Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.2

GPA, above 35 of the 136 other writing tools we grade

TeXPage is a browser-based LaTeX editor with real-time collaboration, cloud compilation, version history and a formula editor. A free plan is offered; paid tiers raise collaborator counts, compile time limits and AI credits.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about TeXPage, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for a LaTeX editor in the browser with AI help

TeXPage is a web LaTeX editor with real-time collaboration, cloud compiling and AI proofreading.

2 Paid plans start at $5 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $5 per month (Standard).

3 There is a free plan

1 collaborator per project, 30-second compile limit, trial AI credits and 2 saved versions per project.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Real-time collaboration

Several people edit together, or work asynchronously, with review comments and track changes.

6 Cloud compilation

Compiles on hosted servers with instant preview; the compile time limit depends on the plan.

7 AI tools

Credits cover proofreading, paraphrasing, debugging, a LaTeX assistant and formula recognition.

8 A 2.2 GPA, above 35 of 136

That is against the other writing tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

The plain part of TeXPage you could make: templates and documents. What surrounds it you could not. The 3 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

The report card

Best for a LaTeX editor in the browser with AI help

TeXPage is a web LaTeX editor with real-time collaboration, cloud compiling and AI proofreading. The free plan has 1 collaborator and a 30-second compile limit, and the paid plans are priced "per month" yet sold as one-time purchases with no term shown.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD TeXPage Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Standard is $5, Professional $9 and Ultimate $19, each priced per month but sold one-time. The page does not say how long a purchase lasts.
Free plan and trial	C	Free allows 1 collaborator a project, a 30-second compile limit, trial AI credits and 2 saved versions a project.
Features	C	Collaboration, cloud compile, AI tools and editing helpers. The compile limit on free is a real gap for long documents.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. LaTeX has a learning curve.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web only, with GitHub and Zotero. No desktop or phone app.
Grade point average		Fair, out of 4.0 2.2

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who TeXPage is for

- ✓ Fits if you write LaTeX papers and want AI proofreading in the editor
- ✓ Works for a pair of authors on one document with Zotero references

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you stay free: 30-second compiles, 1 collaborator and 2 saved versions
- ✗ Watch out: prices say per month but are one-time purchases, and the term is not shown
- ✗ Pricey if you work in a group, because more than 2 collaborators needs Professional at $9
- ✗ Not for you if you want an app: only a browser version is listed
- ✗ Watch out: organization pricing is by contact only

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Students and researchers who want a hosted LaTeX editor
- ✓ Teams that need longer compile times than a free tier gives

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The page lists prices 'per month' but says plans are one-time purchases that do not renew automatically; the term length is not shown.
- ⓘ The free plan limits compile time to 30 seconds and projects to 1 collaborator.
- ⓘ Organization pricing is by contact only.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

35/136

Other writing tools it is graded above

TeXPage's GPA of 2.2 is higher than 35 of the 136 other writing tools we grade, and level with 23.

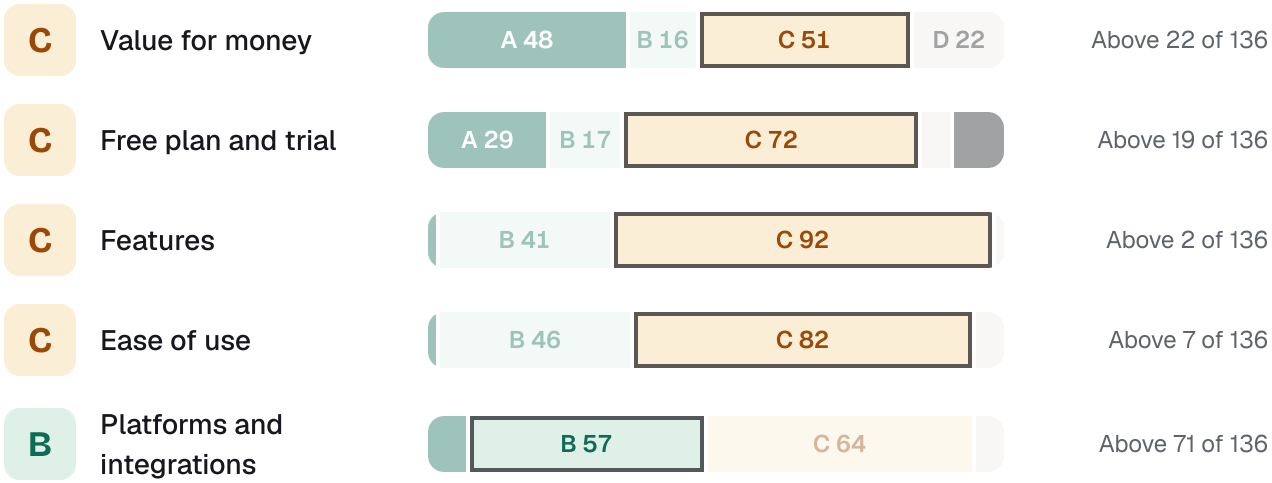

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 71 of 136) and worst on features (C, above 2).

Its paid plans start at $5 a month, against a middle price of $8.66 for the category: 14 of the 81 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 13 tools score higher and cost less.

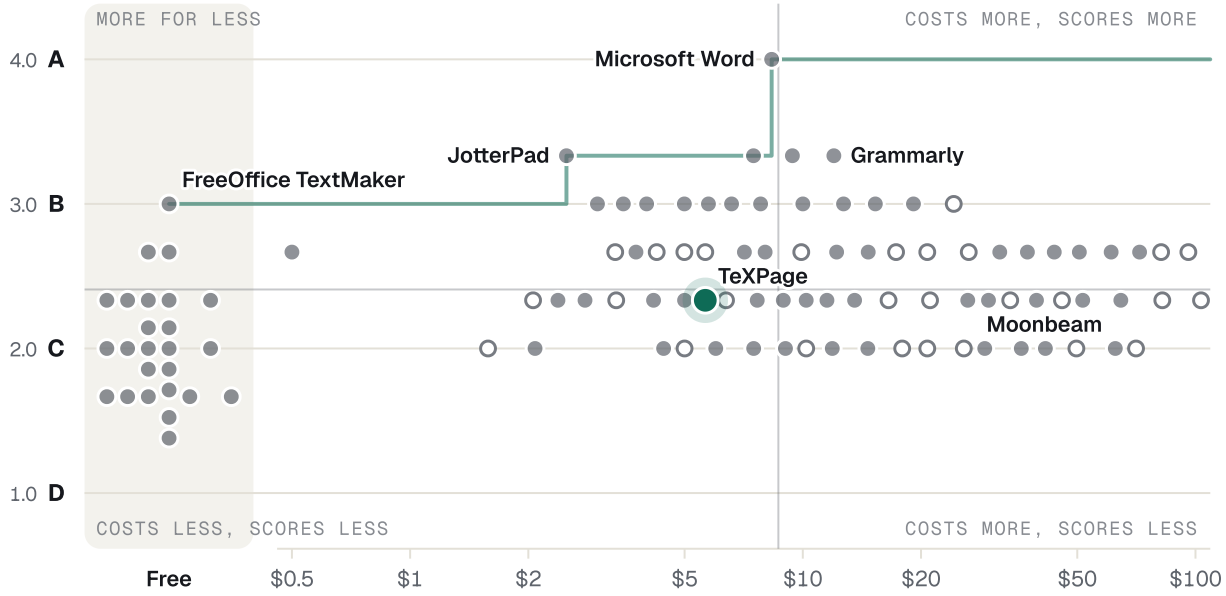

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 137 writing tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. TeXPage's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 107 writing tools. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. TeXPage is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of TeXPage you could make: templates and documents. What surrounds it you could not. The 3 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 78 of the 136 other writing tools grade higher. It costs $60 a year.

What you could make

- Templates and documents: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Citation records for millions of papers.

- Several people working in it at the same moment.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. TeXPage's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
