GPA, above 0 of the 66 other read-later and bookmark apps we grade

Save to Notion, now branded Save.to, is a web clipper that sends articles, screenshots and highlighted text to a Notion database. Database properties such as tags, relations and checkboxes can be filled in from inside the extension, and the free plan covers most of that. Paid plans add unlimited forms, uploaded article images and email-to-Notion forwarding.

Who Save to Notion is for

- ✓ Fits if you read later inside your own Notion workspace
- ✓ Works for teams that share clipping forms over one database

Who it is not for

- ✗ Not for you if you do not use Notion, as it saves nowhere else
- ✗ Tight if you want more than 4 forms on the free plan
- ✗ Watch out: Threads and email saves are limited to 3 on free
- ✗ Watch out: saving article images so they outlive the source needs Pro or Team
- ✗ Pricey if you pay monthly, as the pricing page defaults to monthly prices

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Notion users who want a read-later list inside their own workspace
- ✓ People who tag and file pages as they save them
- ✓ Teams sharing clipping forms over a common Notion database

Worth knowing

- ⓘ It saves only to Notion, so it is of little use without a Notion workspace.
- ⓘ The free plan caps forms at 4 and Threads and email saves at 3.
- ⓘ Uploading article images to Notion, so they survive if the source site goes down, needs Pro or Team.
- ⓘ The pricing page shows monthly prices by default; the annual option is advertised at 31% off.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Save to Notion you could make: web clipper, bookmarks, read later and highlights. What surrounds it you could not. The 2 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 61 of the 66 other read-later and bookmark apps grade higher. It costs $71.88 a year.

What you could make

- Web clipper, bookmarks, read later and highlights: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Capture tools hooked into the operating system.
- Databases with views, filters and links between them.

What this rests on. Save to Notion’s listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool’s verdict.
