Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 10 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade

Rosebud AI is a browser-based platform where an AI assistant named Rosie builds a playable 2D or 3D game from a plain-language description, including code, art and sound. Games are published as links that run in a browser, and higher plans add private projects, commercial rights and code download. Everything runs on one credit system shared across plans.

> A web app where you describe the game and iterate.
> From our grade for ease of use

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Rosebud AI, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for making browser games from a description

Rosebud AI makes games in the browser from a description, with generated assets, hosting and a code tab.

2 Paid plans start at $15 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $15 per month; billing basis not shown.

3 There is a free plan

10,000 credits per week, hosted games, remixing and basic asset generation. The page says credits refill weekly in eligible regions.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Game from a description

Rosie asks a few questions, then builds a first playable version with code, art and music.

6 Asset generation

Generates images, sprite animations, sounds, 3D models and 360-degree skyboxes, each using credits.

7 Browser hosting and sharing

Games publish as links that play in a browser, and can be posted to X or taken to Steam through a Windows export.

8 A 2.0 GPA, above 10 of 89

That is against the other AI app builders we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Rosebud AI you would be making a tool that builds and hosts other apps. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for making browser games from a description

Rosebud AI makes games in the browser from a description, with generated assets, hosting and a code tab. But a single edit costs about 2,000 credits, commercial rights start at $30 a month, and downloading the code needs the $50 Pro plan.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Rosebud AI — Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Indie Dev is $15 a month, but commercial rights and no Rosebud branding start at 10x Dev at $30, and code download at $50. The billing basis is not shown.
Free plan and trial	C	A free plan with 10,000 credits a week in eligible regions. At about 2,000 credits per edit, that is a handful of edits.
Features	C	Description to game, asset generation, hosting and a code tab. It makes games only, a narrower job than most of the category.
Ease of use	C	A web app where you describe the game and iterate. No store rating is on record.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only. Windows export for Steam is on Pro, with 5 integrations listed.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.0

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Rosebud AI is for

- ✓ Fits if you want to prototype a small browser game from a sentence
- ✓ Works for hobbyists who can live with weekly credits

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you want to sell what you make on the cheap, as commercial rights start at $30 a month
- ✗ Not for you if you need the code, as download and Windows export need Pro at $50
- ✗ Watch out: premium models cost about 20,000 credits an edit, ten times the default
- ✗ Tight if you save credits, as unused monthly ones roll over once and then expire

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Making browser games without coding
- ✓ Developers who want to publish AI-assisted prototypes quickly

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Commercial rights and removal of Rosebud branding start at the 10x Dev plan.
- ⓘ Code download and Windows export need Pro; the code tab on Indie Dev is desktop only.
- ⓘ Unused monthly credits roll over once and then expire; daily and weekly credits do not stack.
- ⓘ A single edit costs roughly 2,000 credits with the default model and about 20,000 with a premium model, so allowances go faster with premium models.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

10/89

Other AI app builders it is graded above

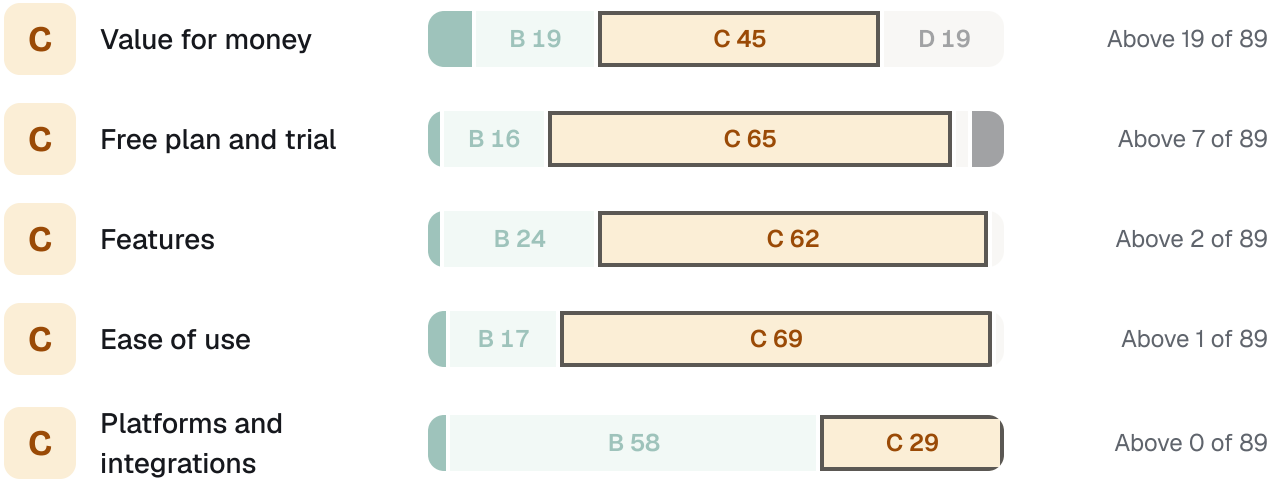

Rosebud AI's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 10 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade, and level with 12.

Its paid plans start at $15 a month, against a middle price of $20 for the category: 19 of the 82 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 15 tools score higher and cost less.

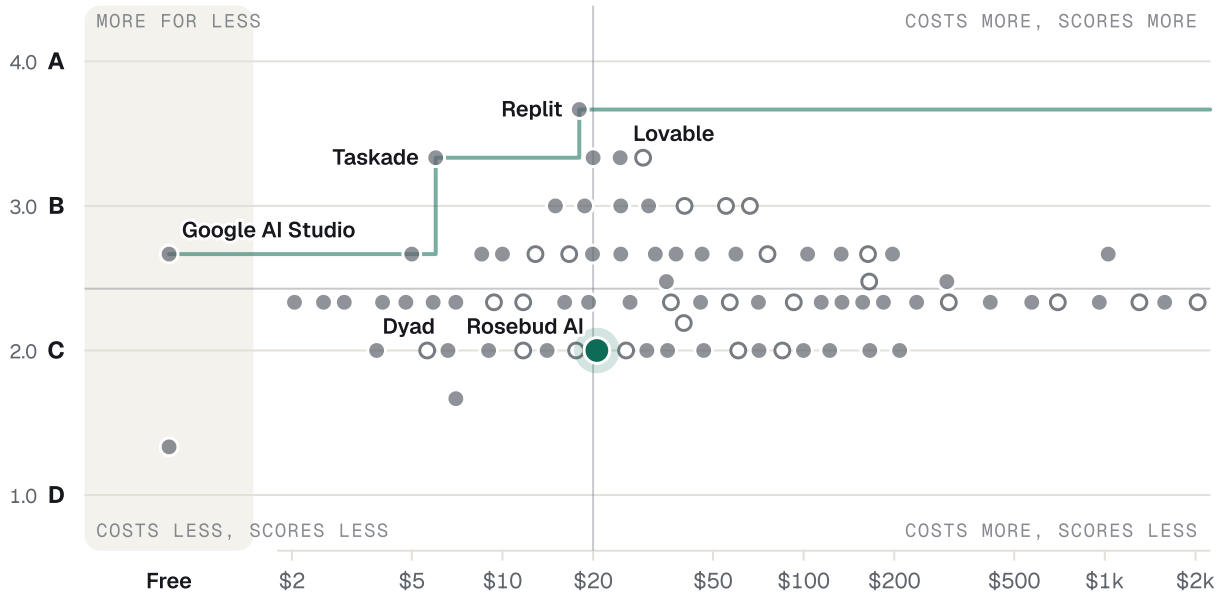

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 90 AI app builders we grade, cut by the letter each got. Rosebud AI's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 85 AI app builders. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Rosebud AI is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Rosebud AI you would be making a tool that builds and hosts other apps. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 67 of the 89 other AI app builders grade higher. It costs $180 a year.

What you could not

- ✕ A tool that builds and hosts other apps.
- ✕ A builder that other people can use without writing code.

- ✕ It plugs into other products, Steam, X and Claude Code among them.
- ✕ AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Rosebud AI's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
