Who UI Bakery is for

- ✓ Fits if you build admin panels over your own databases
- ✓ Works for small teams that want to self-host

Who it is not for

- ✗ Pricey if you add developers: anyone who edits counts as one
- ✗ Watch out: app export, environments and roles start at Builder, and role-based access and audit logs need Team
- ✗ Watch out: AI use beyond the included credits isn't priced on the page
- ✗ Tight if you stay free: AI is a trial allowance only

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Teams building admin panels, dashboards and approval workflows on live databases
- ✓ Companies that want to self-host internal tools
- ✓ Teams where many staff only view apps: view seats are separate from developer seats

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Pricing is per developer, meaning anyone with permission to edit apps, automations or data sources.
- ⓘ App export, environments and built-in roles start on Builder; RBAC and audit logs need Team.
- ⓘ AI usage beyond each plan's included credits is not priced on the page.
- ⓘ Self-hosted plans have their own list: Free at $0 and Team at $35 per developer a month billed annually ($40 monthly).

Keep it, or make your own?

Keep it

To replace UI Bakery you would be making a tool that builds and hosts other apps. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 38 of the 52 other AI app builders we grade. It costs $240 a year.

What you could not

- ✕ A tool that builds and hosts other apps.
- ✕ Connections to other products, each kept working as those products change.

- ✕ AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- ✕ Sharing with other people, which means accounts and invitations.
- ✕ The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. UI Bakery's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
