Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

3.0

GPA, above 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade

Twobird is an email app from Ginger Labs, the maker of Notability, that puts notes, reminders and a calendar next to the inbox. It connects to Gmail and Outlook accounts and handles messages as conversations. The vendor lists it as free to use and says premium plans may come later.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Twobird, taken from its own pages and our grades.

Who Twobird is for

- ✓ Fits if you keep Gmail or Outlook and want notes and reminders in the same app
- ✓ Works for people on web and iPhone who want a free client

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if your mail isn't on Gmail or Outlook
- ✗ Skip it if you use Android, as no Android app is listed
- ✗ Not for you if you want a kept-up app, as the site shows 2022 and the iOS app was last updated in March 2022
- ✗ Watch out: the vendor says paid plans may come later

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ People using Gmail or Outlook who want notes and reminders in the same app
- ✓ Anyone who wants an email app that costs nothing today

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Only Gmail and Outlook (Google and Microsoft) accounts work; other providers are not supported.
- ⓘ The website carries a 2022 copyright and the iOS app's last update in the US App Store was March 2022, so check whether it is still maintained.
- ⓘ The vendor says premium plans are planned for the future.
- ⓘ The vendor says it is available on all major desktop and mobile platforms but the pages read list no specific ones beyond the web app and iOS.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

100/122

Other email apps it is graded above

Twobird's GPA of 3.0 is higher than 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade, and level with 15.

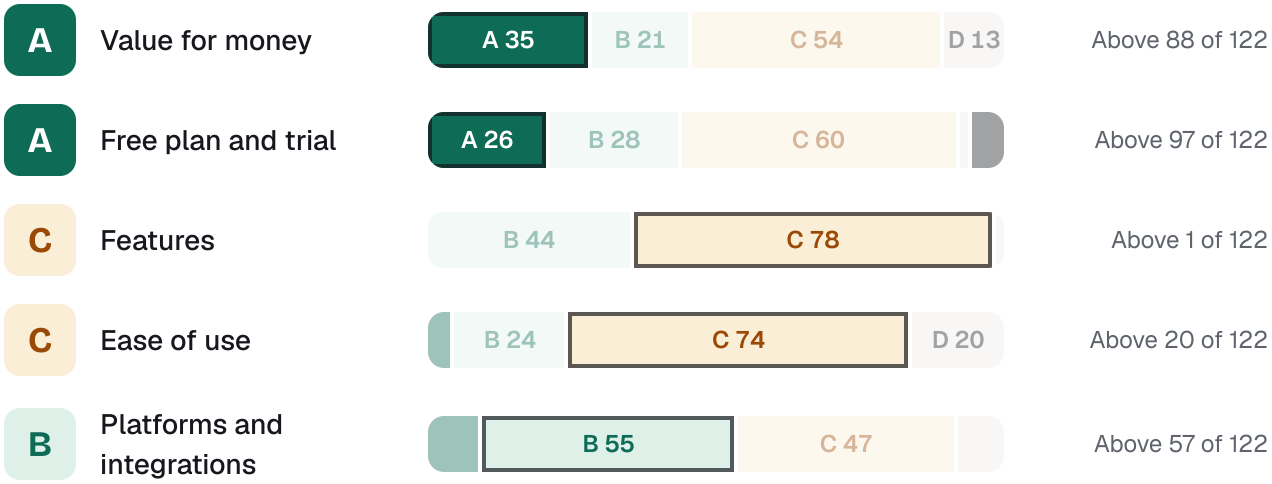

It stands best on free plan and trial (A, above 97 of 122) and worst on features (C, above 1).

Twobird has no paid plan.

On features, ease of use and platforms it scores 2.3 out of 4. Nothing scores higher for less, though at least one tool matches that score at a lower price.

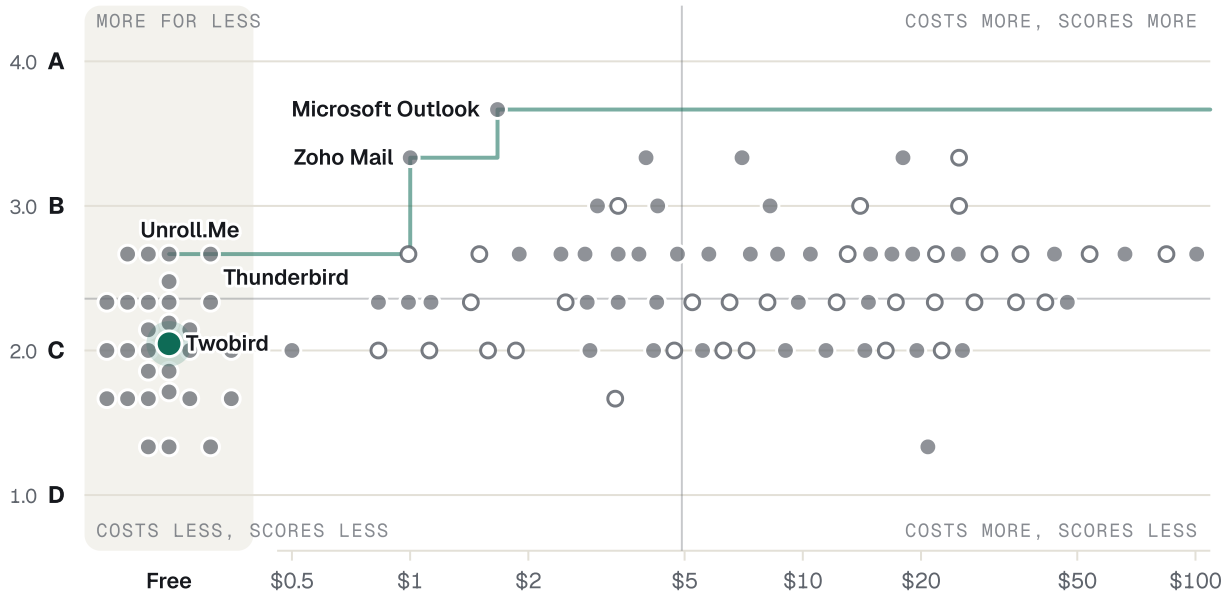

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 123 email apps we grade, cut by the letter each got. Twobird's own letter is outlined.

Price against what you get

Each dot is one of 107 email apps. Further left costs less; higher up scores better on features, ease of use and platforms. Twobird is the marked dot.

What paid plans start at, a month (each step along is roughly double) ⍰

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

Twobird is free, so making your own would save you nothing.

And it is not the kind of software a weekend replaces. It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 3.0 is higher than 100 of the 122 other email apps we grade.

What you could make

- Tasks, notes and calendar: an app builder makes these well.

What you could not

- ✕ An email client: sending, receiving, threading and searching years of mail.
- ✕ Filters that read every message as it arrives.

- A real app for iOS. Something home-made would be a web page.
- Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.

What this rests on. Twobird's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
