Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 9 of the 75 other team communication apps we grade

Standup Jack is a Slack bot that asks each teammate a few standup questions at a time they choose, then posts everyone's answers to a channel on weekdays. Standups, questions, times and participants are changed by messaging the bot inside Slack.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Standup Jack, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for daily standups inside Slack

Standup Jack is a Slack bot that asks each person for a daily update by direct message and posts the team's answers.

2 Paid plans start at $1 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $1 per user / month after a 14-day trial.

3 You can try it first

14 days free; after that the bot hibernates until you upgrade or remove it.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Daily update prompts

Jack messages each person at the time they picked and asks a few questions about their day.

6 Team post

On weekdays Jack posts everyone's responses to the Slack channel chosen for the standup, including private groups after an invite.

7 Custom questions and schedule

Add, change or delete questions, pick weekdays, and change the update time or standup channel by messaging Jack.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 9 of 75

That is against the other team communication apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Standup Jack you would be making chat that a whole team counts on staying up. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD

Standup Jack

Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	A	$1 a user a month, under 60% of the $3 the cheaper quarter of team chat tools charge.
Free plan and trial	C	14 days free, then the bot stops until you upgrade. No free plan. The listing does not say whether a card is needed.
Features	D	One narrow job, standups, and it needs Slack to run at all. Custom questions, time zones and vacations are covered.
Ease of use	C	No rating on record. You add the bot to Slack and set it up by chatting with it.
Platforms and integrations	C	Slack only. The FAQ says other chat systems are not supported yet.

Grade point average Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Standup Jack is for

- ✓ Fits if your team lives in Slack and wants a written daily update
- ✓ Works for remote teams spread across time zones

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you do not use Slack, as no other chat system is supported
- ✗ Tight if you want a free plan, since the bot hibernates after 14 days
- ✗ Too light for anything beyond standups, with no tasks or goals
- ✗ Watch out: setup and changes happen by chatting with the bot, not in a dashboard

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Remote teams on Slack that want written standups instead of meetings
- ✓ Small teams that want a flat per-user price
- ✓ Managers who want updates collected in one channel

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Works only inside Slack; the FAQ says other chat systems are not supported yet.
- ⓘ There is no free plan: after 14 days the bot stops until you upgrade.
- ⓘ Set up and changes happen by chatting with the bot, not through a separate dashboard.

On weekdays Jack posts everyone's responses to the Slack channel chosen for the standup, including private groups after an invite.

Custom questions and schedule

Add, change or delete questions, pick weekdays, and change the update time or standup channel by messaging Jack.

Time zone support

Jack reads the time zone in each person's Slack profile so a 10am prompt is not sent in the middle of the night.

Vacation handling

Setting a Slack status such as OOO, PTO or sick stops prompts while the person is away.

Multiple standups per team

Create separate standups with their own participants, questions and posting channel.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

9/75

Other team communication apps it is graded above

Standup Jack's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 9 of the 75 other team communication apps we grade, and level with 19.

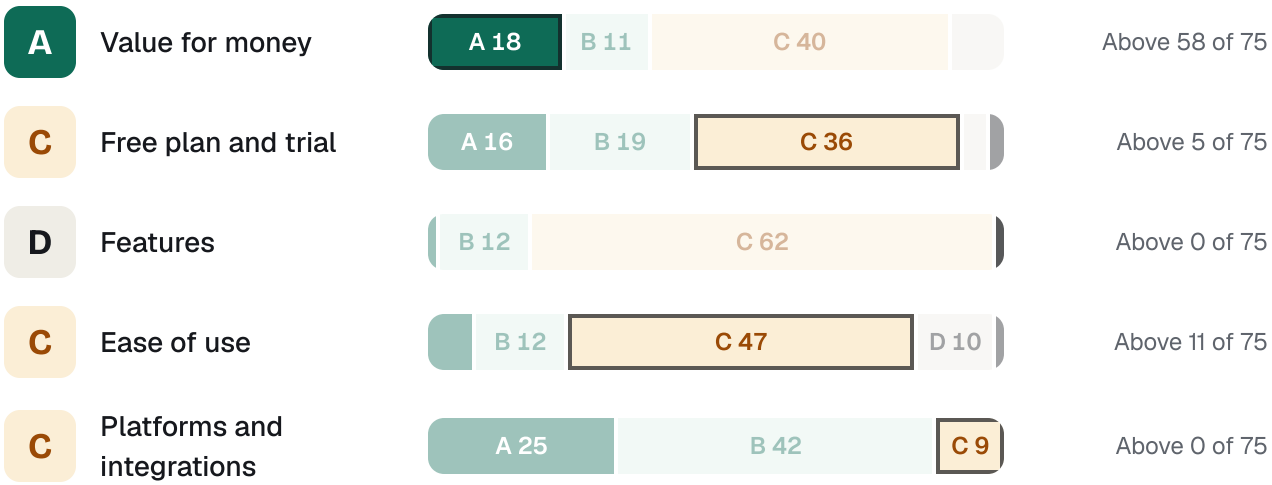

It stands best on value for money (A, above 58 of 75) and worst on features (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $1 a month for each person, against a middle price of $6.90 for the category: 0 of the 51 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 1.7 out of 4. 12 tools score higher and cost less.

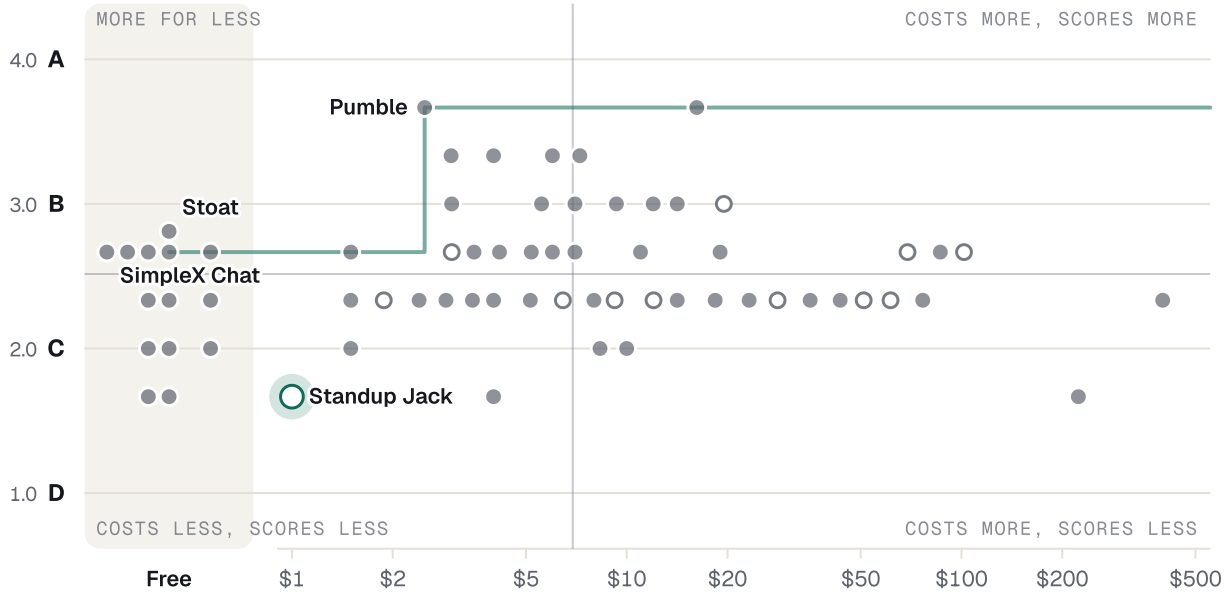

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 76 team communication apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Standup Jack's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 66 team communication apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Standup Jack is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Standup Jack you would be making chat that a whole team counts on staying up. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 47 of the 75 other team communication apps grade higher. It costs $12 a year.

What you could make

- Reports: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- Chat that a whole team counts on staying up.

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.

What this rests on. Standup Jack's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
