Welcome

What it is, who it suits, its grades and the ten things to know first

2.0

GPA, above 14 of the 149 other project management tools we grade

Visure is a requirements and application lifecycle management platform for engineering teams in regulated industries such as aerospace, automotive and medical devices. It links requirements, tests, risks and design artifacts for traceability, produces compliance reports, and runs in Visure's cloud or on your own servers. Prices are quoted on request.

To get you started, here are 8 things to know about Visure, taken from its own pages and our grades.

1 Best for regulated engineering requirements traceability

Pricing is by quote only, and the integrations are paid add-ons.

2 You can try it first

14-day free trial with all features included

3 It runs on Web

Web.

4 End-to-end traceability

Requirements, tests, risks, defects, architecture and baselines are linked in one system, so a trace for an auditor can be pulled up in one step.

5 Compliance reporting

Reports and traceability matrices are aimed at standards such as DO-178C, ISO 26262 and IEC 62304, and are generated from project data.

6 Risk and test management

Risk, test and requirements management share one platform instead of separate licensed tools, with FMEA among the standards the site names.

7 A 2.0 GPA, above 14 of 149

That is against the other project management tools we grade, on value, the free plan, features, ease of use and platforms.

8 Keep it

The plain part of Visure you could make: reports. What surrounds it you could not. The 3 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

Who Visure is for

- ✓ Fits if you must show traceability for audits
- ✓ Works for teams that need an air-gapped install

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you want a published price, as it is quote only
- ✗ Pricey if you need Jira or DOORS links, which are paid add-ons priced on request
- ✗ Watch out: named-user and floating licenses cost differently
- ✗ Too narrow for task planning, as the focus is requirements

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Aerospace, automotive and medical device teams working to safety standards
- ✓ Organizations replacing IBM DOORS or Word and Excel requirement documents
- ✓ Companies that need an on-premise or air-gapped requirements tool

Worth knowing

- ⓘ Pricing is by quote only: no plan or price is published.
- ⓘ Licenses can be perpetual or an annual cloud subscription, with support at 20% of the perpetual license cost per year.
- ⓘ Integrations with Jira, IBM DOORS and other tools are paid add-ons priced on request.
- ⓘ Seats are sold as named-user or floating licenses, which changes what a team pays.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

14/149

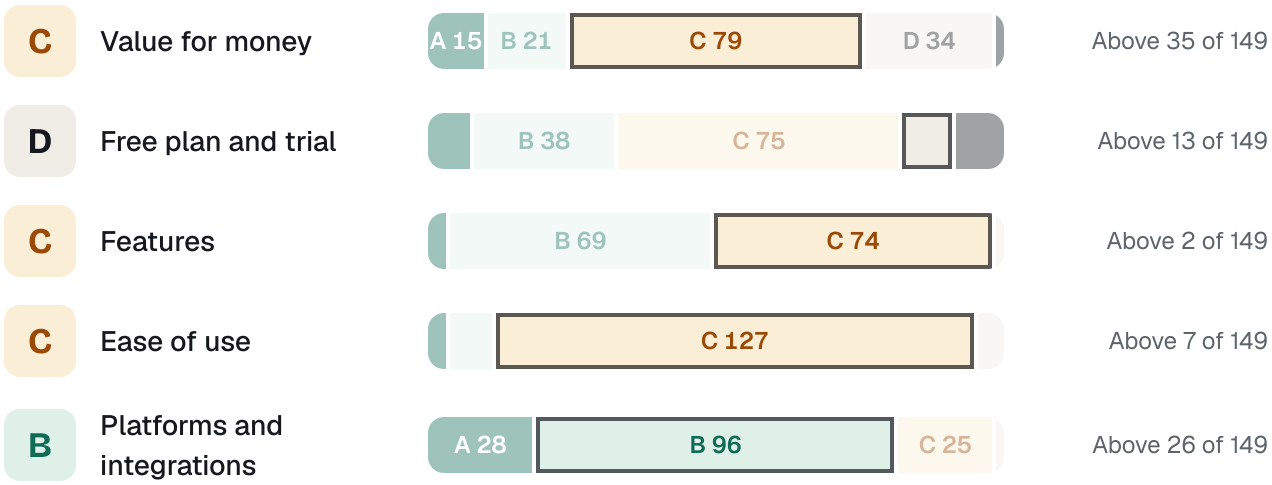

Other project management tools it is graded above

Visure's GPA of 2.0 is higher than 14 of the 149 other project management tools we grade, and level with 23.

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 26 of 149) and worst on free plan and trial (D, above 13).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 150 project management tools we grade, cut by the letter each got. Visure's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

The plain part of Visure you could make: reports. What surrounds it you could not. The 3 things listed below take a company, not a weekend.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 112 of the 149 other project management tools grade higher.

What you could make

- Reports: an app builder makes this well.

What you could not

- It plugs into other products, Jira, IBM DOORS and GitLab among them.
- AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.
- What a company asks for before it lets staff use something: SOC 2.

What this rests on. Visure's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
