Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

11/114

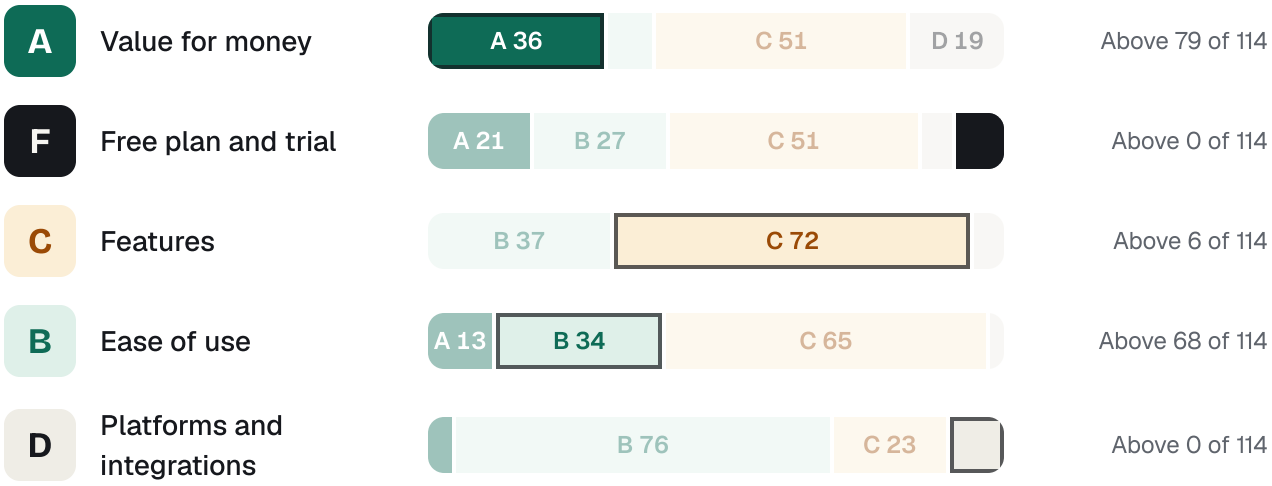

Other calendar and scheduling apps it is graded above

Simple Calendar Pro's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 11 of the 114 other calendar and scheduling apps we grade, and level with 10.

It stands best on value for money (A, above 79 of 114) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 115 calendar and scheduling apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Simple Calendar Pro's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Your call

A calendar at its plainest is events on a grid.

You could make the core of Simple Calendar Pro for yourself: calendar. What you would give up is listed below. Whether that is worth the price is your call. At $2.99, paid once, it costs less than the weekend it would take to replace, which is the argument for keeping it. Simple Calendar Pro is open source, so there is a third way: take its code and run it yourself.

What you could make

- Calendar: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- A real app for Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- Hooks into the device itself: widgets.

What this rests on. Simple Calendar Pro's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
