Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

1.8

GPA, above 5 of the 63 other spreadsheet and database tools we grade

TeamDesk is a browser-based database builder from ForeSoft Corporation. Databases can start from a template, from scratch or from an imported spreadsheet, with forms, reports, access rights and workflow automation added without coding. Plans are flat monthly fees that include a set number of users, and every database begins with a 14-day trial.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about TeamDesk, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for small-business databases on a flat monthly fee

TeamDesk is a browser database builder that starts from a template or an imported spreadsheet, with forms, reports and access rights.

2 Paid plans start at $49 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $49 per month for up to 5 users.

3 You can try it first

14-day free trial for each database

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Templates, scratch builds or spreadsheet import

A database can start from a pre-built template, be designed from scratch, or be created by importing a spreadsheet.

6 Forms for data entry

Records are added, edited and viewed through forms, and form layout can change depending on the values of certain fields.

7 Graphical reports

Advanced reports can be saved from the relational data, filtered and shown in graphical form.

8 A 1.8 GPA, above 5 of 63

That is against the other spreadsheet and database tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace TeamDesk you would be making a builder that other people can use without writing code. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for small-business databases on a flat monthly fee

TeamDesk is a browser database builder that starts from a template or an imported spreadsheet, with forms, reports and access rights. Tables, records and storage are unlimited on every edition. But the cheapest edition is $49 a month and stops at 5 users, there is no free plan, and it runs in a browser only.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD

TeamDesk

Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	D	$49 a month is the floor, for up to 5 users. Split five ways that is $9.80 a head, but one person still pays $49, against $29 at the dearer quarter of spreadsheet tools.
Free plan and trial	C	A 14-day trial for each database. The listing doesn't say whether a card is needed, and there is no free plan after it.
Features	C	Forms, reports, role-based access and workflow automation, with unlimited tables and records. It is a database builder, so the work is designing your own tables.
Ease of use	C	A web app where you build the database yourself, and no store rating is on record. Importing a spreadsheet gets you started, but the forms and reports are still yours to set up.
Platforms and integrations	C	Web only, and the listing names no native apps and no integrations.

Grade point average Weak, out of 4.0 1.8

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who TeamDesk is for

- ✓ Fits if five or fewer of you want a shared database in place of a spreadsheet
- ✓ Works for teams of up to 10 that would rather pay a flat fee than a price per seat

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you're working alone, since $49 a month is the price of entry
- ✗ Tight if you want no cost at all: the only free time is a 14-day trial per database
- ✗ Pricey if you need more than 5 users, because Starter can't take extra users and Team starts at $99
- ✗ Watch out: unlimited databases, rebranding and extra security are Enterprise only, at $249 a month
- ✗ Not for you if you want a phone or desktop app, as none are listed

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Small businesses replacing an Excel or Access file with a shared database
- ✓ Teams of 5 to 10 that prefer a flat monthly fee over per-seat pricing
- ✓ Companies that want unlimited records and storage without tiers

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No permanent free plan; each database gets a 14-day trial, then needs a paid edition.
- ⓘ Starter is capped at 5 users and cannot take extra user packs.
- ⓘ Unlimited databases, rebranding and enhanced security are Enterprise-only, at $249 a month.
- ⓘ The site describes the product as running through a web browser; it lists no native apps.

What it does

Its main features, where it runs, what it works with and who makes it

1

Place it runs: Web

Online database builder for business data, started from a spreadsheet. Here is what it does, as its own site describes it, and what it covers: databases, templates, workflow automation, no-code, forms, reports.

> Forms, reports, role-based access and workflow automation, with unlimited tables and records.
> From our grade for features

Templates, scratch builds or spreadsheet import

A database can start from a pre-built template, be designed from scratch, or be created by importing a spreadsheet.

Forms for data entry

Records are added, edited and viewed through forms, and form layout can change depending on the values of certain fields.

Graphical reports

Advanced reports can be saved from the relational data, filtered and shown in graphical form.

Access rights

Role-based restrictions control what each user can see and change, so one database can serve concurrent users with different access.

Workflow automation

TeamDesk says it automates daily data management tasks, and the same database can be shared with users under set access rights.

Flat, user-pack pricing

Tables, records and storage are unlimited on every edition; only the user count and Enterprise-only features differ.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

5/63

Other spreadsheet and database tools it is graded above

TeamDesk's GPA of 1.8 is higher than 5 of the 63 other spreadsheet and database tools we grade, and level with 2.

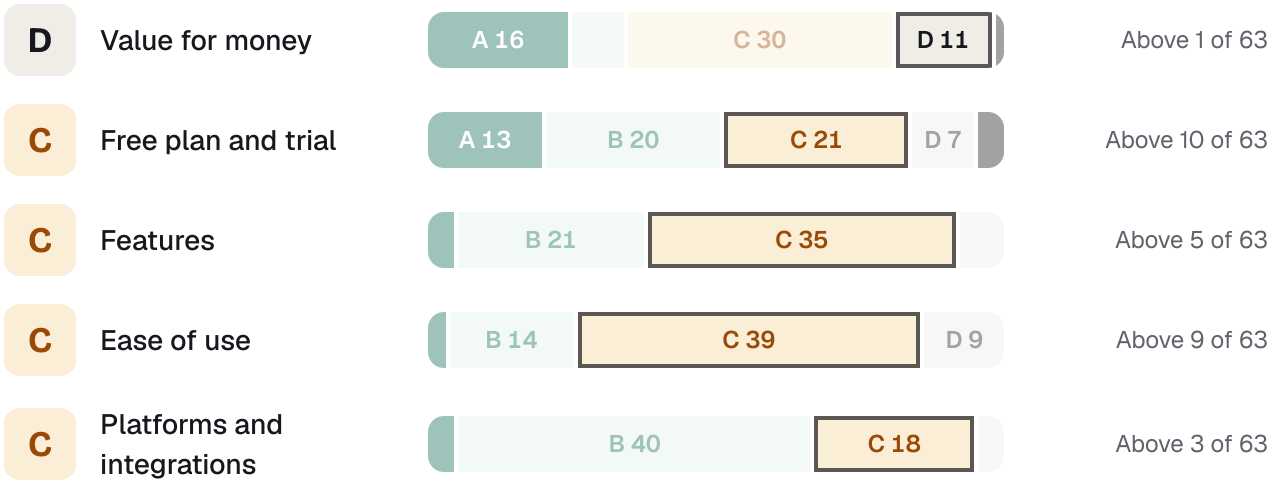

It stands best on free plan and trial (C, above 10 of 63) and worst on value for money (D, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $49 a month, against a middle price of $12 for the category: 41 of the 47 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.0 out of 4. 37 tools score higher and cost less.

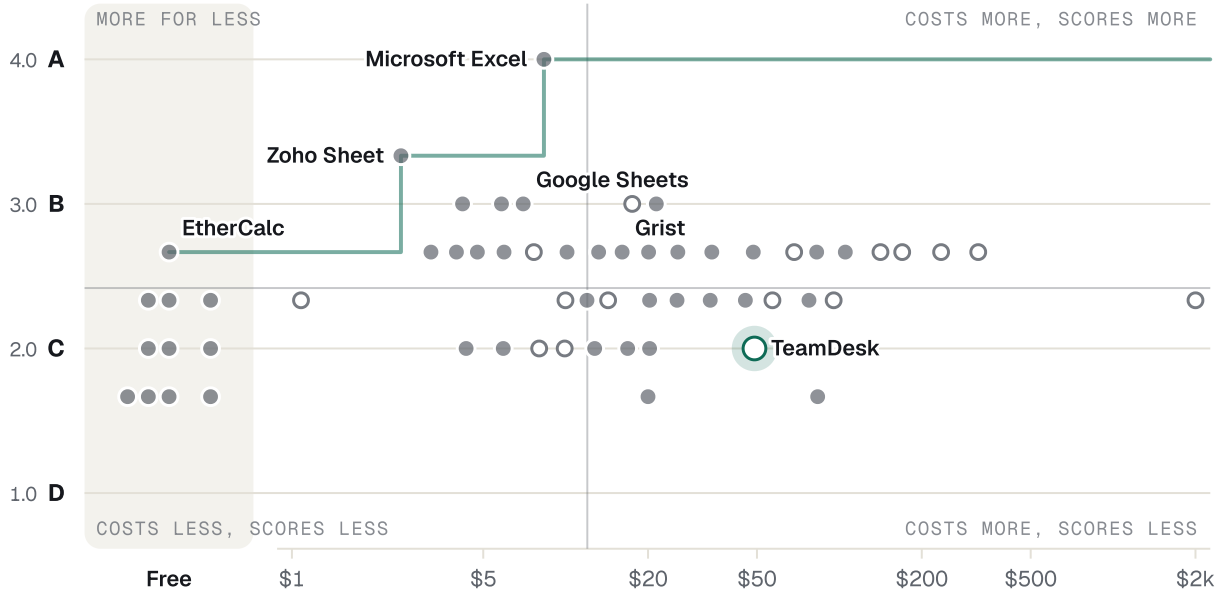

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 64 spreadsheet and database tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. TeamDesk's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 59 spreadsheet and database tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. TeamDesk is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace TeamDesk you would be making a builder that other people can use without writing code. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 56 of the 63 other spreadsheet and database tools grade higher. It costs $588 a year.

What you could make

- Forms, reports and templates: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- A builder that other people can use without writing code.

- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- Databases with views, filters and links between them.
- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: roles and permissions.
- Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.

What this rests on. TeamDesk's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
