Who Vodia is for

- ✓ Fits if you resell phone service and want one PBX across customers
- ✓ Works for IT firms that deploy the system themselves

Who it is not for

- ✗ Skip it if you want a posted price, as licenses are quoted
- ✗ Too light for IVR on standard licensing, which allows one auto attendant and none
- ✗ Not for you if you're a single small office, since it's aimed at partners
- ✗ Watch out: the cheaper tier lacks IVR nodes until you move to Pro

Good to know

Good for

- ✓ Service providers hosting a phone system for many customers
- ✓ IT teams that want a self-run PBX with a vendor license

Worth knowing

- ⓘ No prices are published; both licensing models are quoted through Vodia or partners.
- ⓘ Standard licensing allows one auto attendant and no IVR nodes; those come with Pro.
- ⓘ It is aimed at partners and providers more than a single small office.

Where it stands

Its grades against its category, and whether to keep it or make your own

12/77

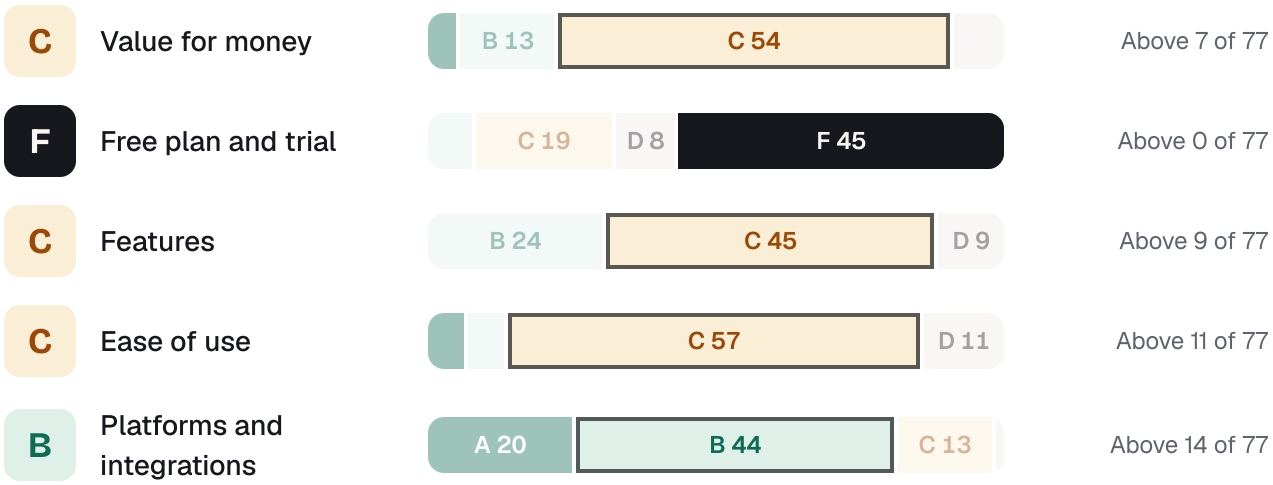

Other business phone systems it is graded above

Vodia's GPA of 1.8 is higher than 12 of the 77 other business phone systems we grade, and level with 15.

It stands best on platforms and integrations (B, above 14 of 77) and worst on free plan and trial (F, above 0).

Each grade against the category

Every bar is all 78 business phone systems we grade, cut by the letter each got. Vodia's own letter is outlined.

Keep it, or make your own?

Whether this is something you could build for yourself with an AI app builder, and what you would give up.

Keep it

To replace Vodia you would be making phone numbers and calls carried over the phone network. That is not a weekend's work, with an AI app builder or without one.

That makes this kind of software worth paying for, not this one in particular: 50 of the 77 other business phone systems grade higher.

What you could not

- ✕ Phone numbers and calls carried over the phone network.
- ✕ A real app for iOS and Android. Something home-made would be a web page.
- ✕ AI features, unless you pay a model provider for each request yourself.

What this rests on. Vodia's listing: what it does, where it runs, what it plugs into and what it costs. It is a judgement about the kind of software this is. We have not built a replacement for it, and making your own means looking after it too. How we decide, and every tool's verdict.
