Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 38 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade

Sign.net is a browser-based signing platform from Sign Pte Ltd that records each signed document on a blockchain so third parties can check what was signed, by whom and when. It offers a free personal plan, a flat-fee Business plan with reusable templates and team users, and an API as a quoted add-on.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Sign.net, taken from its own pages and our grades.

Templates and a branded page need setting up.

From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for signing with blockchain notarization on a free starter plan

Sign.net signs documents and notarizes each one on a blockchain.

2 Paid plans start at $29 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $29 per month.

3 There is a free plan

Starter plan: unlimited signing and sending, 5 reusable templates and 2 organization users.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Blockchain notarization

Signing actions are recorded on a blockchain so clients, counterparties and auditors can independently verify a document.

6 Audit trail and certificate

Each signed document comes with an audit trail and a signing certificate.

7 Reusable templates

Template URL sharing and submission reports show activity across all documents generated from a template.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 38 of 78

That is against the other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Sign.net you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for signing with blockchain notarization on a free starter plan

Sign.net signs documents and notarizes each one on a blockchain. Starter is free with 5 templates and 2 users, but Business is $29 a month for 2 users, extra users are $10 each, and the 45-day trial charges your card at the end.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Sign.net — Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Business is $29 a month for 2 users; for a team of five with 3 extra seats it comes to about $59, or roughly $12 a head.
Free plan and trial	B	Starter is free with unlimited signing and sending, 5 templates and 2 users. The 45-day Business trial charges your card when it ends.
Features	C	Blockchain notarization, audit trail, templates and automations. The API and an external repository are quoted on request.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. Templates and a branded page need setting up.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only, with no integrations listed and no phone apps.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Sign.net is for

- ✓ Fits if you sign alone or with one other person and want to stay free
- ✓ Works for teams that want a blockchain record of each signed file

Who it is not for

- ✕ Tight if you need more than 5 templates or 2 users, since extra templates are $3 and users $10 a month
- ✕ Skip it if you want the API, which is quoted on request
- ✕ Watch out: the Business trial runs 45 days and the card is charged when it ends
- ✕ Watch out: cancelling means emailing the vendor, which says it replies within 72 hours

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Small teams that want a flat monthly fee with unlimited sending
- ✓ Users who need documents that third parties can verify independently
- ✓ Corporate secretarial and similar firms collecting client signatures

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The Business plan is priced for 2 organization users; each extra user is $10 a month and each extra template $3 a month.
- ⓘ API service, an external repository and enterprise authentication are quoted on request.
- ⓘ Cancelling is done by emailing the vendor, which says it replies within 72 hours.
- ⓘ The pricing page offers 10% off for annual prepayment, but only the $29 monthly price is shown.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

38/78

Other e-signature and proposal tools it is graded above

Sign.net's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 38 of the 78 other e-signature and proposal tools we grade, and level with 19.

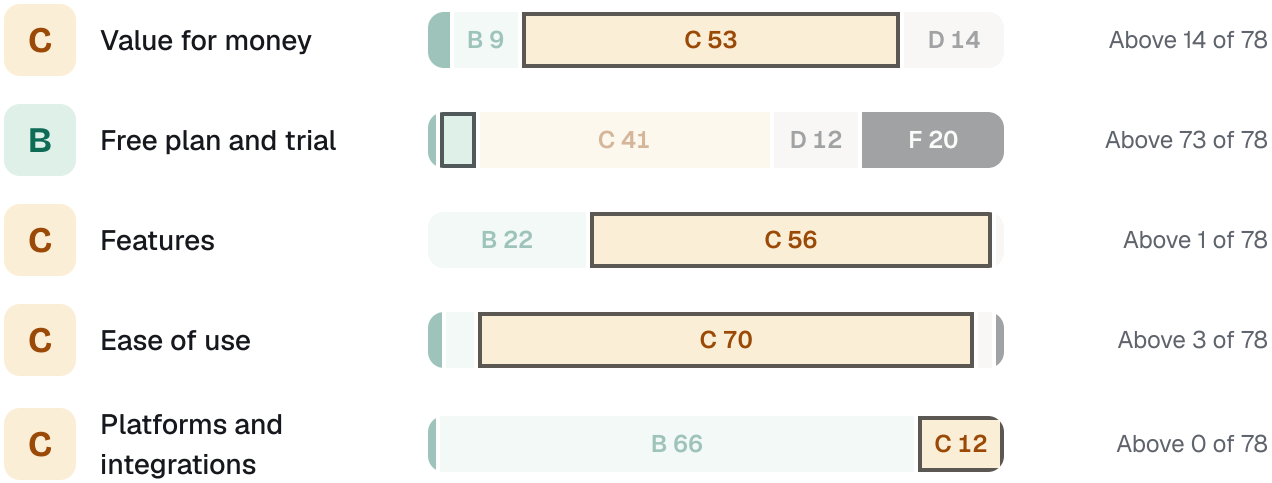

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 73 of 78) and worst on platforms and integrations (C, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $29 a month, against a middle price of $19 for the category: 40 of the 54 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 34 tools score higher and cost less.

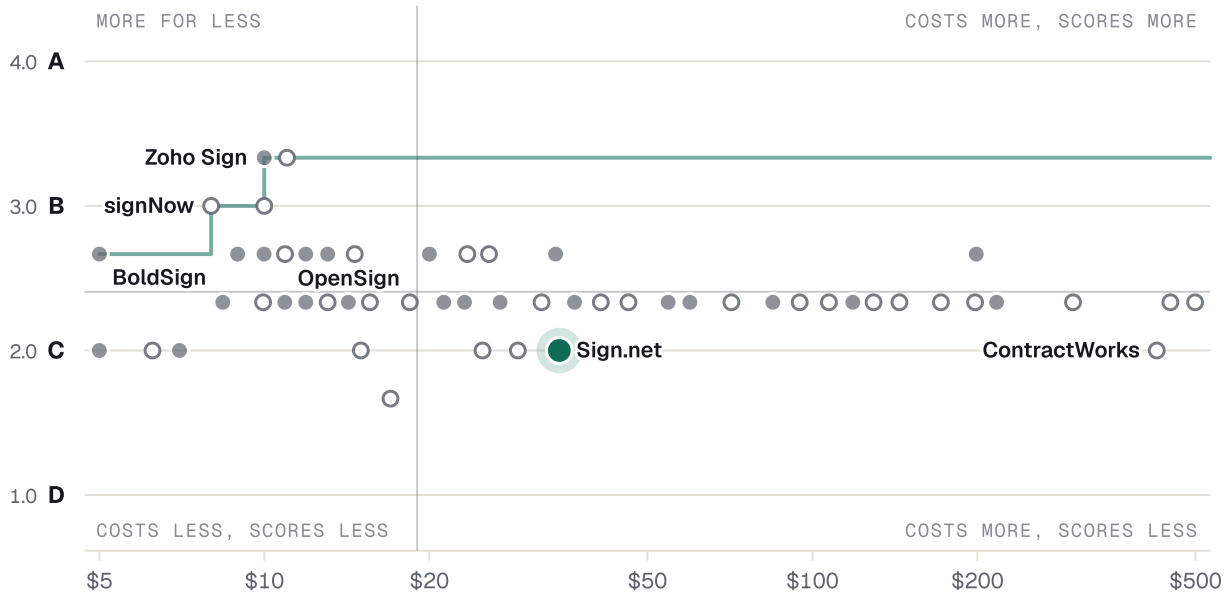

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 79 e-signature and proposal tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Sign.net's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 55 e-signature and proposal tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Sign.net is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Sign.net you would be making connections to other products, each kept working as those products change. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $348 a year.

What you could make

- Documents and templates: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.

What this rests on. Sign.net's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
