Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.6

GPA, above 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade

ToolJet is a low-code platform for building internal tools and business apps, with a visual app builder, a built-in database, workflow automation and an agent builder. It is sold as Cloud or self-hosted plans priced per builder, and a free Community Edition is published as open-source code. AI credits cover in-product app generation and fixing.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about ToolJet, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for internal tools with a visual builder, cloud or self-hosted

ToolJet is a low-code builder for internal tools, with a built-in database, workflows and an agent builder.

2 Paid plans start at $23 a month

As its pricing page puts it: $23 per builder / month, billed annually ($29 billed monthly).

3 There is a free plan

2 builders, up to 50 end users, 10 apps and 100 AI credits a month. The Community Edition can also be self-hosted for free.

4 It runs on Web

Web.

5 App builder with AI generation

Internal apps are assembled visually, and the AI features generate pages, queries, UI edits and database tables, and fix errors.

6 Data connections

The platform page says it connects to 100+ databases, APIs and SaaS tools, and it has a built-in database based on PostgreSQL.

7 Workflows and agents

A node-based workflow canvas and an agent builder automate business processes; the pricing page marks some workflow features as self-hosted only.

8 A 2.6 GPA, above 67 of 89

That is against the other AI app builders we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace ToolJet you would be making a tool that builds and hosts other apps. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

The report card

Best for internal tools with a visual builder, cloud or self-hosted

ToolJet is a low-code builder for internal tools, with a built-in database, workflows and an agent builder. The free plan covers 2 builders and 50 end users, but prices are per builder, the cheaper plans stop at 50 end users, and bringing your own AI keys is Enterprise only.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD	ToolJet	Graded Nov 13, 2026
SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	Basic is $23 per builder a month yearly, $29 monthly, between the middle and the dearer quarter. Pro is $79 and Team $199 per builder.
Free plan and trial	B	A free plan with 2 builders, 50 end users, 10 apps and 100 AI credits a month, plus a Community Edition to self-host. One small team could stay on it.

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Features	B	A builder with AI generation, data connections, workflows, agents, governance and self-hosting. The listing names no gap in the job, only plan limits.
Ease of use	C	A web builder where the work is building the apps. No store rating on record.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web with GitHub, Claude Code, Codex, Cursor and PostgreSQL, plus data connections.
Grade point average		Good, out of 4.0 2.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who ToolJet is for

- ✓ Fits if a small team wants internal tools and can live within 50 end users
- ✓ Works for developers who want to self-host the open-source edition

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you add builders, as every one is $23 to $199 a month
- ✗ Tight if you grow: Basic and Pro stop at 50 end users, and Team at 100
- ✗ Skip it if you want to use your own LLM keys, as that is Enterprise only
- ✗ Watch out: AI credits reset each cycle, and extra ones are $1 per 100

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Engineering teams building internal tools and admin panels
- ✓ Companies that need to host on their own infrastructure
- ✓ Small teams that can start on the free plan

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Prices are per builder, and the cheaper plans cap end users at 50 (Team 100); more users need an Enterprise quote.
- ⓘ AI credits reset each billing cycle, and extra credits are $1 per 100 or arranged through the vendor.
- ⓘ Bringing your own LLM keys is limited to Enterprise plans.
- ⓘ Free trials of paid features are arranged by contacting ToolJet; the pricing page lists none.

App builder with AI generation

Internal apps are assembled visually, and the AI features generate pages, queries, UI edits and database tables, and fix errors.

Data connections

The platform page says it connects to 100+ databases, APIs and SaaS tools, and it has a built-in database based on PostgreSQL.

Workflows and agents

A node-based workflow canvas and an agent builder automate business processes; the pricing page marks some workflow features as self-hosted only.

Coding-agent plugin

The ToolJet MCP plugin lets Claude Code, Codex or Cursor build apps, and the pricing page says this uses no ToolJet AI credits.

Governance controls

Higher plans add SSO, custom user groups, audit logs, Git sync and multi-environment deployment.

Self-hosting

Runs on Docker, Kubernetes, a VPC or on-premise; the free Community Edition is open-source under the AGPL-3.0 license.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

67/89

Other AI app builders it is graded above

ToolJet's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade, and level with 10.

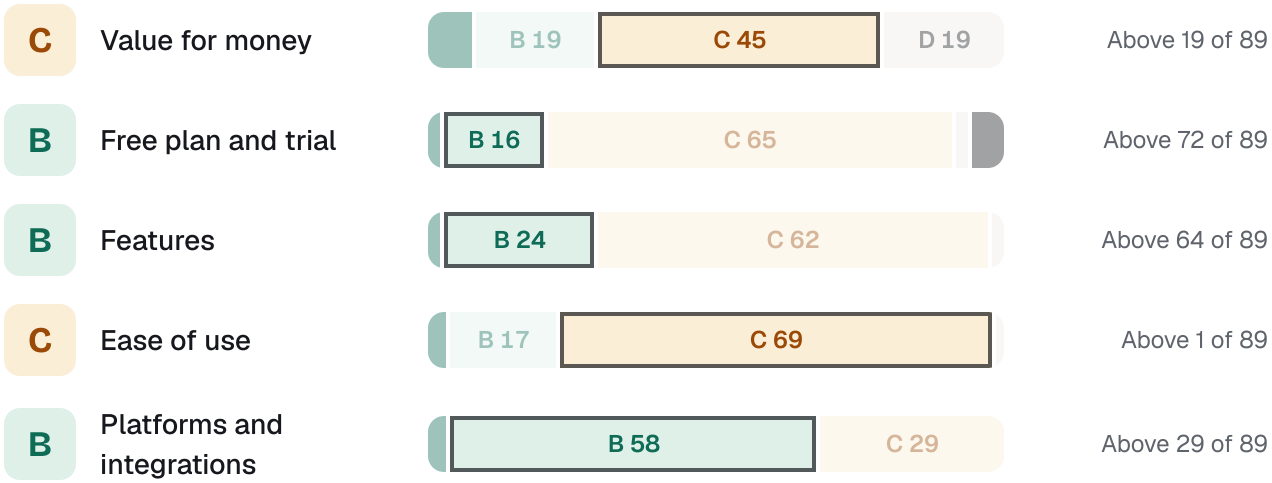

It stands best on free plan and trial (B, above 72 of 89) and worst on ease of use (C, above 1).

Its paid plans start at $23 a month, against a middle price of $20 for the category: 55 of the 82 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.7 out of 4. 8 tools score higher and cost less.

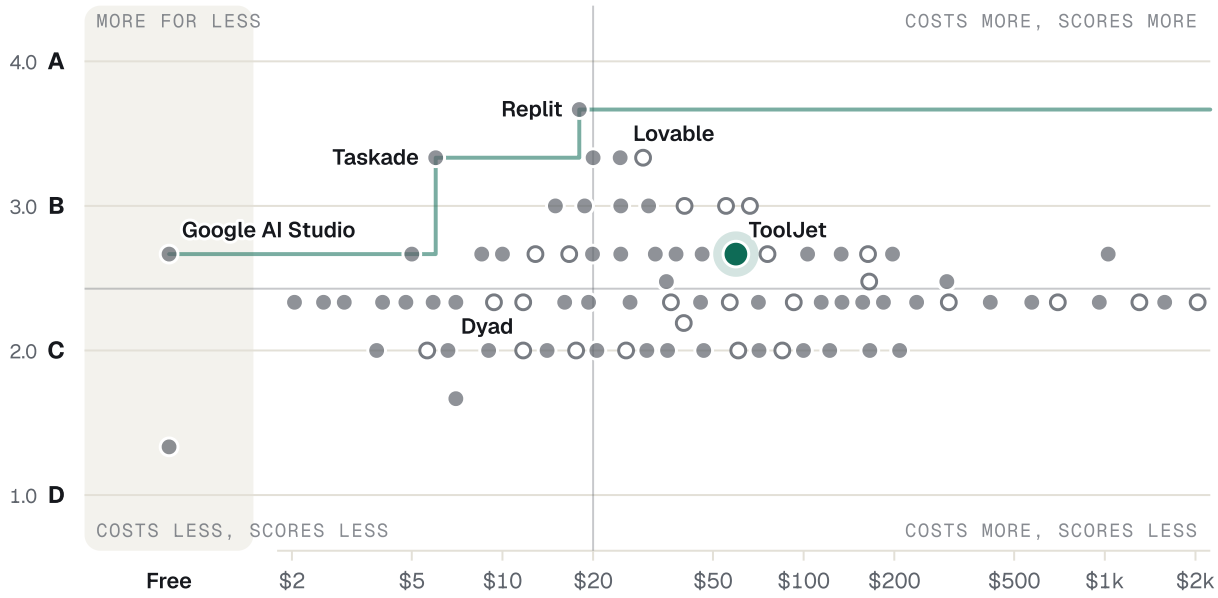

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 90 AI app builders we grade, cut by the letter each got. ToolJet's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 85 AI app builders. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. ToolJet is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace ToolJet you would be making a tool that builds and hosts other apps. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 67 of the 89 other AI app builders we grade. It costs $276 a year. ToolJet is open source, so there is a third way: take its code and run it yourself.

What you could not

- A tool that builds and hosts other apps.

- A builder that other people can use without writing code.
- Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.
- An AI agent, with the models and the safeguards behind it.
- Databases with views, filters and links between them.
- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: single sign-on and audit logs.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. ToolJet's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
