Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.4

GPA, above 41 of the 98 other time tracking apps we grade

Traqq is a time tracker for freelancers, agencies and teams. Hours are logged with a timer or by hand from a web app, desktop apps or a browser extension, then roll up into timesheets, reports, billable rates and invoices. The vendor says it does not take screenshots or track app and website use.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Traqq, taken from its own pages and our grades.

>
> Workspaces, projects and rates are set up first.
>
> From our grade for ease of use

1 Best for a free tracker for up to three people

Traqq is a time tracker without activity monitoring, free for three users on one project.

2 Paid plans start at $4 a month for each person

As its pricing page puts it: $4 per user / month, billed monthly.

3 There is a free plan

Free plan for up to 3 users and 1 project: timer and manual entries, tasks, timesheets, billable rates, reports and a time-off calendar.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, Windows and macOS, with a browser extension too.

5 Timer and manual entries

Track time from the web app, Windows and macOS desktop apps or a browser extension, with entries linked to projects, tasks, tags and billing status.

6 Smart time tracking

The desktop apps can pause the timer when you switch to apps you mark as non-work and resume it when you return.

7 Timesheets and expenses

Timesheets are created from tracked time, with work-related expenses available from Plus and approvals handled in the same place.

8 A 2.4 GPA, above 41 of 98

That is against the other time tracking apps we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

The plain part of Traqq you could make: time tracking, invoicing, reports and time off. What surrounds it you could not. The 4 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

The report card

Best for a free tracker for up to three people

Traqq is a time tracker without activity monitoring, free for three users on one project. Invoicing needs Business at $9, there is no Linux or phone app, and refunds cover 14 days.

TOOLGPA REPORT CARD

Traqq

Graded Nov 12, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	B	Plus is $4 per user a month billed monthly, inside the cheaper quarter of time tracking, which ends at $4.50; a free plan sits below it.
Free plan and trial	C	Free for up to 3 users and 1 project, which you will outgrow; paid plans have a 14-day trial with no card.
Features	C	Timer, timesheets, expenses, rates and time off, but invoicing needs Business and Plus has a 10-user ceiling.
Ease of use	C	No store rating on record. Workspaces, projects and rates are set up first.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web, Windows, Mac and a browser extension with 8 integrations on record; no Linux or phone apps.

Grade point average Fair, out of 4.0 2.4

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Traqq is for

- ✓ Fits if you are up to three people tracking one project
- ✓ Works for teams that want no screenshots or activity watching

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you have more than 1 project, as the free plan stops there
- ✗ Skip it if you need invoicing, which starts on Business at $9 a user
- ✗ Not for you if you use Linux or phones, as only Windows and Mac apps are listed
- ✗ Watch out: billing is per seat bought, and refunds cover only 14 days on a first subscription

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Freelancers and agencies billing clients by the hour
- ✓ Teams that want timesheets without employee monitoring
- ✓ Small teams that can stay within the free plan's 3 users

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The free plan stops at 3 users and 1 project; invoicing needs the Business plan or above.
- ⓘ Desktop apps exist for Windows and macOS only, and there is no Linux or mobile app listed.
- ⓘ Billing is per purchased seat, not per active user, and Enterprise is only for organizations with 300 or more users.
- ⓘ Refunds are limited to 14 days on a first-time subscription.

What it does

Its main features, where it runs, what it works with and who makes it

4

Places it runs: Web, macOS, Windows and Browser extension

Time tracking with timesheets, invoices and no activity monitoring. Here is what it does, as its own site describes it, and what it covers: time tracking, invoicing, reports, time off, dashboards.

Timer and manual entries

Track time from the web app, Windows and macOS desktop apps or a browser extension, with entries linked to projects, tasks, tags and billing status.

Smart time tracking

The desktop apps can pause the timer when you switch to apps you mark as non-work and resume it when you return.

Timesheets and expenses

Timesheets are created from tracked time, with work-related expenses available from Plus and approvals handled in the same place.

Rates, invoices and financials

Billable and cost rates feed project financials; invoicing and uninvoiced-time views start on the Business plan.

Schedules, attendance and time off

Set work schedules, track attendance and breaks, and manage leave from a time-off calendar available on every plan.

No activity monitoring

Traqq says it records no screenshots, activity scores, idle detection or app and website usage, so time is only what people log.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

41/98

Other time tracking apps it is graded above

Traqq's GPA of 2.4 is higher than 41 of the 98 other time tracking apps we grade, and level with 24.

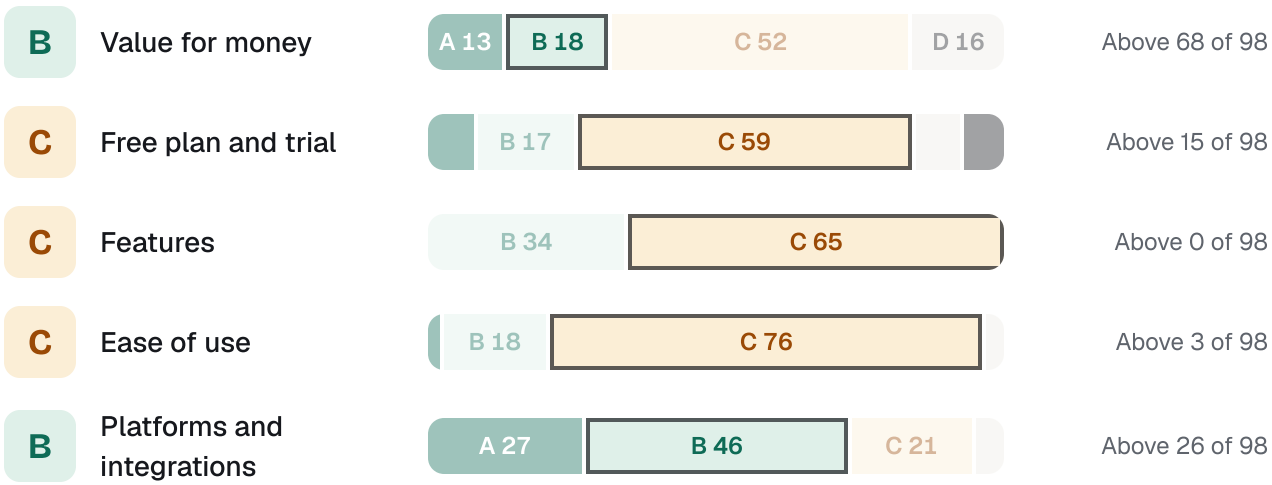

It stands best on value for money (B, above 68 of 98) and worst on features (C, above 0).

Its paid plans start at $4 a month for each person, against a middle price of $6.99 for the category: 16 of the 80 others that charge start lower.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. 8 tools score higher and cost less.

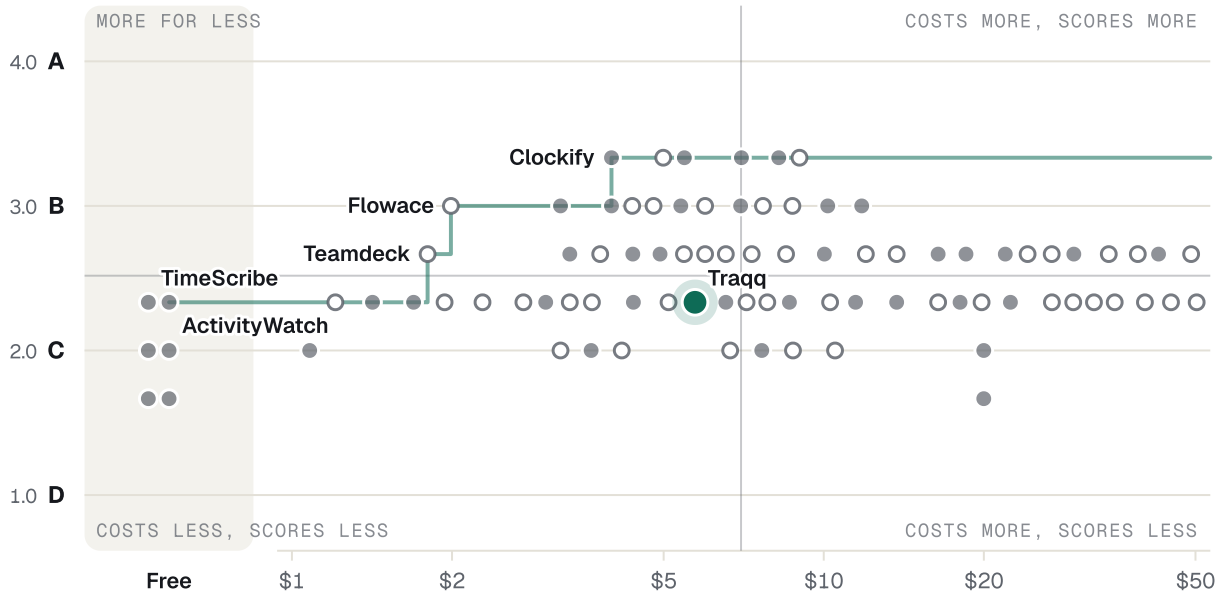

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 99 time tracking apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Traqq's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 87 time tracking apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Traqq is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double)

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Traqq you could make: time tracking, invoicing, reports and time off. What surrounds it you could not. The 4 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

It costs $48 a year.

What you could make

- Time tracking, invoicing, reports and time off: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- Connections that pull numbers from dozens of other services.

- ✕ A real app for macOS and Windows. Something home-made would be a web page.
- ✕ It is priced for each person, which means accounts and billing for a team.
- ✕ It plugs into other products, Jira, Asana and Trello among them.

What this rests on. Traqq's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
