Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 31 of the 87 other field service apps we grade

ServicePower is an enterprise field service platform for brands, warranty providers and service companies that run their own technicians, outside contractors or both. It covers scheduling and route optimization, work orders, a consumer self-service portal, contractor compliance and analytics. Pricing is quoted by sales.

To get you started, here are 7 things to know about ServicePower, taken from its own pages and our grades.

>
> An enterprise rollout has a lot to configure.
>
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for field teams that mix employees and contractors

ServicePower is field service software for scheduling and routing, with tools to manage contracted technicians.

2 It runs on Web

Web.

3 Scheduling and route optimization

Assigns jobs by skill, location, rating and parts availability, and updates routes during the day. Live map views show all routes and job sites.

4 Contracted workforce management

Onboards and credentials outside contractors, selects them per job, handles contractor reimbursement and tracks compliance.

5 Customer self-service portal

A brandable portal where consumers schedule, reschedule or cancel appointments, with job status, estimated arrival time and two-way texting.

6 A 2.0 GPA, above 31 of 87

That is against the other field service apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

7 Keep it

To replace ServicePower you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who ServicePower is for

- ✓ Fits if you run a large team that mixes employed and contracted technicians
- ✓ Works for service brands that want a customer self-service portal

Who it is not for

- ✕ Not for you if you run a small trade business, as it is aimed at enterprise
- ✕ Watch out: no price is published
- ✕ Skip it if you want to try it first, since no trial is listed
- ✕ Watch out: Vision AI and analytics are add-on modules

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Manufacturers and warranty providers that dispatch to contractor networks
- ✓ Large teams that mix employed technicians and outside contractors

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No prices are published; each package is quoted by sales.
- ⓘ Employed workforce pricing is per technician or adjuster; contracted workforce pricing is per transaction or service event.
- ⓘ Aimed at enterprise service operations, not small trade businesses.

What it costs

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

31/87

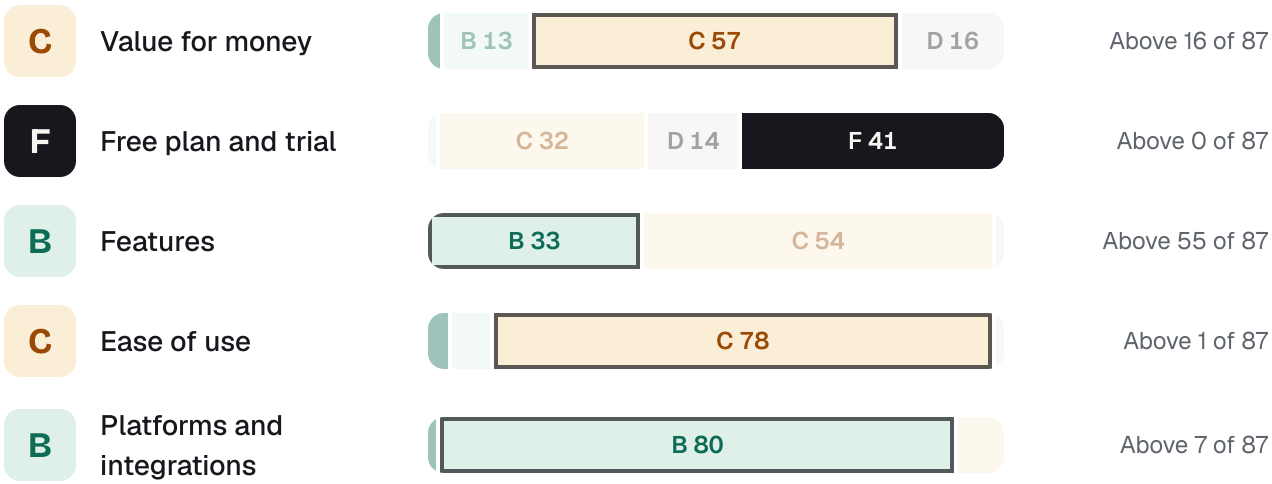

Other field service apps it is graded above

ServicePower's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 31 of the 87 other field service apps we grade, and level with 23.

It stands best on features (B, above 55 of 87) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 88 field service apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. ServicePower's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace ServicePower you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

What you could make

- Job scheduling and reports: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. ServicePower's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
