Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

14/56

Other antivirus apps it is graded above

It stands best on value for money (B, above 46 of 56) and worst on features (D, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $1.67 a month when paid by the year, against a middle price of $4.17 for the category: 4 of the 34 others that charge start lower.

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 57 antivirus apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. SUPERAntiSpyware's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 36 antivirus apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. SUPERAntiSpyware is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace SUPERAntiSpyware you would be making an engine that recognises new malware as it appears. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 31 of the 56 other antivirus apps grade higher. It costs $19.99 a year.

What you could make

- Ad and tracker blocking: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- An engine that recognises new malware as it appears.

- A real app for Windows. Something home-made would be a web page.

What this rests on. SUPERAntiSpyware's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
