Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

7 /78

Other e-signature and proposal tools it is graded above

Secured Signing's GPA of 1.8 is higher than 7 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, and level with 11.

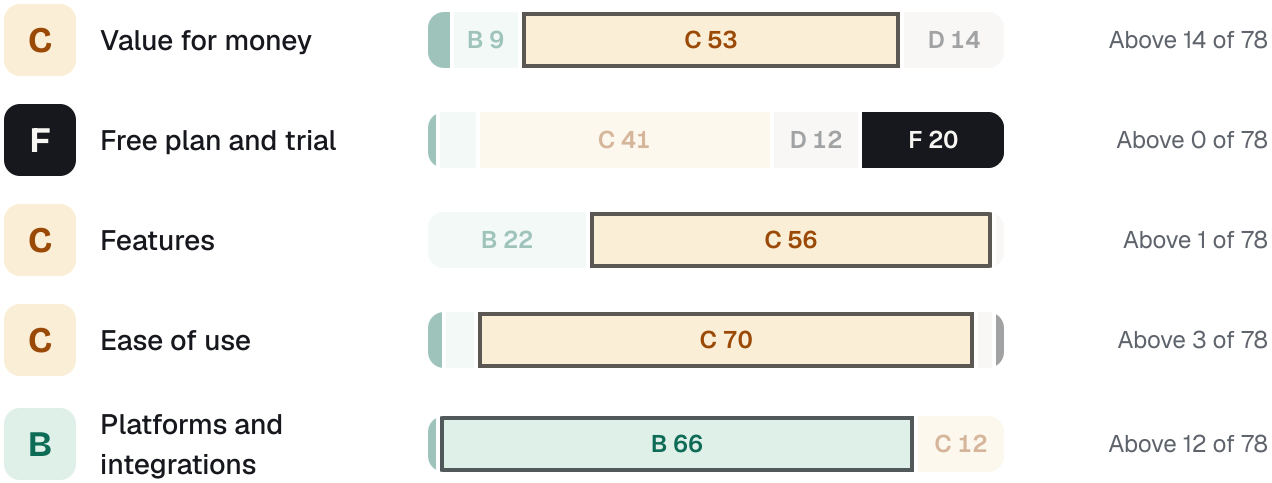

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 12 of 78) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $9.95 a month for each person, against a middle price of $19 for the category: 6 of the 54 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 3 tools score higher and cost less.

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 79 e-signature and proposal tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Secured Signing's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 55 e-signature and proposal tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Secured Signing is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Secured Signing you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 60 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools grade higher. It costs $119.40 a year.

What you could make

- Documents, templates and forms: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: single sign-on.

What this rests on. Secured Signing's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
