Who SecureSafe is for

- ✓ Fits if you want your data kept in Switzerland
- ✓ Makes sense if a family or small team shares safes with per-user access

Who it is not for

- ✕ Watch out: prices show in Swiss francs by default, so dollars need checking
- ✕ Pricey if you also need files, because the Pass plans are per module and files mean a bundle
- ✕ Tight if your team is under 5 or 6 users, since the team plans start there
- ✕ Skip it if you want a desktop password app, as the desktop app is for files
- ✕ Watch out: over 50 users goes through sales

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Families and small teams who want data kept in Switzerland

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

9/49

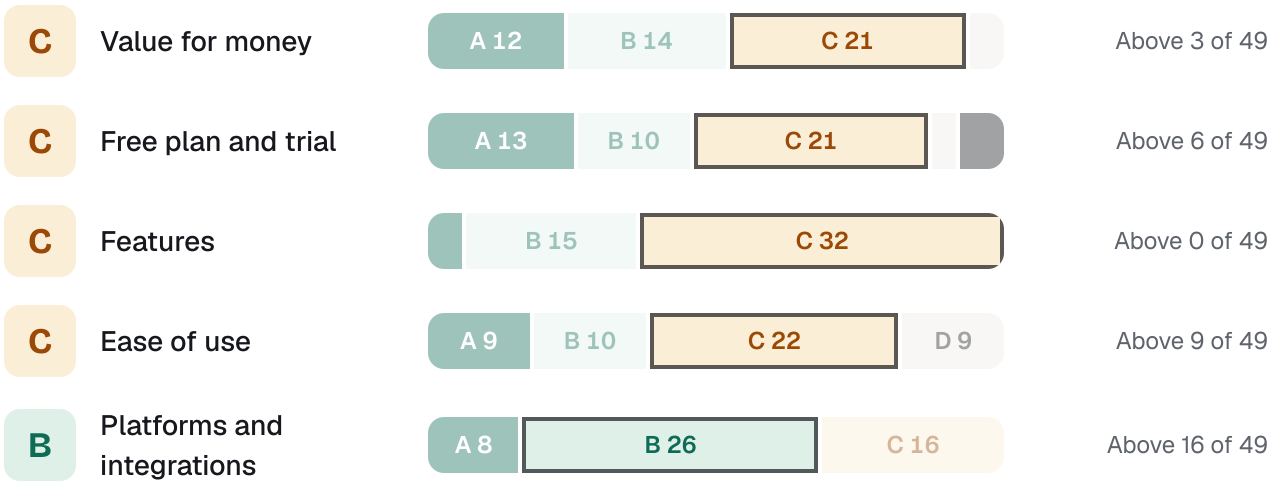

Other password managers it is graded above

SecureSafe's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 9 of the 49 other password managers we grade, and level with 8.

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 16 of 49) and worst on features (C, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 50 password managers we grade, cut by the letter each got. SecureSafe's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace SecureSafe you would be making a password vault, the last thing anyone should make for themselves. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 32 of the 49 other password managers grade higher.

What you could not

- A password vault, the last thing anyone should make for themselves.
- Files kept in step across devices without losing one.
- Storing and serving files for other people.
- Apps for macOS, Windows, iOS and Android that stay in step with each other.

What this rests on. SecureSafe's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
