer needs its own license, so the Standard license costs $49 per PC and larger packages start at 50 computers.
- ⓘ A Radmin Server accepts 5 simultaneous connections by default; more need a 5-client access license from sales.
- ⓘ The 150-computer package and volume licenses of 200 or more are quoted by sales, and the Help Desk license has a 50-license minimum.

What it does

Its main features, where it runs, what it works with and who makes it

1

Place it runs: Windows

Windows remote control software sold as a one-time license per PC. Here is what it does, as its own site describes it, and what it covers: one-time purchase, remote desktop.

> Viewer and Server programs, encrypted connections, low-bandwidth use, mass deployment, unattended administration and Radmin VPN.
> From our grade for features

Viewer and Server programs

A Server is installed on each remote PC and the Viewer, which the vendor says is free, connects to it. A portable Viewer is also offered.

Encrypted connections

Radmin states that all transferred data is protected with 256-bit AES encryption.

Low-bandwidth operation

The site says Radmin is optimized to stay usable on slow links, including 3G connections.

Mass deployment tools

A free deployment utility installs Radmin with preset settings on many PCs, and a deployment package is available to download.

Unattended administration

Maintain unattended computers and servers over a LAN or the internet, update software and switch computers off remotely.

Radmin VPN

A separate free product, Radmin VPN, connects to remote computers behind firewalls and is offered on the download page.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

35/85

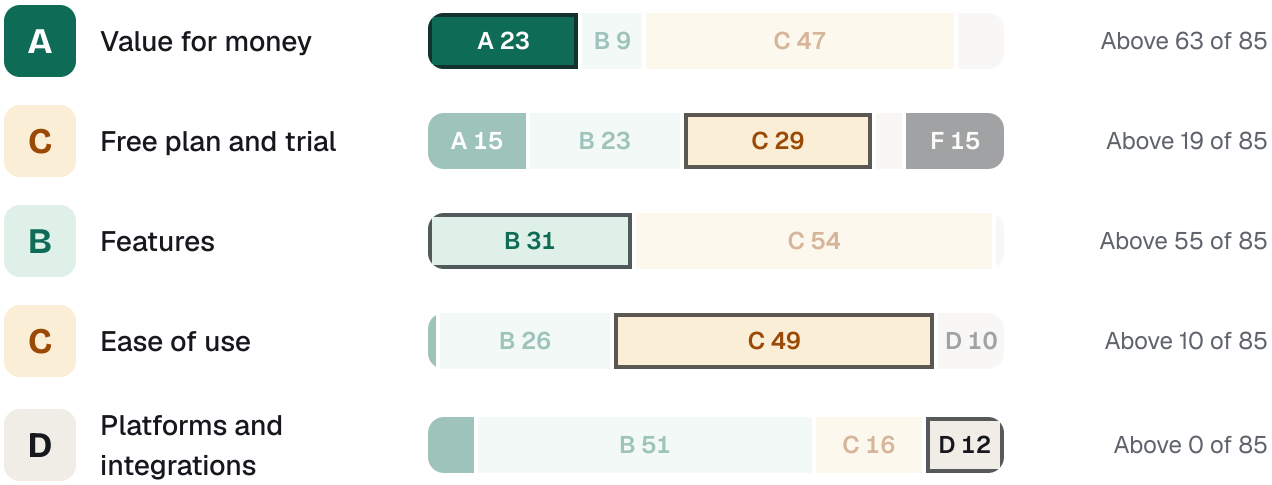

Other remote desktop apps it is graded above

Radmin's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 35 of the 85 other remote desktop apps we grade, and level with 13.

It stands best on value for money (A, above 63 of 85) and worst on platforms and integrations (D, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 86 remote desktop apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Radmin's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Radmin you would be making a fast, secure link to another computer through any network. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $49, paid once.

What you could not

- ✕ A fast, secure link to another computer through any network.
- ✕ A real app for Windows. Something home-made would be a web page.
- ✕ The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Radmin's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
