PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

5/122

Other web hosts it is graded above

Servebolt's GPA of 1.6 is higher than 5 of the 122 other web hosts we grade, and level with 23.

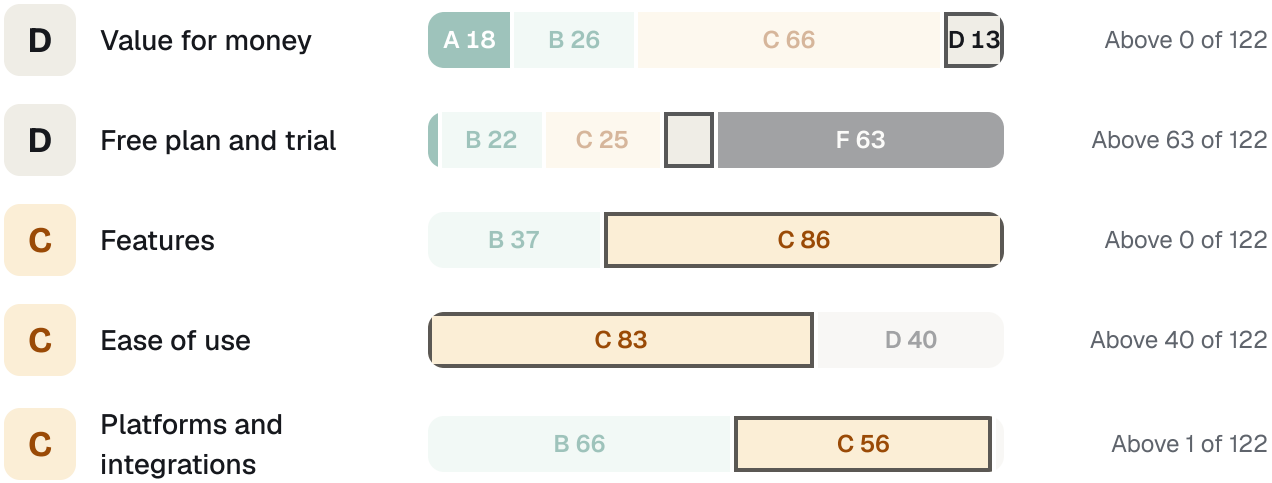

It stands best on ease of use (C, above 40 of 122) and worst on value for money (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $99 a month, against a middle price of $9.69 for the category: 102 of the 107 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 58 tools score higher and cost less.

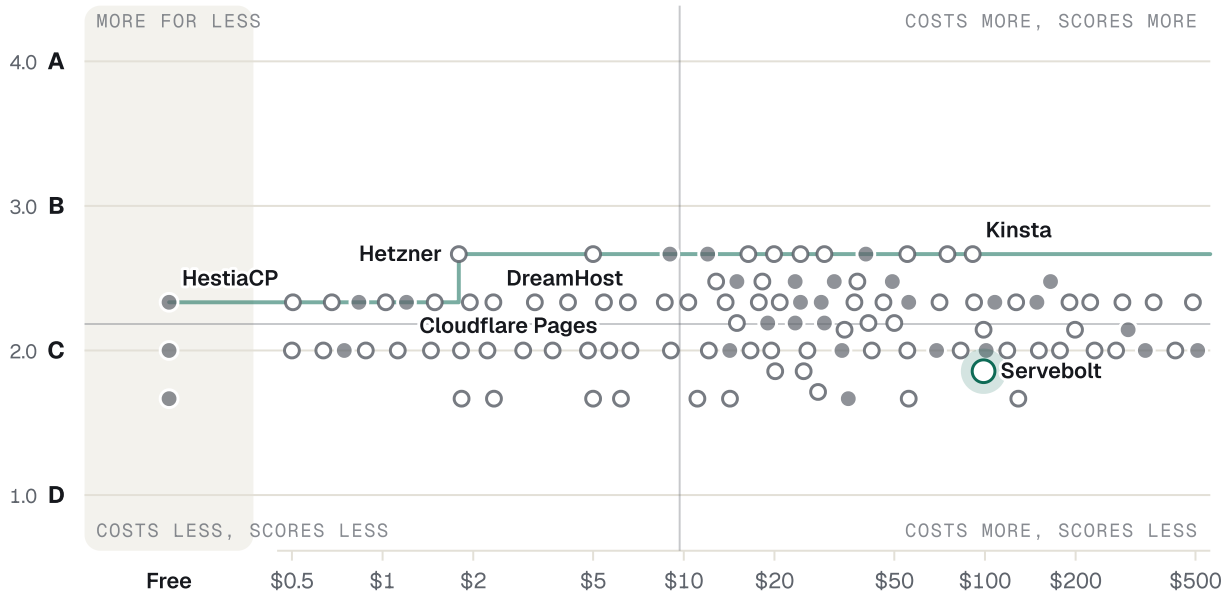

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 123 web hosts we grade, cut by the letter each got. Servebolt's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 111 web hosts. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Servebolt is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Servebolt you would be making servers kept running, patched and backed up for you. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 94 of the 122 other web hosts grade higher. It costs $1,188 a year.

What you could not

- ✕ Servers kept running, patched and backed up for you.
- ✕ Speed tests run from real browsers on a schedule.

- ✕ It plugs into other products, Cloudflare among them, and has an API.

What this rests on. Servebolt's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
