Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 9 of the 75 other team communication apps we grade

Swit combines team chat channels with task and project management in one workspace. Messages can be turned into tasks, task cards can be shared into channels, and several workspaces can be managed under one organization. Optional plug-ins add AI features, automation, approvals, goals and guests.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Swit, taken from its own pages and our grades.

Best for team chat with tasks and projects in the same place

Swit puts chat channels and task boards in one app, with messages that turn into tasks. The cheap Startup plan is sold as 25 fixed seats at $450 a year, plug-ins cost extra and it is cloud only. If you are a team of five, that floor or the $6 Growth plan is what you will really pay.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

- ✕ Pricey if you want automation at $99, or approvals, goals and guests at $5 a person each

- ✕ Tight if you stay free, with the hub only, 5 integrations and 1 year of history

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

9/75

Other team communication apps it is graded above

Swit's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 9 of the 75 other team communication apps we grade, and level with 19.

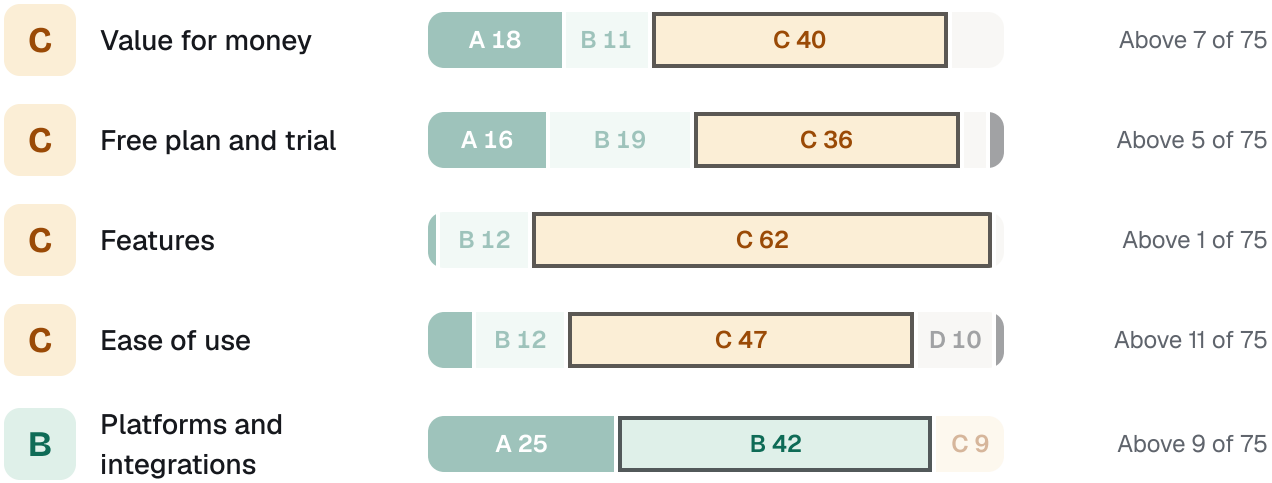

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 9 of 75) and worst on features (C, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $1.50 a month for each person, against a middle price of $6.90 for the category: 1 of the 51 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 6 tools score higher and cost less.

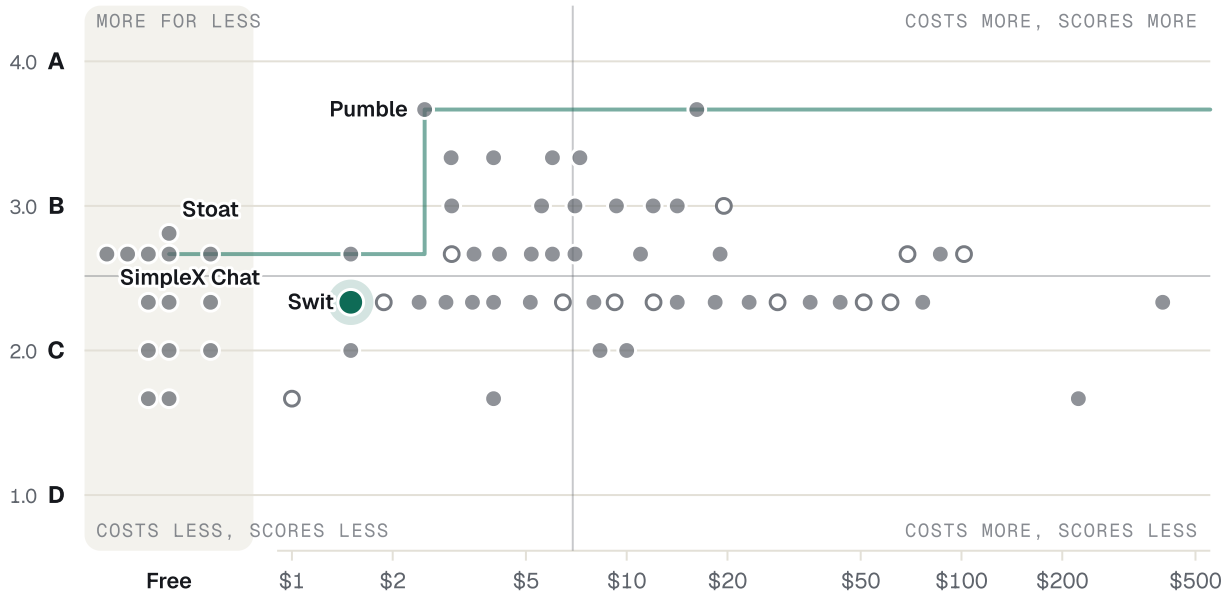

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 76 team communication apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Swit's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 66 team communication apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Swit is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Swit you would be making chat that a whole team counts on staying up. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 47 of the 75 other team communication apps grade higher. It costs $18 a year.

What you could make

- Tasks, kanban boards and goals: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Chat that a whole team counts on staying up.

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- Apps for macOS, Windows, iOS and Android that stay in step with each other.
- It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Swit's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
