Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

3.0

GPA, above 34 of the 60 other browsers we grade

Responsively App is a desktop browser for web developers that previews a site on many device sizes side by side, mirroring clicks, scrolls and navigation across them. It is built with Electron, is open source under the AGPL-3.0 license, and is free to download for Mac, Windows and Linux.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Responsively App, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> It uses Chromium, so it will not show you Safari or Firefox behaviour.

From our report card of Responsively App

1 Best for previewing a site on many screen sizes at once

Responsively App is a free open source browser that shows your site on many device sizes at once and mirrors your clicks across them.

2 It is free

Responsively App has no paid plan at all. The whole app is free; its site and GitHub page list no paid plans.

3 It runs on 3 platforms

macOS, Windows and Linux.

4 All devices at once

Many device previews show side by side, so there is no need to resize the dev tools window.

5 Mirrored interactions

A click, scroll or navigation in one preview is repeated in all the others in real time.

6 Preview Suites

Favorite device combinations are saved as Preview Suites and switched between while testing.

7 A 3.0 GPA, above 34 of 60

That is against the other browsers we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

8 Keep it

Responsively App is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

The report card

Best for previewing a site on many screen sizes at once

Responsively App is a free open source browser that shows your site on many device sizes at once and mirrors your clicks across them. It uses Chromium, so it will not show you Safari or Firefox behaviour. It is for developers, not for everyday browsing.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Responsively App	Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	Free and open source, with no paid plans listed.
Free plan and trial	A	The whole app is free, with no paid plans listed on its site or GitHub page.
Features	C	Many device views, mirrored interactions, device profiles and screenshots. It does that job fully, but it is a smaller job than a full developer toolset.
Ease of use	B	No store rating on record. Install it, enter a URL and see the devices.
Platforms and integrations	C	Desktop only: macOS, Windows and Linux. No mobile app and no integrations listed.
Grade point average		Very good, out of 4.0 3.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Responsively App is for

- ✓ Fits if you build responsive sites and want to check many screens at once
- ✓ Works for front-end developers who want a free tool, not a subscription

Who it is not for

- ✗ Not for you if you want a daily browser, as it is a developer tool
- ✗ Skip it if you need Safari or Firefox engines, because it previews with Chromium
- ✗ Watch out: it runs on Mac, Windows and Linux only, with no mobile version
- ✗ Too light for debugging, as it has no extra tools listed beyond an inspector and screenshots

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Front-end developers checking breakpoints across devices
- ✓ Designers reviewing a page at several screen sizes
- ✓ Developers who want a free alternative to paid viewport tools

Worth knowing

- ⓘ It is a developer tool, not a general-purpose daily browser.
- ⓘ It is built on Electron, so it previews sites with Chromium rather than Safari or Firefox engines.
- ⓘ It runs on Mac, Windows and Linux only, with no mobile version.
- ⓘ A beta channel is offered next to the stable release.

From our grade for features

All devices at once

Many device previews show side by side, so there is no need to resize the dev tools window.

Mirrored interactions

A click, scroll or navigation in one preview is repeated in all the others in real time.

Preview Suites

Favorite device combinations are saved as Preview Suites and switched between while testing.

Device profiles

A large collection of device profiles is built in, and custom devices can be added.

Unified Inspector and screenshots

One inspector covers every device, and full-page screenshots of all devices are taken in one click.

Ordinary browser features

Cookie, local storage and session storage management, bookmarks and the usual dev tools are included.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

34/60

Other browsers it is graded above

Responsively App's GPA of 3.0 is higher than 34 of the 60 other browsers we grade, and level with 9.

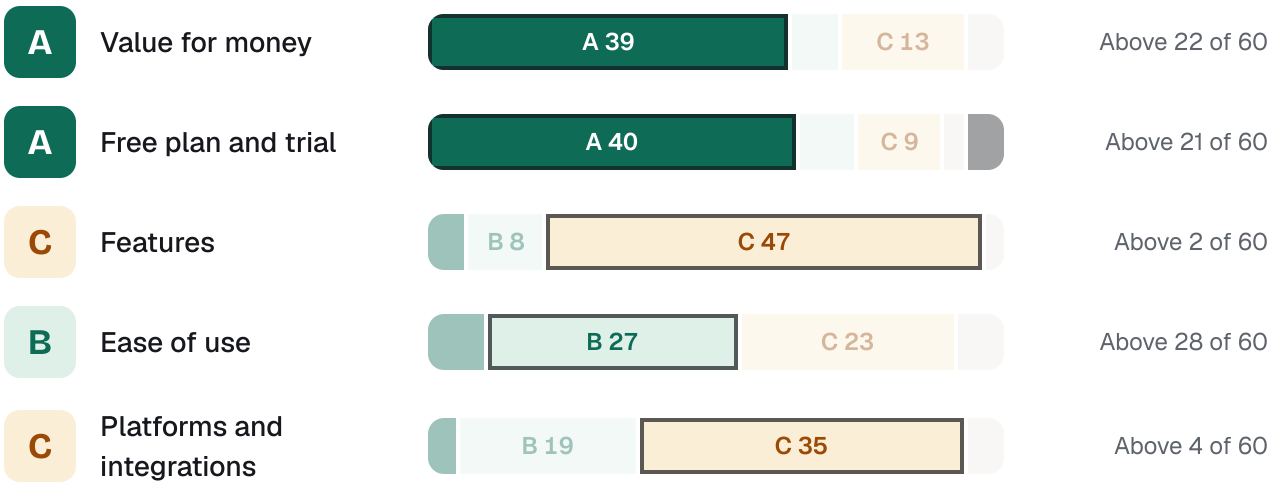

It stands best on value for money (A, above 22 of 60) and worst on features (C, above 2).

Responsively App has no paid plan.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

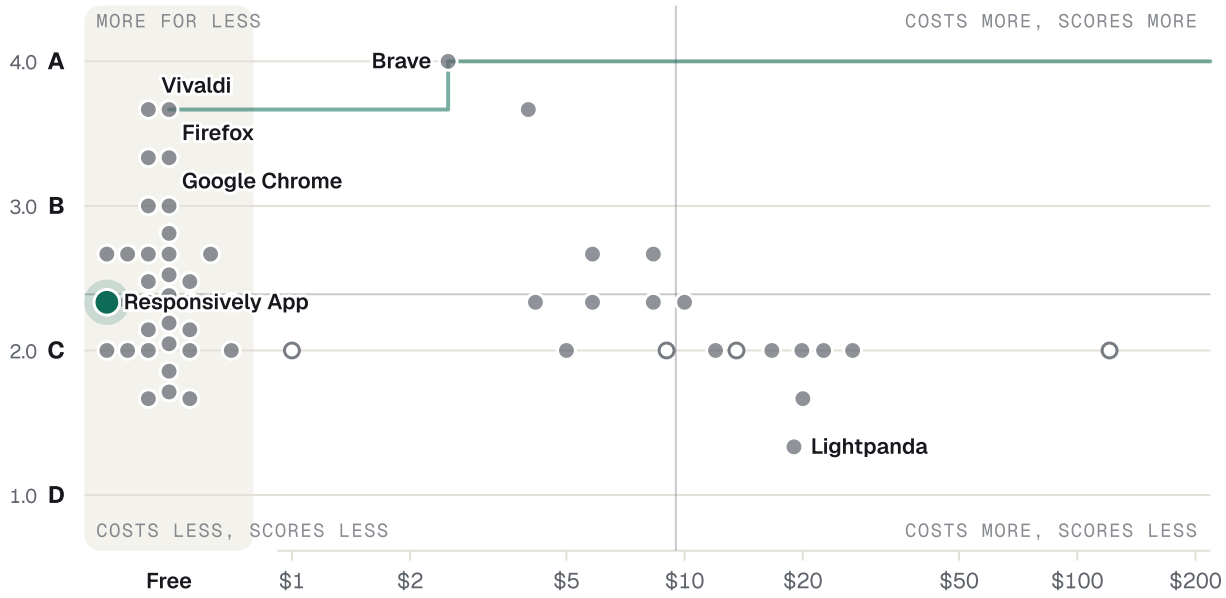

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 61 browsers we grade, cut by the letter each got. Responsively App's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 54 browsers. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Responsively App is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

Responsively App is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

And it is not the kind of software a weekend replaces.

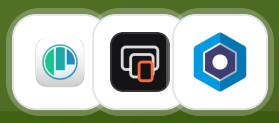

What you could not

- ✕ A web browser.
- ✕ Capture tools hooked into the operating system.
- ✕ Apps for macOS, Windows and Linux that stay in step with each other.

What this rests on. Responsively App's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
