Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 25 of the 69 other time tracking apps we grade

Timestamp is a web-based timesheet, expense and invoicing tool made by the UK company Red Sequence. Teams log time and expenses against clients, projects and tasks, then track cost, revenue and profitability. It charges only for users who log time or expenses in a billing cycle, so occasional contractors cost nothing in a quiet month.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Timestamp, taken from its own pages and our grades.

> The paid plans are priced in pounds, there is no mobile app on record, and integrations are limited to five add-ons.
> From our report card of Timestamp

1 Best for a free timesheet and invoice tool for one person

Timestamp tracks time, expenses and invoices in a web app, free for one user on four projects.

2 Paid plans start at about $6.70 a month

As its pricing page puts it: £5 per month for 1 user.

3 There is a free plan

Free plan for 1 user: 4 projects, with invoices and expenses.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 Time and expense tracking

Simple timesheets and expense entries for staff, including contractors and temporary workers, against clients, projects and tasks.

6 Project profitability

Track cost, revenue and profitability in real time for each project, and review what the team has logged.

7 Invoices

Create invoices from tracked time and expenses; the Xero add-on imports contacts and users and lets you create invoices in Timestamp.

8 A 2.4 GPA, above 25 of 69

That is against the other time tracking apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

The plain part of Timestamp you could make: time tracking, expense tracking, invoicing, reports and tasks. What surrounds it you could not. The 2 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD — Timestamp — Graded Nov 12, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Solo is £5 a month for one user, close to the middle of time tracking at $6.67, with a free plan for one user alongside.
Free plan and trial	B	Free plan for 1 user with 4 projects, invoices and expenses, which one freelancer could live on.
Features	C	Time, expenses, invoices and profitability, but integrations are limited to five add-ons with others marked as coming soon.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. Clients, projects and rates have to be set up first.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web only on every device, with 5 integrations on record and no phone app named.

Grade point average — Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Timestamp is for

- ✓ Fits if you are a freelancer who needs hours and invoices in one place
- ✓ Works for a small team paying a flat price per 10 or 30 users

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you have more than 4 projects, as the free plan stops there
- ✗ Skip it if you want a phone app, as none is named
- ✗ Watch out: prices are in pounds and teams over 30 have to get in touch
- ✗ Watch out: other integrations are marked as coming soon

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Freelancers and tiny teams that want a free or £5 starting plan
- ✓ Businesses with occasional contractors who should not cost a full seat
- ✓ UK teams that use Xero, FreeAgent or Office 365 alongside time tracking

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The free plan covers 1 user and 4 projects.
- ⓘ Prices are in pounds sterling and the page names no mobile app; it describes a web app that works on all devices.
- ⓘ Integrations are limited to the five add-ons listed; others are marked as coming soon.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

25/69

Other time tracking apps it is graded above

Timestamp's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 25 of the 69 other time tracking apps we grade, and level with 16.

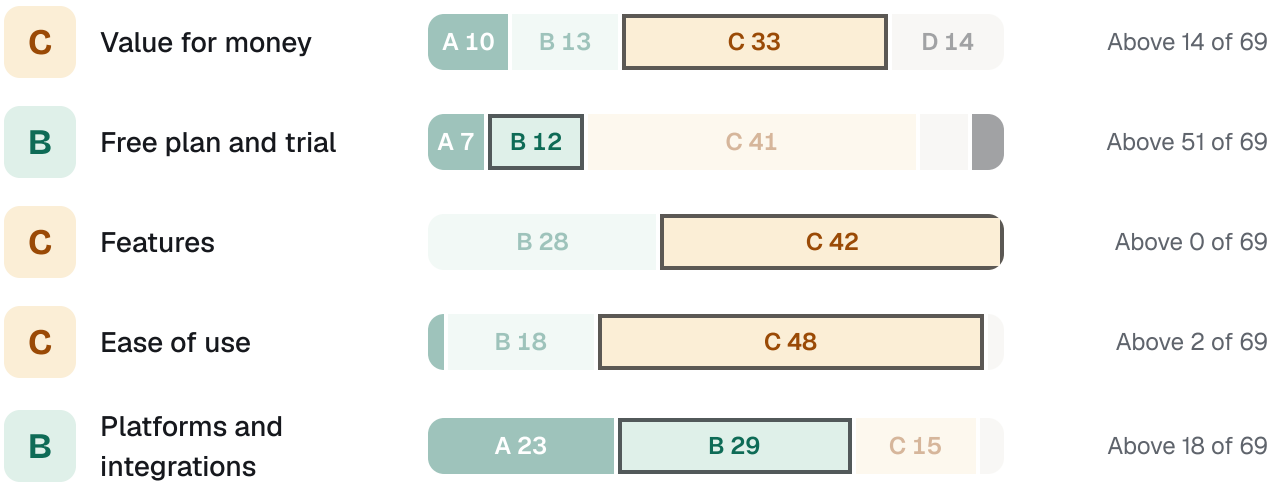

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 51 of 69) and worst on features (C, above 0).

Its paid plans start at about $6.70 a month, against a middle price of $6.70 for the category: 29 of the 58 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 18 tools score higher and cost less.

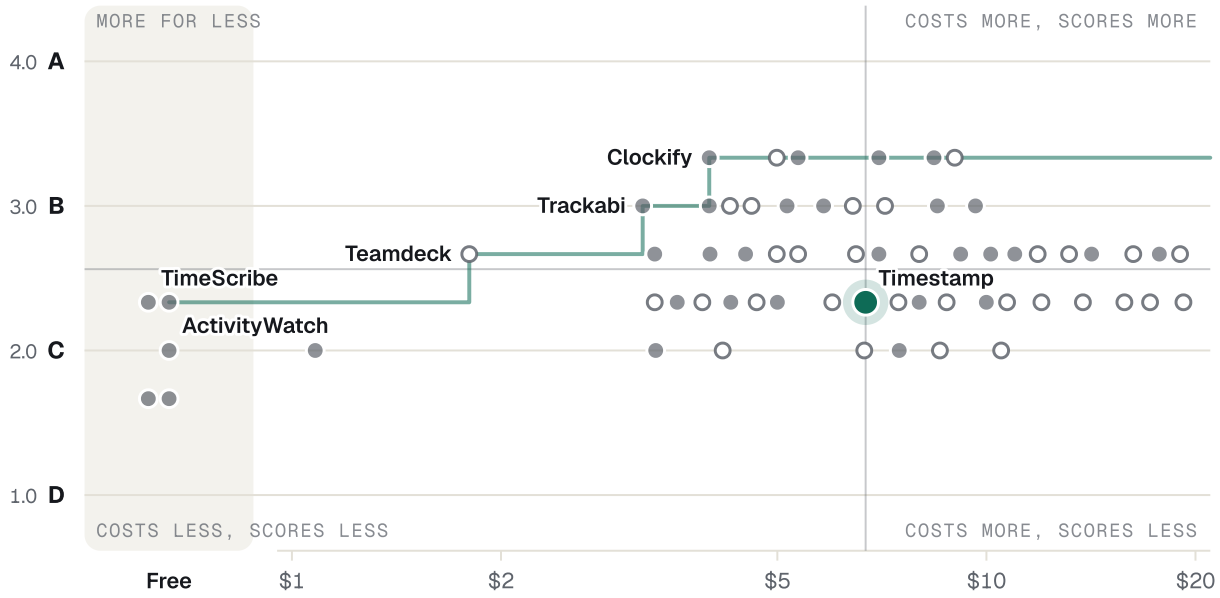

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 70 time tracking apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Timestamp's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 64 time tracking apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Timestamp is the marked dot.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Timestamp you could make: time tracking, expense tracking, invoicing, reports and tasks. What surrounds it you could not. The 2 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

It costs $80.39 a year.

What you could make

- Time tracking, expense tracking, invoicing, reports and tasks: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- It plugs into other products, Office 365, Google Apps and FreeAgent among them.

- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: single sign-on.

What this rests on. Timestamp's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
