Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.6

GPA, above 89 of the 133 other screen recording and video tools we grade

Videoleap is a video editor from Lightricks that runs on iPhone, iPad and Android and also online. It offers layer-based editing, keyframes, green screen, effects and a template feed for social videos, plus AI tools such as object removal and AI video effects. The app is free to download and unlocks features through in-app purchases.

To get you started, here are 9 things to know about Videoleap, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for template-based social video edits on a phone

Videoleap, from Lightricks, edits video in layers with templates and AI effects on iPhone, Android and the web.

2 What it costs

Paid plans start at $4.99, billing period not shown on the App Store listing.

3 There is a free plan

The app is free to download; the App Store lists its paid features as in-app purchases and the site advertises a trial.

4 It runs on 3 platforms

Web, iOS and Android.

5 Layer-based editing

Combine videos, images, text and effects in reorderable layers, with masking, blending modes, keyframes and motion tracking.

6 Templates and community feed

Start from premade templates for Reels, TikToks or YouTube Shorts, and remake edits from other creators with your own media.

7 AI video tools

The listing names AI video effects, AI templates and AI object removal; the site also lists an AI image generator and AI background tools.

8 A 2.6 GPA, above 89 of 133

That is against the other screen recording and video tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

9 Keep it

To replace Videoleap you would be making a video editor. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

Graded Nov 13, 2026

SUBJECT	GRADE	COMMENT
Value for money	C	In-app prices run from $4.99 to $69.99 with no billing period shown, so what a month costs isn't clear.
Free plan and trial	C	Free to download, and the site advertises a 7-day trial, which suggests the main tools sit behind a subscription.
Features	B	Layers, masks, blending, keyframes, motion tracking, templates, green screen and AI object removal and effects. Nothing in the listing is missing from the core editing job.
Ease of use	B	4.6 on the App Store from about 146,000 ratings.
Platforms and integrations	B	Web editor plus iPhone, iPad and Android apps. No desktop app and no integrations listed.

Grade point average — Good, out of 4.0 2.6

An A is worth 4 points, a B 3, a C 2, a D 1 and an F nothing. The GPA is the average of the five.

Who Videoleap is for

- ✓ Fits if you make Reels or Shorts from templates on a phone
- ✓ Works for people who want a browser editor as well as an app

Who it is not for

- ✗ Tight if you want to stay free, because the main tools sit behind in-app purchases
- ✗ Skip it if you need a desktop app, as none was found
- ✗ Watch out: no billing period is shown for the $4.99 to $69.99 prices
- ✗ Watch out: prices are the US App Store's, and the Android price wasn't read

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Social video creators editing from a phone
- ✓ People who want templates to remake trending edits
- ✓ Quick edits that need AI object removal or background tools

Worth knowing

- ⓘ The App Store listing shows in-app prices from $4.99 to $69.99 with no billing periods, so what each costs per month or year is not confirmed here.
- ⓘ The site's call to action is a 7-day free trial, which suggests the main tools sit behind a paid subscription.
- ⓘ No desktop app was found; the site lists the web editor plus iPhone and Android apps.
- ⓘ Prices read were the US App Store ones; the Android price was not read.

PART 04 · STANDING

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

89/133

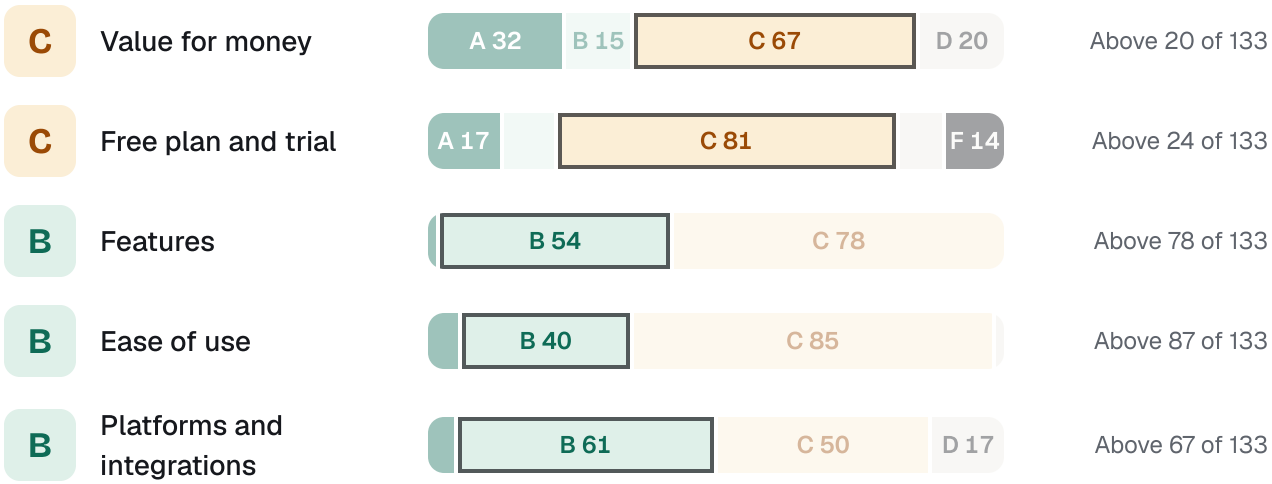

Other screen recording and video tools it is graded above

Videoleap's GPA of 2.6 is higher than 89 of the 133 other screen recording and video tools we grade, and level with 14.

It stands best on ease of use (B, above 87 of 133) and worst on value for money (C, above 20).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 134 screen recording and video tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Videoleap's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Videoleap you would be making a video editor. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

It is one of the better ones too: its GPA of 2.6 is higher than 89 of the 133 other screen recording and video tools we grade.

What you could make

- Templates: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- A video editor.
- A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- The depth: we grade its features B, which means it covers the whole job.

What this rests on. Videoleap's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.

Where this guide comes from

The prices, plans, platforms and features were read from Videoleap's own pages on Nov 13, 2026, and the grades were given on Nov 13, 2026. Graded from this listing, whose facts were read from Lightricks' own pages on 13 November 2026, and its App Store rating. The Videoleap site wouldn't load when we re-read it, so prices were checked on the App Store listing. Not based on using the product, and shorter than our full reviews.

Every tool we list gets five grades, A to F, each with its reason, and a GPA that averages them. How each is decided is at toolgpa.com/grades. This guide is ToolGPA's own work; it is not made, paid for or approved by Lightricks. Prices change, so check videoleapapp.com before you buy.
