Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 81 of the 178 other AI agents we grade

Superagent is a security product for teams that ship code written with AI agents. It scans pull requests, tests applications and packages for exploitable weaknesses, checks which dependency vulnerabilities actually affect an app, and screens what agents read or do. Findings are sent into the coding agents and workflows a team already uses.

> You connect repositories and coding agents before any result appears.
> From our grade for ease of use

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Superagent, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for security checks for AI-written code

Superagent scans pull requests, tests apps for exploitable weaknesses and screens what AI agents do.

2 Paid plans start at $499 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $499 per month for 500 credits.

3 There is a free plan

Unlimited use on public repositories, plus a free plan with 100 private-repository credits per month.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 PR scanning

Checks code changes, dependencies and contributors before a pull request is merged. Costs 1 credit per scan.

6 Red teaming

Investigates applications, code, agents and packages for exploitable weaknesses and produces a report, at 500 credits per report.

7 Dependency validation

Tests which dependency vulnerabilities affect an application and verifies fixes on Dependabot and Renovate pull requests. 5 credits per private investigation; public ones are free.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 81 of 178

That is against the other AI agents we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Superagent you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for security checks for AI-written code

Superagent scans pull requests, tests apps for exploitable weaknesses and screens what AI agents do. Public repositories are free and private ones get 100 credits a month, but paid plans start at $499.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	Superagent	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	D	Starter is $499 a month, far past the category's $150 dearest-tenth start, and a single red-team report uses all 500 of its credits.
Free plan and trial	B	Public repositories are free with no credit limit, and the free plan gives 100 credits a month for private ones. One person could live on that.
Features	C	PR scanning, red teaming, dependency checks and guardrails, but the site now describes a security product, so it fits the agents category only loosely.
Ease of use	C	No rating on record. You connect repositories and coding agents before any result appears.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web product with API and MCP, linked to GitHub, Cursor, Claude Code, Codex, Dependabot and Renovate. No desktop or phone app.
Grade point average		Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Superagent is for

- ✓ Fits if you maintain open-source code on public repositories
- ✓ Works for teams shipping AI-written code that want pull requests scanned

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you go past free: Starter is $499 a month for 500 credits
- ✗ Tight if your code is private: 100 credits a month, and a red-team report costs 500
- ✗ Skip it if you want a general agent, as the site describes a security tool
- ✗ Watch out: annual billing gives 20% more credits, and the page says nothing about a price change

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Teams merging AI-written code that want automated security review
- ✓ Open-source maintainers, since public repositories are free
- ✓ Teams that route findings into coding agents such as Cursor or Claude Code

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Paid plans start at $499 per month; the first step below that is the free plan's 100 private credits.
- ⓘ A single red teaming report costs 500 credits, which is the whole Starter allowance.
- ⓘ The site now describes a security product, not a general-purpose AI agent, so it fits the agents category only loosely.
- ⓘ Whether annual billing changes the price or only the credits is not spelled out beyond 20% more credits on annual paid plans.

> From our grade for platforms and integrations

PR scanning

Checks code changes, dependencies and contributors before a pull request is merged. Costs 1 credit per scan.

Red teaming

Investigates applications, code, agents and packages for exploitable weaknesses and produces a report, at 500 credits per report.

Dependency validation

Tests which dependency vulnerabilities affect an application and verifies fixes on Dependabot and Renovate pull requests. 5 credits per private investigation; public ones are free.

Context and runtime guardrails

Context guardrails screen external content before an agent reads or installs it; runtime guardrails block supported risky agent actions using rules evaluated on each host.

Security-One-27B model

A security decision model that scores security events and returns probabilities an application can use to route decisions.

API and MCP access

Every plan includes API and MCP access, and a security graph in the dashboard lets agents share evidence and review decisions through MCP.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

81/178

Other AI agents it is graded above

Superagent's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 81 of the 178 other AI agents we grade, and level with 41.

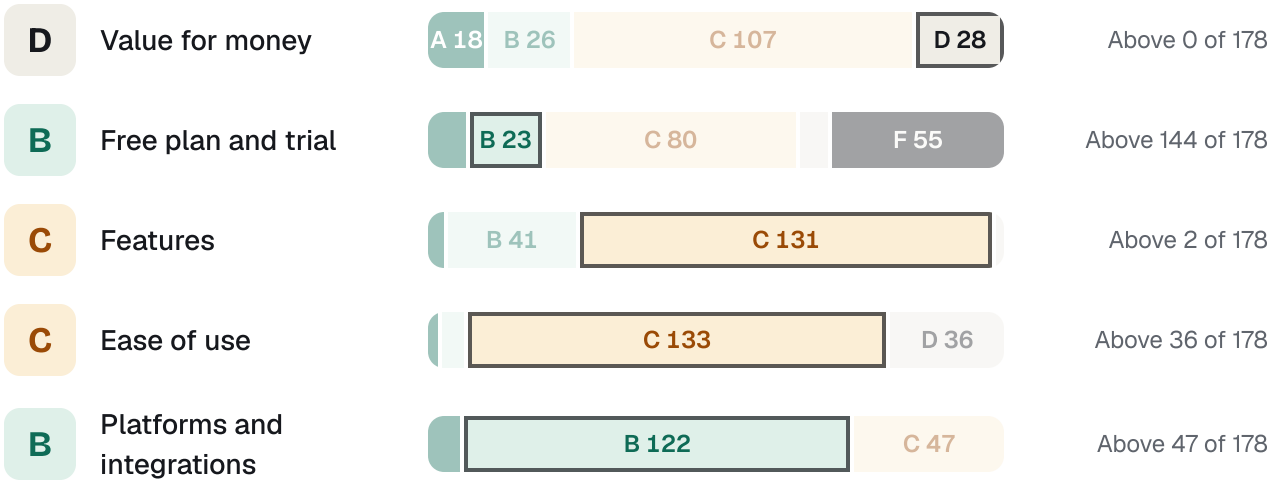

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 144 of 178) and worst on value for money (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $499 a month, against a middle price of $25 for the category: 94 of the 98 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 37 tools score higher and cost less.

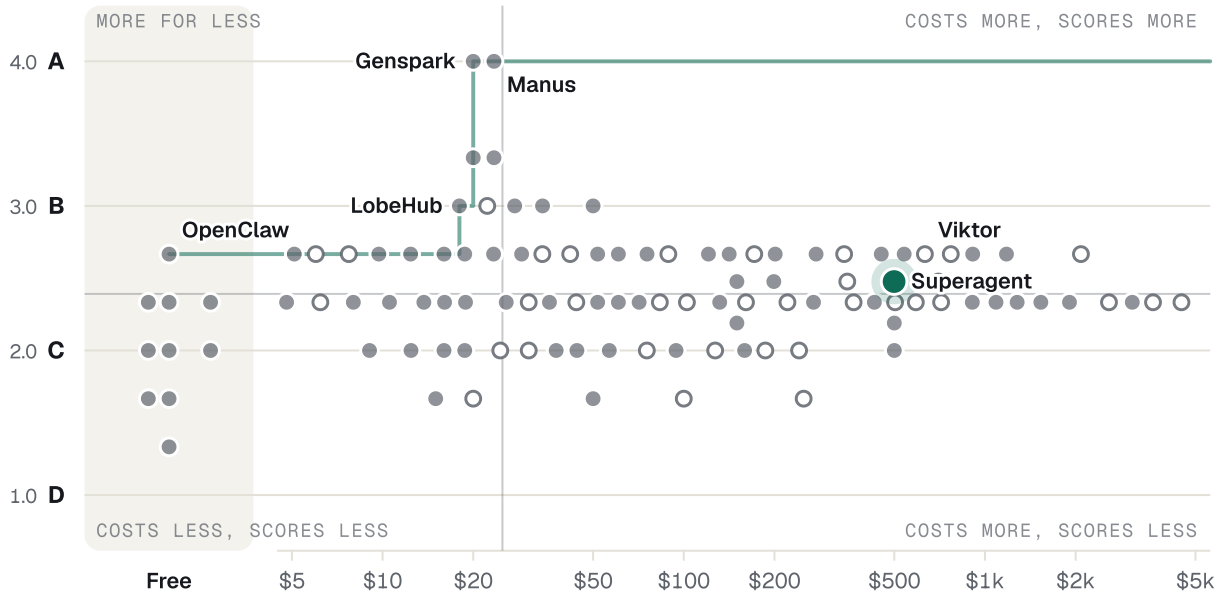

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 179 AI agents we grade, cut by the letter each got. Superagent's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 109 AI agents. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Superagent is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Superagent you would be making an AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It costs $5,988 a year.

What you could make

- Reports: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- An AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it.

- ✕ It plugs into other products, GitHub, Cursor and Claude Code among them, and has an API.

What this rests on. Superagent's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
